Bomb Rips TWA Jet At Las Vegas Airport

No One Aboard At Time

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — An explosion ripped through a "thoroughly searched" Trans World Airlines jetliner parked at a Las Vegas airport early today less than 24 hours after a live bomb had been discovered in a TWA jet at Kennedy Airport in New York.

There were no injuries in the blast that almost totally destroyed the cockpit of the plane at McCarran Airport. Charles Wyre, TWA general manager, said the plane had been searched before it left Kennedy Airport last night and was again searched after passengers debarked here shortly after midnight.

"The plane was thoroughly searched," Wyre said.

The line carried out searches on all its 250 aircraft following a claim by an extortionist demanding $2 million, that four explosive devices had been placed on TWA aircraft.

A live bomb had been sniffed out by a trained dog in the cockpit of a TWA jet at Kennedy Airport yesterday and was defused at 12:48 p.m. EST, only 12 minutes before it was set to go off.

The explosion came at 3:45 a.m. PST, 15 minutes before the last deadline in the extortionist's threat to blow up a TWA plane every six hours for 24 hours.

The plane was positioned in a parking ramp area only yards from the terminal awaiting refueling for a flight to London, via Kansas City, Chicago and New York. Crews were only 10 minutes away from refueling.

Federal officials said the bomb apparently had been placed in a rest-room in the front of the craft.

There were no injuries in today's blast but the $7 million aircraft was extensively damaged. Wyre said the aircraft was "a great big mess" and that the cost for repairs would be "in the millions."

The jetliner stood on a parking ramp only yards from the terminal. The blast almost totally destroyed the cockpit,

BOMBED OUT — A bomb ripped through the nose section of this TWA 707 jetliner shortly before 4 a.m. today, only 10 minutes before a ground crew was to refuel the plane at Las Vegas for a flight to London. The jetliner had been "thoroughly searched" at New York and upon landing at Las Vegas. The bomb had apparently been planted in a restroom in the front section. The explosion has been linked with an extortion plot against TWA.

School Tax Rate Extended

Sausalito School District voters, by more than a 2-1 margin, yesterday approved a two-year extension of the district's $2.20 general purpose tax rate.

The vote was 835 in favor, 341 opposed, with about 25 per cent of the district's 4,684 registered voters going to the polls. The tax rate extension won handily in all six of the district's precincts.

Had the measure failed, the district's general tax rate would have dropped to 90 cents on July 1, cutting the district's anticipated revenue for 1971-72 from $1.1 million to approximately $672,000.

Supt. Lawrence A. Lindberg called the vote "an expression of confidence in the school district and in what the school board, teachers and staff are doing."

He added, "I think it shows the voters are willing to give the district two years to become accountable for providing a good educational program that will meet the needs of the children."

The precinct-by-precinct vote in Sausalito was: Jess E. Dabner residence, 120 yes, 53 no; school district office, 61 yes, 23 no; Christ Episcopal Church, 173 yes, 82 no; Star of the Sea Catholic Church, 119 yes, 31 no; Central School, 155 yes, 104 no. Of those casting absentee ballots, 15 voted yes and five voted no.

In Marin City's only precinct, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the vote was 182 yes and 43 no.

Robbery Staged At Redwood Bank

BULLETIN

Redwood National Bank in San Rafael was robbed about noon today of an undetermined amount of money by an armed man who passed a note to a teller.

Within minutes of the robbery, a car matching the description of the getaway car was sighted on Highway 101 and after a chase by California Highway Patrol officers across the Golden Gate Bridge, a suspect was taken into custody in San Francisco.

His identity was unknown.

Few details were available immediately after the robbery, as the teller was still being interviewed by San Rafael Police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents. The bank was closed temporarily for interrogation.

Richard Puntillos, a senior vice president of the bank, said bank officials did not know how much money was taken.

Puntillos said the bank was fully insured for any loss.

Descriptions of the man given to police immediately following the crime varied. He was described as a black male, either in his late 20s or about 40 years old, medium build, mustache and dark, short hair.

He escaped in a late model Oldsmobile station wagon. One early report said the robber was struck by a car as he fled from the bank, but was able to escape nevertheless.

By 12:15 p.m., an Oldsmobile station wagon matching the description was observed by the highway patrol on Highway 101 near Waldo Grade. Following a chase across the bridge, the car took the 19th Avenue turnoff of the bridge approach in San Francisco, and was finally stopped about 12:30 p.m. at 14th Avenue and Lake Street.

Driver Is Asked To Call Police

San Rafael police are asking that a woman whose light green Plymouth hit a suspected bank robber outside the Redwood National Bank today contact the police so they may try to obtain the man's fingerprints.

Police said the man, who held up the bank on Fourth Street shortly after noon, was hit by a car southbound on E Street when he fled and may have left prints on the hood. After the collision, he left in his own car.

Witnesses told police the robber, a Negro, wore a yellow parka, blue jeans and a ski hat.

Woman Seeks Clausen's Seat

Patricia Losh, a Eureka housewife, has announced her candidacy in the Democratic primary in the First Congressional District.

Mrs. Losh, a divorcee and mother of three, said opposition to the Vietnam war will be a major part of her campaign platform. She is the first announced Democratic candidate for the congressional seat now held by Don H. Clausen, Crescent City.

Mrs. Losh is chairman of the Humboldt County Women's League for Peace and Freedom and led an attempt to place an antiwar initiative on a county-wide ballot.

Victory Is Narrow For Fairfax City Hall Work

By JEFF GREER

Fairfax City councilmen committed themselves by a 3-2 vote last night to refurbish the 46-year old city hall and eventually to build a new fire station next door. (Another Fairfax City Council story and picture of city hall plan, page 6.)

The vote followed bitter exchanges between councilmen and audience members. It also reversed the council's 4-1 votes two weeks ago by which the council decided to move out of the crumbling civic center "as soon as possible" unless the planning commission recommended the remodeling.

The reversal enabled the council to meet the Friday

Edge To Muskie In N.H. Primary

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI) —Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a tarnished frontrunner, and Sen. George S. McGovern, a rejuvenated challenger, were locked in a close race today for New Hampshire's 20 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Muskie, a well-known neighbor from Maine, claimed his "third victory in a row" by winning the New Hampshire presidential primary —but he fell slightly short of a majority in what was anticipated as a big win destined to propel him to the Democratic presidential nomination.

McGovern, the South Dakota senator who began his active campaign more than a year ago and spent much more time in New Hampshire than Muskie, exceeded by a wide margin his expectations of 25 per cent of the vote. It was the kind of effort he wanted to spur his campaign in succeeding primaries.

Muskie's role as the frontrunning candidate was placed in even graver doubt in the balloting for New Hampshire's 20 delegates to the Democratic convention. With fewer than half the precincts reporting, Muskie and McGovern each had 10 delegates. The final results may not be known for days.

As expected, President Nixon scored a decisive victory in the Republican primary—crushing

Dougan Tries Again For Supervisor Seat

James Dougan, a San Rafael planning commissioner who was an unsuccessful candidate for supervisor eight years ago, filed today to try again.

Dougan is the sixth candidate for the fourth supervisorial seat being vacated by Louis H. Baar. He was Baar's campaign manager four years ago.

The 49-year-old insurance agent said he entered the race to give voters a choice.

"As it stands at the moment I feel the philosophies are too much the same for all the candidates," he said, charging that none is really sincere about cutting taxes.

Dougan, who announced more than a month ago, he was considering running, said he delayed until he learned who the Marin County Property Owners Association would back.

He said he decided to run when he learned members of the association are backing Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael, an unsuccessful candidate for state senator in 1970.

As a former secretary of the association, Dougan had previously said he expected its support, but made a point today of saying he has no backing and, therefore, is independent.

He said his primary concern is cutting taxes. "I think there is entirely too much waste going on and I sincerely think something can be done about it," he said.

Marin to provide more jobs, he said.

Dougan, who is an agent for State Farm Insurance, ran for supervisor in 1964 but lost narrowly to Thomas T. Storer.

JAMES DOUGAN
"Philosophies same"

He twice sought appointment to the San Rafael City Council, but was ruled ineligible in 1969 because of a residency requirement. The second time he accepted a planning commission seat instead.

A former West Marin resident, Dougan was on the Bolinas Fire Protection District board, the Bolinas Public Utilities District board and was a member of the Bolinas School District board before its merger.

He was born on a ranch on the Point Reyes Peninsula, but now lives at 40 Knoll Road, San Rafael.

State Hid Bike Trail Funds—Mills

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — The state Division of Highways was accused yesterday of hiding the fact that federal highway funds can be used to build trails for hiking, bicycling and equestrian use.

Up to 90 per cent of the cost of such trails can be paid from readily available federal funds, according to Senate President pro tem James R. Mills, D-San Diego.

Existence of the previously unreported funds was disclosed by Mills in an angry charge that state officials had "misled" him last year on the availability of highway funds to build bicycle paths.

Mills, an ardent bicyclist, said that the state Department of Public Works "clearly implied there was no state or federal highway money available for bicycle paths and that it could only proceed if other funds were produced." The department has made similar arguments against bicycle paths adjacent to Marin highways.

Mills, in a press statement, said he now had learned that "not only is there considerable federal and state highway money available for bicycle paths, but the federal government has officially urged the department to use this money to build them."

The senator contrasted the availability of the funds with the fact that the department

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Irving Testimony

NEW YORK (UPI) — Author Clifford Irving and his wife completed testimony Tuesday before two grand juries which are expected to issue indictments later this week in connection with Irving's discredited "autobiography" of billionaire recluse Howard Hughes.

But even as the federal and New York county authorities wound up their investigations here a new suit was filed on the Spanish island of Ibiza charging the Irvings with forgery and swindle in the case.

The Ibiza suit was brought by Spanish lawyer Ricardo Rives Marques who said he wanted "to discourage foreign persons or organizations setting up their illicit operations on Spanish territory."

The expatriate Irvings live on Ibiza and under the Spanish Penal Code crimes initiated or plotted in Spain come under the jurisdiction of Spanish courts even if they are committed abroad.

Abortion Favored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government-sponsored public opinion poll today showed that six out of 10 American adults favor abortions for reasons other than saving a mother's life, while half would remove all legal restrictions on the operations.

The survey, which will be included in a report delivered Sunday to President Nixon and Congress by the U.S. Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, also showed 87 per cent of Americans believe the government should make birth control information universally available.

The report said persons favoring liberalized abortion tended to be younger, better educated and earning higher incomes.

Shots Exchanged

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — British troops exchanged gunfire with snipers in Belfast and Londonderry during the night, army spokesmen said today.

The spokesmen said one soldier suffered a hand wound but troops reported they believed they shot two snipers in an exchange of fire in Londonderry.

Trip Needed: Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon told the Veterans of Foreign Wars Tuesday night his journey to China was necessary to improve chances for peace in the Pacific and the world.

Nixon said the prospects for peace between China and the United States were "infinitely better" because of his trip.

"If they do not communicate, the chances of our having peace in the world and peace in the Pacific are very dim," Nixon told the veterans organization's mid-winter conference. "That is why the trip was necessary."

The administration's emphasis on negotiation does not mean the United States will withdraw from the rest of the world, Nixon said. He said the United States should use its strength at the conference table "so the world may be one in which people of different philosophies can live together and not die together."

Pioneer 10 Success

PASADENA (UPI) — Pioneer 10, the U.S. spacecraft winging on history's most distant space probe, is a winner so far but scientists will have a long wait before they can make a final appraisal of its mission.

The comparatively small 570-pound vehicle which carries 11 scientific instruments to its rendezvous with the mysterious planet Jupiter "has been fantastically successful so far," according to Jet Propulsion Laboratory spokesmen.

Pioneer executed a course correction on command from scientists Tuesday and by present calculations, 9:36 p.m. EST on Dec. 3, 1973 will be when it makes its closest approach to Jupiter, about 87,000 miles.

Rocket Agreement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon hopes to announce a first agreement with the Soviet Union on limiting strategic rockets when he visits Moscow at the end of May, administration officials said Tuesday.

The officials said the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks with the Russians could produce an agreement limiting antiballistic missile systems and setting an interim limitation on long range, offensive rockets if they continue satisfactorily.

The talks, now in recess, are expected to resume in Helsinki March 28 and conclude in April or early May with a first agreement to be signed in Moscow.

Bomber Raids

SAIGON (UPI) — American B52 bombers ended a three-day layoff today, making seven raidu against suspected Communist base camps south of the Demilitarized Zone.

The eight-engine bombers which operate out of Thailand and Guam flew four attacks near the abandoned U.S. base at Khe Sanh and made three raids in the vicinity of the A Shau Valley.

The raids marked a renewal of the American air offensive, which has been steadily increasing despite the pullout of American ground troops.

Firemen Called For An Unusual Chore

APTOS, Calif. (UPI)—The Aptos Fire Department had some mopping up to do Tuesday.

Firemen were called to the scene of a burglary where the thief not only ransacked a local home but slashed a waterbed, spilling 300 gallons of water.

Florida Collegians Cast Primary Votes

SENATOR McGOVERN
Leads Democratic vote

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) —Sen. George McGovern finished first, with Rep. Shirley Chisholm a close and surprising second, in Tuesday's statewide college student primary.

The election on 38 college campuses was a vote by students who are registered democrats and republicans. With 36 of the 38 campuses reporting, President Nixon won a landslide win over Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., for the GOP nomination.

The standing were:

Democrats: McGovern 1,784; Mrs.Chisholm 1,373;Sen. 1,373; Sen.mund S. Muskie, D-Maine 1,096; New York Mayor John V. Lindsay 1,085; Alabama Gov. George Wallace 986; Sen. Henry M.Jackson, D-Wash., 749; Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., 643; former Minnesota senator Eugene McCarthy 160; Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind. and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.,24 each; and Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, 16.

On the republican side: Nixon 1,989; and McCloskey 246.

Bill Castellano of Florida Technological University where the election is being coordinated said the "straw vote" on busing was passed 6,119 to 4,334 against.

"This means, I suppose, that the governor's stand on busing as a useful tool for desegregation has been voted down by supposedly liberal college students," said Castellano.

Castellano said Mrs. Chisholm's showing was the biggest surprise. she not only won at black schools such as Florida A&M, but also ran well at predominately white Florida State University, where she finished second behind McGovern.

Mrs. Chisholm carried predominantly white Florida Atlantic and Florida Presbyterian Colleges as well.

"Perhaps she campaigned more statewide than we realized, and I think this is a pretty much of a surprise to me. I think she did better than anyone thought. The fact that the students know enough about her to put her in second place might be the subject for further analysis."

Feminist Has Court Date On Indecent Word

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI) —Feminist Germaine Greer received a police summons today to appear in court to answer complaints that she used an indecent word while addressing a mass meeting at the town hall earlier this week.

Miss Greer was ordered to appear in court to answer the summons which police said had to be issued under the law after members of the public made a formal complaint.

Undeterred by the summons, Miss Greer used the same word," bullxxxx,' at a public meeting again today and then called on members of the audience to repeat it after her. They did, with a mass shout.

Car Pool Lanes To Continue

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The California Toll Bridge Authority today agreed to continue the experimental use of nonstop car pool lanes on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Under the plan adopted yesterday car pool vehicles will have to purchase a special windshield sticker at a cost of $1 per month to use the lanes. Currently, any vehicle carrying three persons may use a commuter lane without charge.

The experiment will be reviewed by the authority in June and September to determine if the special commuter lanes should be used permanently.

Snafu Stalls FDA Meat Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Blaming a snafu in which livers needed for court evidence were lost, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) quietly has abandoned efforts to prosecute 18 farmers for shipping cattle or sheep containing residues of a cancer-causing feed additive, it was learned today.

In addition, a second FDA program to keep the additive out of meat carcasses so far has resulted in a higher, rather than lower, rate of residues.

Despite the apparent failure of both programs so far, FDA officials said today they were still not ready to ban the additive, as have 21 other nations.

The additive, an artificial hormone called diethylstilbesterol (DES), is mixed into the feed of about 80 per cent of U.S. cattle and a lesser percentage of sheep.

Its purpose is growth promotion. FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards told a House subcommittee Nov. 11 that DES brings a 500-pound steer to marketable weight of 1,050 pounds 31 days sooner, and with 511 pounds less feed, than without the additive.

But DES also has been linked to cancer in man and animals, and federal law forbids any cancer-causing food component. Last year, laboratory tests disclosed DES residues in the livers of about one-half of 1 per cent of animals tested.

Edwards, in an attempt to eliminate DES residues without banning the economically valuable additive, ordered prosecution of farmers shipping DES-tainted animals to market, ruled that cattle and sheep must be fed no DES during their last seven days of life, and required producers to certify their compliance with this withdrawal period in writing.

At the November hearing, Edwards promised to ban DES if the other steps failed. He said one-half of 1 per cent was too high a residue rate.

Since the regulations went into effect Jan. 8, the Agriculture Department has tested 419 cattle and sheep carcasses. DES was found in the livers of four, a rate of nearly 1 per cent. If applied to the 50 million cattle and sheep slaughtered annually, the 1 per cent rate would mean DES residues in 500,000.

Asked the progress of the 18 prosecutions, an FDA spokesman said all 18 cases were dropped because the Agriculture Department — which handles meat inspection and testing —failed to keep the tainted livers for evidence in court.

"The agriculture people weren't aware of what was involved," said Deputy FDA Commissioner James D. Grant. However, Grant and other FDA spokesmen said it was too early to judge the programs a failure and ban DES.

Bookstore Audit $185,000 Short

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Joint Legislative Audit Committee has reported the San Francisco State College bookstore had a $185,974 inventory shortage last June 30 due to thefts and bookkeeping errors.

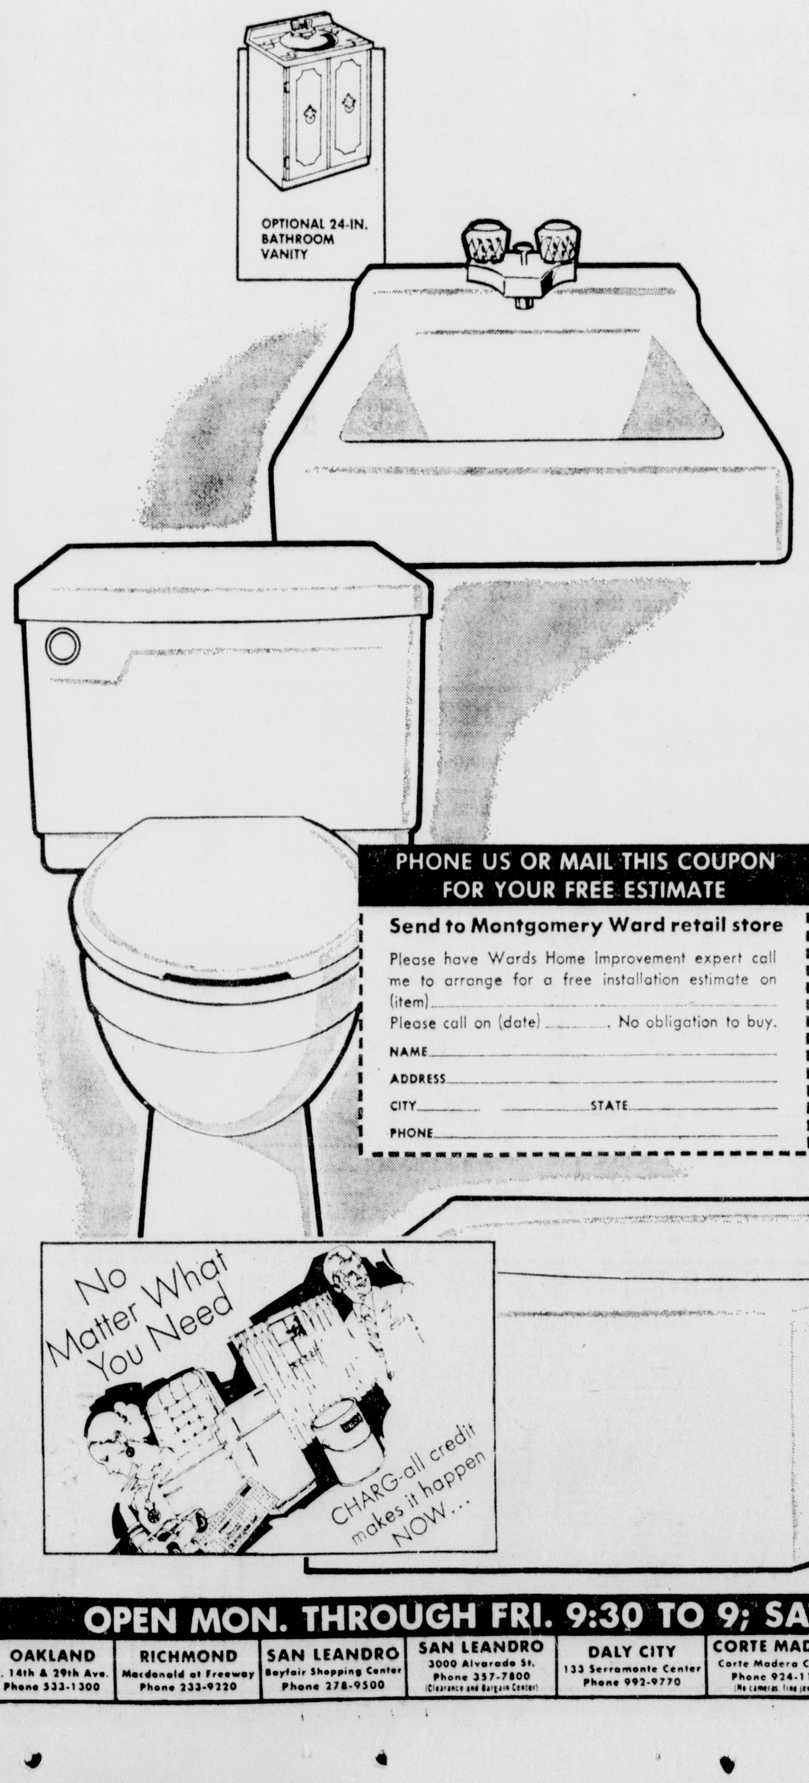

Auditor General William Merrifield said $124,000 of the shortage was due to "unrecorded transactions such as unrecorded sales, pilferage and similar acts. He attributed the remaining $62,000 shortage to "recording and counting errors."

The committee issued the report Tuesday containing Merrifield's review of an independent audit of the San Francisco State College Foundation, which operates the bookstore.

Judge Outraged By ITT Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Federal Judge Richard W. McLaren, the government's former antitrust chief, angrily charged today that the Senate investigation of his handling of an ITT antitrust case was "an absolute outrage."

McLaren lost his temper while testifying at the fourth day of the Senate Judiciary Committee's inquiry into the 1971 out-of court settlement of three antitrust actions against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. when he was with the Justice Department.

His voice shaking, he told two Democratic interrogators, Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and John Tunney, "You're trying to discredit me. It is perfectly ridiculous. It is an absolute outrage the way that this committee is proceeding."

McLaren charged that Kennedy and Tunney were repeating over and over the same questions he already had answered earlier about his dealings with Richard G. Kleindienst.

deadline for accepting the pared-down, low bid of $44,131 for which San Francisco contractor Ronald S. Collosi had offered to remodel the existing city offices and police station.

Voting for the renovation were Councilmen Robert J. Souza, Lee Nelder and Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet. Councilmen Francis J. O'Connell and Frank J. Egger opposed the decision. They favored further study of new civic center sites.

City Administrator Robert E. Crowe urged approval of the remodeling as "phase one" of a long-range project he estimated might cost $225,000 to $275,000. O'Connell predicted the cost would be $350,000.

"Phase one" would renovate the present city offices, and expand the police department into part of the second story of the fire station, Crowe said. Later, a new fire station would be built on Park Lane adjoining the present structure, and the old fire station demolished. The city offices also would be expanded to bridge the neighboring creek.

Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton endorsed the plan as giving the city a centrally located fire station "good for another 40 or 45 years."

E. Ross Parkerson, planning commission chairman, reported the commission reached no consensus last week on the remodeling and expansion plans drafted by Donald K. Olsen, Sausalito architect.

Parkerson —who is city council candidate in the April 11 election — and fellow commissioner John J. Hourihan complained the commission lacked time to review the plan. The council had to take action last night either to award the contract or throw out the renovation bids opened Feb. 9.

"The planning commission has been sitting here 10 years and hasn't come up with anything except a million-dollar complex," Councilman Nelder charged. He apparently was referring to the city's $550,000 civic center replacement bond issue which voters vetoed two years ago.

"We haven't been fair to our employees" making them work in the decrepit city offices, Nelder continued. "Perhaps we need to find a new planning commission. Perhaps you should replace yourselves if you don't know your job," he shot at Parkerson —who is a professional planner for the county.

Nelder —who is midway through his freshman term on the council —earlier stressed that Marin County has "about 7 per cent unemployment, yet they talk about a $1 million bond issue" and relocating city hall. "I'd be chairman of any committee to defeat any bond issue," he declared. "We have the property. We have a solid sketch" he said, gesturing at Olsen's plans.

The city hall issue "has been gone over so many times," Souza complained. "I'm going to promise that the city taxpayers will not finance more land."

Mayor Van Vliet warned, "each year we wait you might add 10 per cent to the cost" of any final solution. "We've talked about new city facilities for 10 years . . . we're running out of time."

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell tried to delay any decision until appraisals could be completed on land adjoining the Cala market. He urged the property as a potential civic center site, and objected that the council was making its decision on "only an outside sketch" of the remodeling plans. A council commitment to "phase one" would mean commitment to the whole package of nearly $350,000, O'Connell argued. No one disagreed.

Councilman Frank J. Egger said he wanted to await completion of San Anselmo's current study of possible consolidation of all Ross Valley Fire services and other facilities. He also objected to Crowe's and Olsen's proposal to extend the city offices across the creek, put temporary parking in the park area, and eventually buy adjoining private homes to add to the civic center land.

"It's not every city . . . that has a redwood grove and a live stream in the town park," Egger argued in calling for "a better site" for the civic center.

opposition from the left and right—although he did not campaign in New Hampshire. The victory was hailed by GOP leaders, including Vice-President Spiro T. Agnew, as a strong endorsement of Nixon's policies and his administration. The President also captured all 14 delegates to August's GOP national convention.

Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, a California liberal who campaigned on an antiwar platform, said he would pull out of the race if his final total dipped below 20 per cent. If not, McCloskey said he would go on to Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Oregon. Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio, carrying the banner for GOP conservatives, finished third.

still has not included a single bicycle path project in any of its highway plans.

Mills said he was "appalled at the department's attitude. It has a great deal of money for bicycle paths. . . yet it refuses to take any action."

He also declared that the facts withheld from him by the department "would still be buried in the highway department bureaucracy, no doubt for a long, long time" if Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post had not investigated the issue for him.

Mills said he was amending his bicycle path funding bill (SB36) to require the department to report annually when it does not use all available federal funds for bicycle paths and to raport any federal funds lost by the state because of the department's failure to build bicycle paths.

The senator also released a copy of a notice by the Federal Highway Administration stating that trails were espceially beneficial when serving "as a connecting link between a larger system of trails running through the community."

Trustee Named

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Frank P. Adams of Piedmont, former president of the California Republican Assembly, a conservative-oriented volunteer organization, has been appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan to the state College Board of Trustees.

Deadline Is Friday For June Ballot

With only two days left for candidates to file for the June 6 primary election, contestants were scarce in Marin and Southern Sonoma races. Twelve of 17 offices were uncontested.

Deadline for the filings is 5 p.m. Friday.

In the nonpartisan supervisorial and local district races, there were as yet no contests for the Third Supevisorial District to which Michael Wornum of Mill Valley seeks reelection, nor for Division One of the Marin Municipal Water District.

No contests had developed in the Novato Sanitary, Ross Valley Sanitary, Almonte Sanitary and Homestead Valley Sanitary districts.

Among the four Marin County Superior and Municipal Court judgeships up for election, only Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner faces competition, from attorney Charles Reed Best.

In Marin's Second Supervisorial District incumbent Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. faces a three-way contest, and in the Fourth District three have filed and three have said they will run to succeed Louis H. Baar, who will retire.

A crowded race has developed in the Fifth Supervisorial District of Southern Sonoma. Incumbent Robert Theiller is expected to face four challengers.

Three men are running for the Division Five seat in the Marin Municipal Water District from which Robert G. Anderson Sr. will retire.

On the partisan ballots, incumbent Congressmen Donald H. Clausen, R-First District, and William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, faced no challengers from their own party. One Democrat will be running to oppose Clausen in the November general election. Roger Boas and Allan D. French, both of San Francisco, are competing for the Democratic nomination for the Sixth District.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, is unopposed by any Republican, and only one candidate, Harry J. Moore, has announced for the Democratic nomination.

A total of 108 partisan and nonpartisan seats are up for decision in June by Marin and Southern Sonoma voters — but 87 of the posts are in the partisan central committees. Few contests are likely there, county elections officials predicted today.

Sonoma Planner Lipman Resigns

Robert S. Lipman of Petaluma has resigned from the Sonoma County Planning Commission in order to devote more time to business.

Lipman, a former Petaluma city councilman, recently purchased Petaluma radio station KTOB. He had served on the commission for nearly two years and said his resignation would become effective when supervisor Philip L. Joerger appoints a successor.

Lipman, former public information officer at Sonoma State College, served four years on the city council until he was defeated in the 1970 mayoralty election by Helen Putnam.

BOMB

blowing the top and sides out and shredding the bottom, but the terminal was not damaged.

Harold E. Campbell Jr., chief FBI agent for Nevada, would not speculate on the type of bomb but said, "Obviously it had been some kind of high explosive."

TWA officials in New York were alerted to the extortion plot by an anonymous telephone call directing them to a storage locker at the TWA terminal at Kennedy.

The locker contained two Army type duffel bags and a note to TWA Board Chairman Charles Tillinghast demanding that each bag be filled with $1 million. Otherwise, the note said, four bombs on different TWA planes would be detonated at six-hour intervals.

Police said the note indicated that more than one person was involved in the plot and that none of those planting the bombs was aware that others were doing the same thing.

Brandy, one of the dogs specially trained for bombsniffing duties and on loan to the bomb squad from the federal government to the bomb squad for demonstration purposes, was pressed into service at Kennedy.

The dog was rushed to the 707 and immediately became "very excited" according to its handler. The dog went to a flight bag in the cockpit marked "Flight Crew — Do Not Disturb" where the "high order explosive" 5 to 6 pound bomb was found.

Schmitt said he first cut a hole in the bag to examine the mechanism. He then ordered other policemen out of the plane and defused the bomb, which he said was a military type device but with "a unique trigger mechanism."

"The bomb was so powerful that if it detonated it would have blown the plane apart," Schmitt said.

WILLIAM FRANCIS WARD
San Rafael Pharmacist

OBITUARIES

Pharmacist W. F. Ward Dies At 73

William Francis Ward, a pharmacist in San Rafael for 42 years, collapsed and died yesterday on the Meadow Club golf course. He was 73.

Ward, who lived at 216 Santa Margarita Drive, San Rafael, was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital. Death apparently was due to natural causes, according to the Marin County Coroner's office.

He was born in Butte, Mont., and moved with his parents to San Francisco in 1905. He was a graduate of the University of California School of Pharmacy and San Francisco Law School. During World War I, he was chief pharmacist with the U.S. Shipping Board on Angel Island.

He worked for the Shumate, Keck and Broemel pharmacies in San Francisco. He met the late John H. and nad the two founded the Campion-Ward Pharmacy in 1930 at Fourth and B streets, San Rafael. They sold the business in 1968 to Webb and Rogers Pharmacy. Ward remained active as a relief pharmacist until his death.

He was a member and past president of the Serra Club of Marin, a member and past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, and was a member of the Meadow Club and the California Pharmaceutical Association.

He is survived by his wife, Rose Campion Ward; two daughters, Jane Ward Koblick of San Rafael and Sue Ellen Ward Thomas of San Mateo; a son, Edmond C. Ward of Kentfield; three sisters, Dorothy Ward Conroy, Irene Smith and Martha Shaughnessy; two brothers, John J. Ward and Henry Ward, all of San Francisco, and nine grandchildren.

A Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Memorial contributions to Hanna Boys Center, Sonoma, are preferred by the family.

Novatan Indicted In 6 Robberies

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Novato man was jailed in San Francisco yesterday, indicted by the grand jury for six robberies allegedly committed while he was on parole from state prison on previous robbery charges. A court date has not been set.

Charles van Purcell, 27, of 1703 Center Road, Novato is accused of committing the robberies during a two-month period after release from the state penal institution at Susanville last November.

MRS. JOHNSTON

Ruth Frances Johnston, sister of George J. Cummins of Corte Madera, died yesterday in Menlo Park after a long illness.

A native of San Francisco, she was 70 years old. Her husband, Lawrence L. Johnston, is a retired Bank of America vice president.

She also is survived by a son, Lawrence P. Johnston; a daughter, Mrs. Eveleen K. Lopez of Menlo Park; a sister, Mrs. Eveleen von der Lieth of Burlingame, and six grandchildren.

Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. Thursday and Requiem Mass at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Raymond Church, Menlo Park. Interment will follow at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

Donations to the St. Raymond memorial scholarship fund or favorite charities are preferred.

RAYMOND LATHROP

A Mass of the Resurrection for Raymond B. Lathrop, 47, of Novato, will be celebrated at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Loretto Church, Novato.

Lathrop, assistant vice president of Sanborn Map Co. in San Francisco, died Monday at his home, 28 Lorraine Court, after a six-month illness.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Chapel of Marin, Novato. Burial will be at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato. The family prefers that memorial contributions be to the Marin County Chapter, American Cancer Society, or the Novato Boys Club.

One of Lathrop's surviving brothers is Maurice Lathrop of Oakdale, San Joaquin County, who was incorrectly listed in yesterday's Independent-Journal as Morris.

NEW LOOK FOR FAIRFAX — Sketch by Donald K. Olsen, Sausalito architect, envisions how the Fairfax civic center may look in about two years. The city council voted 3-2 last night to begin renovations of the city offices and police station at right. Next phase would be construction of a new fire station (left), then demolition of part of the old fire station, leaving the rear part of the two-story building as added police department space (center).

City Zoning Plan To Be Held Over

Fairfax City councilmen unanimously decided last night to let the post-election council continue the long-drawn debate over the city zoning ordinance. (Another Fairfax City Council story, page 1.)

Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet and councilmen Francis J. O'Connell pointed out they would retire from the council as of the April 11 election. They suggested "no more meetings on this until after the election." Last night's continued hearing was the third session this year on the controversial zoning proposal. City and county officials have been working on the ordinance for more than five years.

Councilman Lee Nelder already had moved to postpone the hearing until all out-of-town persons owning property in Fairfax receive at least two weeks notice. He amended his motion to incorporate the suggestion by Van Vliet and O'Connell.

Audience members from San Francisco and Alameda County complained last night they had received no notice until after the Jan. 6 hearing on the ordinance was held. Some received no notice of the Feb. 22 continued hearing, they said.

Nearly an hour of debate on the ordinance ensued between the motion and the final unanimous vote. Most of the discussion centered on the city's small-lot duplex areas; views expressed were mostlq similar to owners' fears of hardships voiced in earlier hearings.

Tidal waves are triggered by erupting volcanoes or underwater earthquakes, says the National Geographic.

Tapes Enter Orr's Firing Case

By C. P. McCARTHY

The three Fairfax city councilmen who voted last October to fire Police Chief James R. Orr had, six months earlier, denied having a problem with the city police department.

The denial by councilmen Robert R. Souza and Lee Nelder and Mayor Cornelis van Vliet came during an employment interview in February 1971 with Robert E. Crowe, later hired as city administrator.

Tapes of the interview were made public in connection with a hearing by the Fairfax Board of Review of Orr's appeal of his dismissal.

The board of review was to listen to the tapes today prior to the resumption of its hearing at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Orr's attorney, Leonard Shaw, requested that the board listen to the interview tapes, a move at first opposed by City Atty. Wallace S. Myers who termed Shaw's request "a fishing expedition."

But Shaw said he believed "the tapes will show Orr was fired not for cause but because it was the will" of three council members.

Crowe and two other candidates for the city administrator's post were interviewed in February 1971 by van Vliet, Souza and Nelder. Because of scheduling difficulties, the three candidates were also interviewed separately in late January 1971 by councilmen Frank J. Egger and Francis J. O'Connell, who later formed the minority against Orr's dismissal.

When Shaw first requested the board of review listen to the tapes, he suggested they would indicate that Crowe may have been hired with a secret understanding that he would get rid of Orr.

They do not. The tapes of the two interviews with Crowe — together about three hours long — do reveal several short segments of discussion concerning personnel and departmental problems and how Crowe would handle them if he were hired. They include this exchange:

Nelder: "Do you think you can improve our police and fire service?"

Souza: "That's assuming we have a problem."

Crowe: "I assume the question is asked because of a problem."

Nelder: "Not really. There's always room for improvement."

Crowe: "I've been to a couple of your council meetings and have heard some of the conversations and I get the impression there is some bit of a problem. I don't know how much or how little.

"Yes, I think I could improve your police department and your fire department and the rest of the departments."

Crowe went on to say improvements would not happen overnight, adding, "It's in working with the people constantly, and attitude, and enjoying what you are doing and wanting to help and having pride in what you are doing."

But, in answer to another question by Nelder, Crowe did say that if an employee "were performing his duties in such a manner that he would be considered incompetent or that he brings up his personal activities such as overindulgence in alcohol or whatever, if he was unfit for the job I would have no hesitation in getting rid of him."

Later in the interview, Nelder, a San Francisco police sergeant, asked, "What is your relationship with the police department? What are your feelings toward the police department in regard to where people are making complaints?"

Nelder then clarified the question, saying he wanted to know how Crowe would handle a situation where a citizen might tell Crowe that he had made a complaint to the police chief about an officer and the "chief didn't satisfy him."

Crowe said he would first determine if the complaint were legitimate. If it were, it should be the chief's responsibility, he said.

"It's his duty. It's his department to run. If he doesn't run it properly he's got to be reprimanded," Crowe said.

Crowe was hired in March 1971 and fired Orr six months later, after a series of closed sessions with the city council. The council later upheld the firing by a 3-2 vote, and Orr appealed to the board of review.

Tough Leash Law Adopted In Belvedere

An ordinance clamping tight controls on dogs has been adopted by the Belvedere City Council.

The measure, to go into effect next month, requires dog owners to clean up after their pets on public and private property and stipulates that dogs must be no farther than 500 feet from their owners' property in the daytime. At night, the pet must be on a leash or at the heel of the owner.

The ordinance, which strengthens present city law, was adopted at Monday night's council meeting. It is the toughest approved to date in Marin.

There was no opposition to the measure Monday night, although one resident worried that the council may have, in effect, "bitten off more than it can chew."

The council said the ordinance could be amended if enforcement, to be carried out by the Marin County Humane Society, proved difficult.

The Belvedere City Council also:

BUS — Postponed a decision on discontinuing a Golden Gate Bridge District bus route through the community in order to get more information on patronage. The council received a petition signed by 50 persons who favored stopping the run because of noise and other reasons, although several people at the meeting supported the route.

SANITARY — Expressed interest in a plan to consolidate Southern Marin sanitary districts, adding it wished to take part in discussions on the proposal.

DISPLAY — Heard from Mrs. John Erickson of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society that maps and memorabilia marking the city's 75th anniversary will be on display in the city hall council chambers through July.

HOUSE — Denied a variance and use permit to allow Sidney Schonfeld to construct a home on Cliff Road. The house would have encroached into the front yard setback area and exceeded city height limits.

LITTLE LEAGUE — Voted to sponsor two Little League teams at a cost of $250, and said it would consider a request for additional financial help at a later date.

MEETING — Scheduled an adjourned session for next Wednesday to consider various planning items.

New Capitol At Jobs' Expense?

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An economy-minded Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday suggested the legislature examine the possibility of cutting back its employees as an alternative to constructing a new state Capitol.

Reagan said he would "hate to see" the current 102-year-old state Capitol "supplanted by some glass and aluminum tower."

The governor's comments came in response to a question at his news conference about a committee headed by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, which is investigating the need to provide more space for legislative activities.

Hearing Slated On Moratorium

A proposed one-year moratorium on all subdivisions, lot splits and planned residential developments in Sausalito will be the subject of a public hearing before the city council at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today.

The ordinance, recommended by the city's planning commission, would mean no development requiring subdivision of land would be approved by the city during the ban.

State Billed For All Angela Costs

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday rejected the advice of its staff and decided to bill the state for all costs related to Angela Davis's stay in Marin.

In authorizing the county to submit a bill for more than $567,000, the board rejected staff advice that it try for a lower figure which may be easier to collect.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the board he doubted the state would accept the total amount since it includes $381,000 for Civic Center security which the state has said it won't pay.

The remaining $186,000 would be more realistic from a legal standpoint, he said, since it involves "hard costs" such as actual court costs and legal fees.

Maloney said the primary benefit of special state legislation to reimburse the county is not the money but the shift in reimbursement liability when Miss Davis's trial was moved to Santa Clara County. Rather than Marin being liable for future costs, he said, the liability now rests with the state.

Supervisors, however, were unswayed and agreed that the state had a moral obligation to repay Marin for the total costs stemming from the 1970 Civic Center shootout in which four persons were killed.

Miss Davis is being tried in connection with the bloodbath which erupted when three San Quentin inmates and an accomplice attempted to escape while at the Hall of Justice.

Miss Davis is charged with having supplied the guns used in the escape attempt and is being tried on suspicion of murder, kidnap and conspiracy.

Marin Rock Concert Backer To Be Sued

Marin supervisors agreed yesterday to sue the promoter of last November's controversial rock concert which resulted in thousands of dollars in damage to the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

Also to be named in the $11,000 suit are the promoter's insurance company and broker for refusing to pay county claims for damage to seats and carpeting caused when more than 2,200 young persons jammed the building Nov. 24.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told supervisors that negotiations with both the promoter, Sausalito pharmacist Fredrick S. Mayer of Terra Linda, and his insurance company, Reserve Insurance Co. of San Francisco, have been fruitless.

He recommended the county seek legal action and continue to hold about $6,000 in gate recipts which were to have benefited the Center Point drug abuse program.

With one exception, the auditorium has since remained off limits to rock concerts pending a set of guidelines governing use of the building.

At the time of the concert, county officials conservatively estimated that burns and stains on seats and carpeting plus abnormal wear and tear would total about $5,000.

Maloney said yesterday the figure has increased since it may now be a matter of replacing carpeting rather tha cleaning it.

He said he will file the suit next week and predicted it will take at least a year before the case is considered by Marin Superior Court.

Marin County Board of Supervisors Also:

INVERNESS — Continued to the June budget hearings a proposal from the Inverness Improvement Association that the county finance planning to restrict growth between Inverness and Inverness Park.

FLOOD CONTROL — Authorized the county counsel's office to draft an ordinance which would permit flood control zones to control dumping of debris in creeks within city limits if cities approve.

YOUTH — Accepted a report on recreational facilities for youth throughout the county. The report, prepared by the county youth commission and police-community relations department, was referred to various city and county park and recreation commissions.

LIBRARY — Continued to next week discussion of a proposed agreement with the Mill Valley Library offering county books and services in return of use of the library by county residents.

TAX STATEMENT — Received, without comment, a tax statement from Marin County Taxpayers Association urging the county to keep the fiscal 1972-73 tax rate below $2.23 per $100 assessed valuation. The rate this fiscal year is $2.96.

COURTHOUSE — Approved without comment, an option agreement with the City of San Rafael giving the city two years to come up with $750,000 to purchase the old courthouse site on Fourth Street. The San Rafael City Council approved the agreement last week.

THEFT PROTECTION — Agreed to consider adoption of a program originating in Monterey enabling the sheriff's department to buy stenciling equipment and lend it to citizens to apply their license numbers to objects of value. The department would also provide window decals advising that household valuables were so marked, thus discouraging burglars. The plan, which Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni said came up in 1969, was revived by Barbara Boxer of Greenbrae.

APPOINTMENT — Approved appointment of Jane Brown of Strawberry to the Strawberry Recreation District Board, to take the place of James Gerner who resigned.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Jack Heard from the county juvenile deliquency prevention commission and authorized the commission to advertise the vacancy and interview interested applicants before recommending them to the board.

STINSON SEWAGE — Authorized the county environmental health officer to hire four temporary employees to study septic tank conditions at Stinson Beach after Proctor Jones of the Stinson Beach County Water District board said the district couldn't afford it.

Succulents Session

Succulents will be discussed at a public meeting of the Marin Home and Garden Club at 8 p.m. next Wednesday by Lila Lily from Lila's Succulent Nursery at 4 Altena Street, San Rafael. The meeting will be at the Marinwood Community Center, according to Dorothy Lyons, publicity chairman.

Sent To Center For Drug Study

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court has committed Monty Leon Miller, 22, of no fixed address, to the California Rehabilitation Center after determining he is a narcotics addict or in danger of becoming one.

The determination was made after reviewing reports by two doctors appointed to examine Miller.

Miller had earlier admitted burglarizing a San Rafael residence on Jan. 8. He was on parole from the CRC at the time of the crime.

Another man, Leslie Robert Jewett, 20, of Santa Rosa, is also awaiting a determination of whether he is an addict.

Next Behr Action: Wildlife Protection

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Sweeping legislation to protect California's predatory wildlife from indiscriminate killing is about to be introduced by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

Behr's measure, labeled the Wildlife Protection Act of 1972, would clamp tight controls on the use of poisons, bar long-lasting poisons that kill animals feeding on predators, bar bounties, bar coyote guns, bar saw-toothed and spike-jawed traps, and bar shooting wildlife from aircraft, snowmobiles and boats — including sailboats. It will also ban shooting whales, seals and sea lions from these vehicles and vessels.

Wildlife preservationists say far more predators are killed than can be justified by limited crop and livestock losses.

President Richard M. Nixon recently banned the use of poisons by federal Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife agents on federal land, a step Behr noted was triggered by the death in Wyoming of eagles who ate poisoned bait set out for coyotes.

Behr's proposed controls on poisons are so restrictive, his staff noted, that a homeowner no longer could use poisons or gas to kill moles or gophers in his garden. Instead, he would have to hire a licensed pest control agent, who in turn would have to get a separate state permit for each use of a poison.

The measure, to be introduced on Monday, originally was proposed by Ursula M. Faassi of San Francisco, spokesman for the Coalition Against Poisoning of Wildlife. Behr's office reported that 13 similar bills have been introduced in recent years in Congress, but that none had passed.

Behr's bill would eliminate a provision in existing law providing that state hunters and trappers are to "eradicate" predatory animals. Instead, they would be required only to "control" such animals, and then only when the animals have injured or killed livestock or caused "significant damage" to crops.

Marin City Redevelopment Project Moves Forward

The Marin City redevelopment project took a long-delayed step forward yesterday as county supervisors approved renewal of a "cooperation agreement" with the county redevelopment agency.

The agreement commits the county to build certain public facilities — such as the new fire and sheriff's substation now under construction — as the county's matching share of the federal project.

The agreement amounts to a paperwork transaction since the county — once the substation is completed — will have fulfilled the bulk of its participation in the project.

However, it was needed to permit the redevelopment agency to apply for an extension of its long-overdue federal loan, an additional loan of $1,033,114 and outright federal grants totaling $754,000.

The multimillion-dollar project was to have been finished in 1968 but became bogged down.

A dispute between the agency and the developer, California Development Co. of New York, involving exchange of development rights for title to ridgelands above the community, caused further delay and was settled last month following heated community debate.

According to Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the redevelopment agency, all that remains before redevelopment can begin is federal approval of the loan extension and additional funds.

Shepherd has indicated that the government has already given tentative approval.

The agreement first came before the supervisors last summer but the board rejected it since it obligated the county to build a second access road to Marin City. No mention of the road was made yesterday and supervisors unamimously approved the agreement without comment. (Supervisors John F. McInnis and Arnold M. Baptiste were absent.)

On a related matter, the board continued to next week possible reorganization of the redevelopment agency board to provide greater Marin City representation.

One Serious Injury In Chain Crash

A San Rafael woman was reported in serious condition today at Marin General Hospital following an accident yesterday which started a four-car collision.

Patricia Elise Stahle, 31, of 124 Esmeyer Drive, suffered multiple fractures of the left wrist, fractured ribs and possible lung bruises when her car hit a hillside on the edge of Highway 101 at about 9:20 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

The accident occured 1,280 feet south of the Spencer Avenue, overpass on southbound 101, the patrol reported.

A following car then stopped and was hit by a third, in turn hit by a fourth.

Driver of the second car was Gladys Joyce Power of 28 Mill Wood Street, Mill Valley. The third vehicle was driven by Milton Lewis Bassis of 224 Jamaica Street, Tiburon, and the fourth by Kurt Anbeuhl of 41 Barbaree Way, Tiburon.

RUNAWAY

The car of Frances J. Harrington of San Rafael rests against the side of a house at 121 Reservoir Road, San Rafael, after rolling down a private driveway on Reservoir. Mrs. Harrington, 47, of 133 Reservoir, told police she had parked the car about 1:50 p.m. yesterday, but that it started rolling as she got out. She tried to get back into the car to stop it, but was unable to before the car crashed over a retaining wall, took down a small tree and fence and hit the home of Desmond Green before stopping. Mrs. Harrington was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for scrapes and bruises of her head and legs, suffered when she was thrown over the retaining wall with the car.

Retired Secretary Wins $100,000 From Estate

A 67-year-old retired secretary who was left $100,000 by her employer, a Belvedere man who died in 1969, has won a court fight to get the money.

According to attorneys for Lillian H. Kilkenny of San Francisco, Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court on Monday turned down a challenge to the bequest by a guardian for four grandchildren of Miss Kilkenny's benefactor.

Miss Kilkenny, who worked for James Rowland Lowe, for 22 years, was left the money in a will written before he died in December 1969.

During testimony last week in court, an accountant said that Lowe's estate was estimated at $9 million in 1967, "give or take a million."

Lowe had inherited a lumbering fortune from his parents and had increased it in ranching and lumbering interests.

His three children and wife, who had also received trusts during Lowe's life, did not contest the terms of the will.

However, an attorney, Donald J. Lawrence, acting as guardian for the grandchildren, who are to receive the residue of the estate, said that an annuity purchased for Miss Kilkenny by Lowe should have precluded the bequest.

Lowe had bought a $100,000 annuity for his secretary after he made out the will, but the judge ruled that Lowe, who once described himself as a "rancher and capitalist" merely intended to supplement her income with the annuity.

Cafeteria Likely To Remain A 'Dry' Spot

The Marin Civic Center Cafeteria's appeal bid for a wine and beer license was put off indefinitely yesterday after new reasons were introduced for the state's original denial.

The State Alcoholic Beverage Control originally denied the license because the cafeteriaa operator, in its contract with the county, did not have "full control" of the cafeteria in the Hall of Justice.

But yesterday, an ABC official said the agency was barred from issuing the license because it considers the cafeteria part of the county jail.

Stanley Pierce, regional director of the ABC, told the hearing officer the entire Hall of Justice is part of the county jail since it is all one building.

He cited two state statutes, one in the Penal Code and the other in the Business and Professional Code, which prohibit alcoholic beverages in jails and prisons.

"This guy is ridiculous," attorney Gil Medeiros, representing the cafeteria operator, said after the session. "I asked him point blank whether he thought the cafeteria was really part of the jail and he said 'Yes.'"

Medeiros, who has yet to begin his case in support of the license, said he was not sure when the hearing would resume.

Thus far, the ABC has introduced 17 witnesses to speak in support of its rejection of the license.

Medeiros said he will call only two witnesses — Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and a representative of the cafeteria operator.

Fairfax Board Backs Shuffle Of Principles

The Fairfax School District board last night approved a staff reorganization which will bring one principal nto the district office and assign two schools to another.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said he hoped the move would free the district's principals of some routine administrative chores.

Bruce McDonald, principal at Deer Park School, will be brought into the district office to assume certain district level responsibilities for all of the schools. Jack Usilton, principal of Central School, will serve as principal of both Central and Deer Park.

The changes will be effective in September, Hammond said, and no salary changes are involved.

The Fairfax School District board also:

BUDGET — Received a partial presentation by Hammond of a $1,157,564 preliminary budget proposal for 1972-73. Discussion of the proposal, which represents a $12,162 increase over this year's budget, will continue at the board's next meeting, March 20.

EMPLOYEES — Accepted resignations from David Mangine, White Hill School teacher, and Ruth Hamlin, secretary, both for personal reasons.

CONFERENCE — Authorized Hammond to attend a National Academy for School Executives Aug. 14-18 in Toronto, Canada.

AGREEMENTS — Approved agreements with San Anselmo School District for six children from two families who have moved to San Anselmo to remain in Fairfax schools.

Sewage Discussion

Methods of waste treatment and disposal proposed for a planned consolidated sanitary agency for Southeast Marin will be discussed by the environmental advisory subcommittee to the Marin Municipal Water District's Improvement District A at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district office in Corte Madera.

MacPhail Seeks First Full Term

John MacPhail Jr., appointed to the Marin Municipal Water District board in June 1970, has announced he will seek a first full term on the board in the June 6 election.

The 40-year-old incumbent for division two represents San Rafael and is the first declared candidate for that seat.

MacPhail, treasurer and vice president of McPhail's Inc., a Marin hardware and building materials firm, said that if elected he will work for recycling and reclamation of water as long-range methods of expanding district water supply.

"It's pretty plain that the Marin aqueduct, as we envisioned it, is dead and we won't even consider a project of that scope again, even if it is the most feasible method of obtaining water at the least cost," he said. "The public simply doesn't want so large a project.

(The Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct, designed to carry Russian River water to Marin, was defeated by voters last November by a 10-1 margin.)

A native of Kentfield and a lifelong Marin resident, the candidate and his wife, Carolyn and their two children reside at 16 Manderly Road, San Rafael.

MacPhail said his qualifications for the board post include training and experience in business management and accounting. "The water district has the same management problems as private companies," he said.

As a board member, MacPhail has been active in working toward a reorganization of district management, currently being implemented. The new management system is designed to give top management experience to the district's second-level managers and provide the district with several persons who would be qualified to replace Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger, scheduled to retire in five years.

New Bacon Testing Policy Announced

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Prodded by President Nixon's consumer aide, government meat inspection officials have come up with a plan under which consumers can tell at a glance whether packaged bacon was generously lean or too fat.

The Agriculture Department said it soon will publish, with an invitation for public comment, a proposed new regulation for packages of bacon sold in standard "shingle-pack" containers. Under the proposed rule, a "substantial portion" of one slice in each carton would have to be visible to consumers.

Ex-FBI Man To Seek Dellums Seat

ORINDA (UPI)—Former FBI agent Craig Bull, 48, announced Tuesday that he would seek the Republican nomination for the congressional seat of Democrat Ron Dellums.

Bull, now an investment counselor, accused Dellums of "pitting race against race."

TOWN MEETING TOPIC

An apartment built below this San Anselmo garage is still occupied more than a year after it sparked a controversy in the Hub City about illegal second dwellings on single-family lots. Legalization of such residences — as recommended by a citizens committee — will be among topics discussed during the second session of the San Anselmo Town Meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Red Hill School library. High-density and low-income housing are other topics which have been suggested for tonight's discussion.

Decision Nears On Developing Marist Seminary Property

The San Rafael Planning Commission, although failing for a second time to act on proposals to develop the Marist seminary property, moved closer to a decision last night.

The commission, concluding its second lengthy hearing on the subject, said it would vote at its next meeting Tuesday on use permits that would turn the nine-acre site on Grand Avenue into a development consisting of a tennis club, church, ballet school and meeting center for fraternal groups.

Actually, the commission seemed in favor of approving the permits, although making it clear it wanted tight conditions attached to the use of the land.

Last night's session for the most part covered the same ground as that touched on at a Feb. 8 commission session, with a standing-room-only crowd again reciting both support of and objections to the plans.

The Marist Fathers, occupants of the site since 1955, wish to sell the land because of rising taxes and declining seminary enrollment. But the sale hinges on approval of use permits sought by the Marin Civic Ballet Association, the proposed operators of the private tennis club, the Assembly of God Church and representatives of fraternal organizations.

Area homeowners renewed protests last night over neighborhood deterioration, traffic congestion, loss of recreational space and noise.

While none of the commissioners objected to any of the proposed uses, several spelled out proposed conditions for the new activities. Among them were that no liquor licenses should be granted any of the applicants, no outside uses of the various parcels would be permitted and that the tennis club would be restricted to day use.

The commission also will consider Tuesday a circulation plan for traffic on the property, as well as exists and entrances on surrounding streets.

In addition, rezoning of the property must be approved. Despite the wishes of some residents supporting single-family zoning with use permit provisions, the commission seemed in favor of planned community zoning in order to afford greater future control.

Development plans offered last night had changed somewhat from that submitted to the commission last month. Three buildings on the site now are proposed for demolition, instead of one, with one new structure — the tennis clubhouse — still added.

The number of tennis courts, moreover, has risen from nine to 10.

The commission also approved construction redesign for a new intersection at Bellam Boulevard and Jacoby, Auburn and Simms streets and delayed until Tuesday action on a plan to relocate radio station KTIM's transmitting tower near Smith Ranch Airport.

The commission said it wants to clear up conflicting reports from the Federal Aviation Administration on whether the tower might interfere with aircraft.

Santa Rosan Treated For Crash Injuries

A Santa Rosa man was treated for a bruised right shoulder suffered in an auto-bus accident about noon yesterday, according to officials at Marin General Hospital.

Wayne Patterson, 40, of 749 Leo Drive was brought in by San Francisco police. No further details of the accident were available.

Mission Coalition Plea Dismissed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The California Public Utilities Commission Tuesday dismissed a complaint by the Mission Coalition organization of San Francisco against the Pacific Telephone Co.

The complaint asserted that the company failed to provide essential bilingual services for high concentrations of Spanish speaking residents in San Francisco and other areas.

The commission said that it cannot conclude that Pacific Telephone had a responsibility to provide "full bilingual service" in areas with sufficient numbers of Spanish-speaking residents.

The PUC also said it does not have jurisdiction over employment practices of Pacific Telephone so that it cannot require the company to hire bilingual personnel.

Traffic Under Bridge Will Be Slowed Down

If you're planning to drive underneath the north end of the Richardson Bay Bridge next week, expect delay.

That's the word from the state Division of Highways, which announced yesterday the grade of the access road would be lowered beginning today and continuing for a week.

Work will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily; one way traffic will be allowed through the area, controlled by flagmen. The state recommends drivers use alternate routes if they can.

The road loops under the bridge, south of Strawberry shopping center.

Dredge Plan Hits A Snag

An application by the Sausalito Yacht Harbor to dredge 75,000 cubic yards from the harbor and dispose of it near Alcatraz Island encountered no public opposition, but hit a state snag.

Evan Hong, who handles protests for the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco, said the State Lands Commission wrote warning the yacht harbor it must apply for a permit to use state lands.

The public had until last Friday to submit objections to the dredging to the Army.

Ross, Kentfield Board Talk Sharing

Ross and Kentfield School trustees last night recommended that their full boards try to arrange sharing of programs.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich of the Kentfield School District said the recommendation came from trustees DeWitt K. McDonald and John R.B. Ellis of Kentfield and Sally Ann Rakow and Dr. Gwynn Thomson of the Ross School District board.

He said the Ross district does not have instrumental music, home economics, and industrial arts programs which Kentfield has. Ross was also interested in use of the Kentfield business manager and psychologists, Bacich said.

Ross, on the other hand, has an ecology class and teacher, and specialists in physical education, elementary music, and art that Kentfield could use, Bacich said.

The superintendent said the four trustees also discussed the possibility of exchange of students who might profit from programs in the other district.

City Manager Out On Poor Attendance

FOSTER CITY, Calif. (UPI) —City Manager Robert Cowden was fired Tuesday for missing too many City Council meetings.

The council had to dismiss him in absentia.

Larkspur Candidates On KTIM

Five of the seven candidates for three seats on the Larkspur City Council will be heard on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Present will be incumbents William G. Fleckles and Benton A. Sifford and challengers Robert H. Lee, Joan L. Sestak, and Elizabeth Johnson.

Absent will be Jane E. Epindendio, who has filed her candidacy and has decided not to campaign, according to Mrs. Oppenheimer, and Mayor Earl J. O'Grady, present Larkspur Mayor, due to a prior business committment.

Questions phoned in during the program will be answered by the candidates. The program will be repeated on tape Sunday at 10:05 a.m.

March 16, the "Marin Sounding Board" will present candidates for the Fairfax City Council.

Illegal Skydives

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —A bill making it illegal to skydive from an airplane while drunk or under the influence of drugs was introduced in the California Assembly Tuesday.

Connection Fees May Be Raised

The North Marin County Water District board will consider raising the charge for new connections from $300 to $425, a move that would bolster the reserve fund for long-range improvements.

Directors last night tentatively set April 25 to consider the proposed increase, reported Dist. Mgr. Eugene S. Churchill.

Of the current $300 connection charge, $115 goes into the reserve which can be used to finance treatment plants, reservoirs or transmission lines, he said. The reserve fund, including interest earned, is now at $787,000.

Increasing the connection charge is one of the possible methods of financing future facilities, Churchill said. Other methods would be increasing water rates or the tax rate.

North Marin County Water Board also:

LYNWOOD TANK — Authorized an agreement with Novato Unified School District so Lynwood School students could establish a nature study area at the Lynwood tank site, near the school, and agreed to supply four garbage cans at the site.

OLIVE SCHOOL — Postponed action on a request from the Novato Little League for a reduction of $745 in the $1,800 connection fee for a water line for the Little League field and neighborhood park at Olive School grounds, pending revision of district regulations.

STAFFORD LAKE — Heard a report from Churchill that the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department has tentatively scheduled the opening of Stafford Lake Park on April 29.

CONFERENCE — Authorized Churchill to attend an international water quality symposium at Washington, D.C., April 18-19, at a cost of $370.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Friday for a joint meeting in Santa Rosa with the Sonoma County Water Agency and Mendocino Flood Control District boards to consider a request for an additional allocation of Russian River water to the Redwood Valley area, north of Ukiah.

WEST MARIN — Scheduled its next regular meeting for 8 p.m. March 21 at West Marin School, Point Reyes Station.

Sausalito To Seek Funds For Two City Employees

The Sausalito City Council agreed last night to apply for $19,017 in federal funds to hire two new city employees under a federal program to provide jobs in government for unemployed persons, City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr reported.

He said the council asked for money for a maintenance man for the public works department and a clerk-stenographer to assist Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt.

The application is being made under the Federal Emergency Employment Act of 1970, designed to provide jobs during periods of high unemployment with the government aying 90 per cent of the cost and the governmental agency doing the hiring providing 10 per cent.

St. Cyr said he suggested the city apply for the money because "we can get two needed employees at a relatively low cost to the city and at the same time provide employment and on-the-job training for persons who need it."

Total annual cost of a clerk and maintenance man, including fringe benefits, would be $21,131, according to St. Cyr, city manager. Of that, the city would pay 10 per cent, or $2,131.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

SUBDIVISION — Set a public hearing at 8 p.m. March 21 on an appeal by developer Edward R. Fitzsimmons of a planning commission denial of a tentative map for a 206-unit subdivision on 160 acres of Wolfback Ridge.

STUDY SESSION — Set a study session with the Sausalito Library board for 8 p.m. Tuesday. To be discussed are proposed locations for a new library, as well as space and other requirements for a library.

FIRE CODE — Adopted an ordinance establishing a uniform fire code.

NEW ZONE — Approved first reading of an ordinance creating the new residential commercial zone in the Caledonia Street area.

VARIANCE — Granted a variance to Kjell Larson letting him add a bedroom to a nonconforming duplex at 127 Cazneau Avenue. In acting the council overturned a planning commission denial.

CLAIM — Rejected and referred to its insurance carrier a $77 claim by Robert Engman for auto damaged from a protruding manhole cover in Municipal Parking Lot No. 1.

Van Praag Found Shot To Death

UPLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Dr. Jules Van Praag, whose wife and 14-year-old daughter yesterday were found bludgeoned to death in the family home, was found shot dead today at the wheel of a rented car near Salton Sea Beach, 120 miles south of Upland.

Police believe Van Praag, 42, ran amok yesterday, beating and strangling to death his wife, daughter and a family cat and shooting his secretary before renting a car at Ontario Airport. The car apparently was deliberately driven off the road, where Van Praag put a .22-caliber pistol in his mouth and pulled the trigger, police said.

A second family cat was found shot dead in the car.

Theme Picked For Festival

The Marin Art and Garden Center has scheduled its traditional Independence Day festival, "A Grand Old Fourth", on July 2, 3, and 4.

A barbershop quartette contest, vaudeville skits, old-time movies, tintype photographs and music from the 1890s will highlight the festival.

A free shuttle bus from the College of Marin's parking lot to the Art and Garden Center in Ross will be provided.

EOC Session Is Slated Tonight

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council board is scheduled to discuss the agency's plight at 8 p.m. today at the Neighborhood Service Center at 918 C Street, San Rafael.

Heading the list of items is the resignation of executive director W. Robert Lomax Jr. last week.

The regional headquarters of the Office of Economic Opportunity in San Francisco is expected to supply a list tonight of consulting firms qualified to take over administration of the agency on an interim basis.

Also scheduled for discussion are the findings of the federal auditor who reviewed agency books after it was disclosed the local EOC had mistakenly received and then used nearly $63,000 in federal funds.

Continuing Effort For Open Space

The Tiburon City Council called for a "skyline ordinance" last night in a continuing move to preserve substantial areas of the city's ridgeland as open space.

Richard G. Arjo, director of community development, said the council directed staff to draft a so-called skyline policy that would protect hilltops, asked closer cooperation with the county in view of the fact that bordering lands on the ridge are unincorporated and wanted staff to inform federal officials of the city's intent to seek open space acquisition funds.

The council in January imposed a building moratorium on about 400 acres of ridgeland, and has held two meetings since with an eye on which lands should be preserved and under what methods.

Arjo also said the council indicated last night it would consider imposing at a March 21 adjourned meeting a "C" zoning on undeveloped lands throughout the community with "open space quality." The zone calls for clustered single-family lots.

Arjo said Mayor Denis T. Rice requested further that staff report back on a proposal to rezone R-3 (multiple-family) lands in the Red Hill area to single-family.

Hub Council Opens House Panel To All

San Anselmo City Council last night opened its housing advisory committee to all interested residents and established goals for the group.

Officially titled the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Housing Element of the General Plan, the council passed a motion last night declaring it open to all volunteering Hub residents.

The council also said the committee could use the staff of the city planning department, the planning commission and the city legal counsel as resource personnel, said City Clerk Helen Ragan. No definite size limits nor terms of service were set for the committee she added.

Three goals were approved; "to promote and insure adequate housing for all persons, regardless of income, age, race or ethnic background; to promote and insure housing selection by location, type, price and tenure and to promote and insure open and free choice of housing for all."

The council also said the committee would report on open space and transportation as they relate to these goals. Mrs. Ragan said no definite dates were set for these reports.

She also said no future committee meeting dates were set.

The council also scheduled an examination for a city parks foreman for April 15.

Sewer Service Charge Voted

Private homes, in addition to commercial users, will pay a sewer service charge in the Tiburon Sanitary District by vote of the district's board of directors last night.

The board set no rate, nor a date on which the charge would take effect.

In January, the board voted a service charge for commerical customers to pay for expected increases in plant operating costs resulting from order by the Regional Water Quality Control Board imposing strict new pollution control standards.

Rates will be determined on a sliding scale, according to board president Bertram J. Talbot.

41 Strep Cases Reported Last Week

Streptococcus infections, with 41 cases reported, was the most prevalent communicable disease reported last week to the Marin County Health Department, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

Nine cases of infectious hepatitis, 25 cases of gonorrhea, two cases of syphillis and one case each of serum hepatitis, salmonella, and measles were also reported during the same period.

Novato Sets Hearing On Tree Policy

The Novato Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. March 20 on a proposed "heritage tree" ordinance that would require a permit to alter or remove protected trees on private, developed property.

A "heritage tree" is defined as one 48 inches or more in circumference two feet above the ground. The ordinance also would cover a tree or group of trees that, because of their location, are a city landmark.

The commission has also picked 8 p.m. April 6 for public hearings on the proposed subdivision procedures and development standards ordinances.

Commissioners requested Monday that the Marin County Planning Commission postpone a public hearing on plans for development of the 500-acre former Pacheco Ranch, south of Loma Verde, until they have a chance to review it March 20.

The plan by U.S. Development Co. of Orinda and Perl-Mack Enterprises of Denver is to develop 700 residential units, an administrative-professional complex and some commercial units.

Powell Recuperates In Miami Hospital

MIAMI (UPI) — Adam Clayton Powell sat up in his hospital bed and managed a smile, but the former Harlem congressman didn't give out with his customary, "keep the faith, baby."

A "very uncomfortable" Powell is recuperating in Jackson Memorial Hospital today from a recurrance of a prostate condition which forced him to undergo surgery four months ago. The hospital said Powell's condition is "fair."

City Council Has Tough Job To Fill

Sometime between now and the end of April, the San Rafael City Council must take one of its most important actions: it must name a member to the San Rafael Board of Education.

All of the appointments made by the city council to boards and commissions are important, of course. But appointments to the board of education are especially important; for the board plays (or can play) a role vital to the development of our citizens of tomorrow — a very close tomorrow, too, now that 18-year-olds just out of high school have the vote.

Following its recently established practice, the council plans to interview all applicants for the board position, which will become vacant through resignation of Paul R. Jones. The term expires next year.

THE COUNCILMEN, in choosing an appointee, probably will want to make sure that the man or woman they select plans to seek election in April, 1973. It takes time for a new school board member to become acquainted with the intricacies of school law and school administration, so appointing someone who planned to serve only one year would be a waste.

The council should also, we believe, be careful to choose someone who realizes the responsibility of the job and is willing to devote the time and study necessary to carry out that responsibility; and who also has the background, mental ability and moral stamina to "hold his own" against the "experts" who will try to overawe him with their presumed superior knowledge.

Delegation of decision making to the "experts" has been decried by many students of political science. As Harold J. Laski wrote in "The Limitations of the Expert," expertise "too often fails to see round its subject . . . Too often, also, it lacks humility . . . It has also a certain caste-spirit about it, so that experts tend to neglect all evidence which does not come from those who belong to their own ranks."

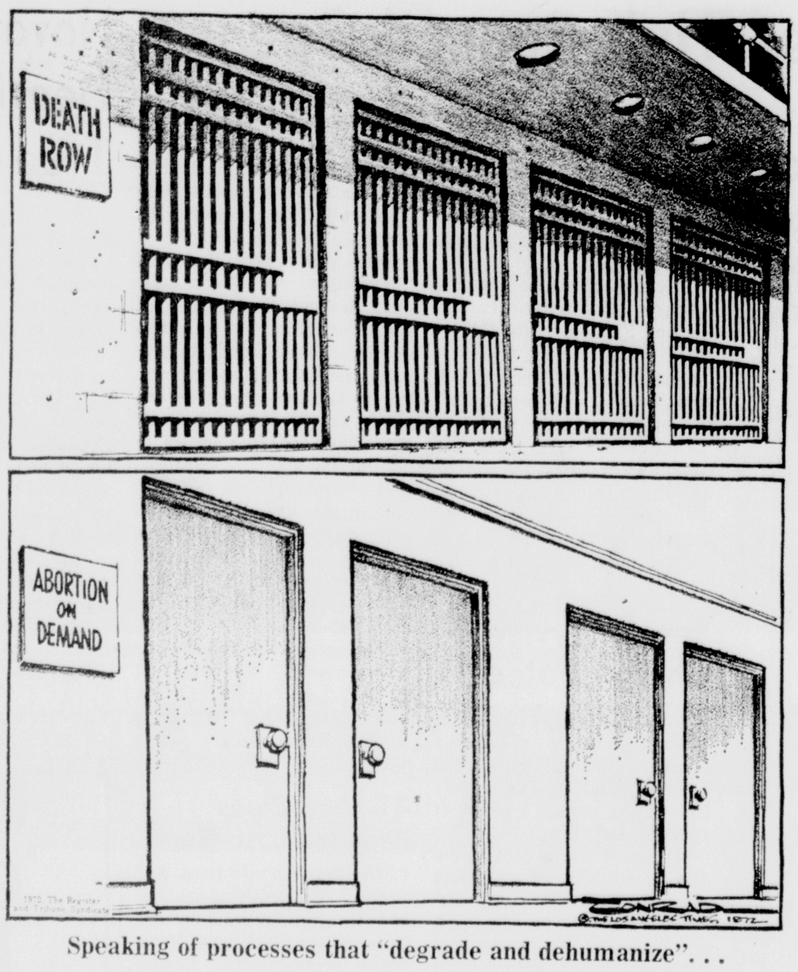

This is perhaps nowhere more true than in the education field.

THE CITY COUNCIL might do well to seek an appointee who subscribes to the dictum set down by James D. Koerner in "Who Controls American Education":

"Whether it is a question of educational aims or philosophy, of what subjects should be studied and for how long, of whether and how schools or teaching should be evaluated, of whether and how students should be divided by ability, of testing intelligence and what intelligence means, of 'compensatory' education, or of any other substantive matters that can be named, the expert's knowledge is not good enough for the rest of us to leave the policy decisions to him, not nearly good enough."

Both the California Education Code and the San Rafael City Charter charge the school board with governing the schools. That is a big job, to be taken seriously and performed intelligently.

That is why the appointment is such an important one.

Speaking of processes that "degrade and dehumanize"...

SACRAMENTO SCENE

'Cruel and Unusual' Never Applied To Death Penalty

By EARL G. WATERS

The State Supreme Court ruling that the death penalty violates the California Constitution is an outrage and discredits the judicial system. The court has placed itself above the people as makers of the law. As the lone dissenter, Justice Marshall McComb, stated, "It is the duty of the Legislature or the electorate and not the judiciary to decide such an issue."

The finding was not an interpretation of the constituion. It was a legislative act of repeal. Its thin attempt to disguise the decision as one based upon the constitution doesn't jell. They reached back into time and presumed to read the minds of those long gone. They said the delegates to the 1849 state constitutional convention "purposely" used the word "or" and did not intend to follow the federal language which reads "cruel and unusual punishment."

The language is contained in Section 6 of Article I. That this was not intended to bar the death penalty is crystal clear. For Section 13 of the same article reads in part: "No person shall be. . . .deprived of life, liberty or property without due process. . . ."

THAT IS THE EXACT wording of the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. It is repeated in the 14th Amendment. It is obvious the Eighth Amendment ban against "cruel and unusual punishment" was not written to outlaw the death penalty.

In 16w2 Giles Corey was pressed to death for refusing to plead guilty to charges of witchcraft. This occurred in the Massachusetts colony village of Salem. Nineteen others were put to death before this hysterical witch hunt was brought to a halt.

In recorded history people have been subjected to all of the pains and tortures that could be devised by sadistic men. Ears, tongues, hands and other body members have been severed. The crucifixion was used in Asia while in other parts of the world people were burned at the stake, disemboweled, had their heads twisted off, or had boiling lead poured over a shaven head until one's eyes popped out.

In England in 1645 Mother Lakeland was burned at the stake as a witch. John Ashton, convicted of treason in 1691, was sentenced to be drawn and quartered. But the English Bill of Rights in 1689 had outlawed "cruel and unusual punishment" and so Ashton escaped that fate.

IT IS FOR THESE reasons that the U.S. and California constituions contain the "cruel and unusual punishment" provision.

A constitution is the fundamental law of a state or nation. It is the absolute rule of action controlling all government. It can be changed only by the authority which established it. But changed it can be.

There was never any thought that a constitution would not be altered from time to time. Both the federal and state constitutions spell out procedures for this. The California constitution has had many changes and the federal constitution has been amended 26 times. The first 10 amendments were proposed in 1789, just two years after the convention adopted the original document. Those drafting the constitution in 1787 had no illusions about having produced a "perfect instrument." Benjamin Franklin, one of the nation's all-time wise men, said, "I agree to this constitution with all its faults. . . ."

WHEN THE HIGH courts read into the constitution interpretations not in harmony with the will of the citizens, it is time to amend the constitution.

There appears to be little doubt that the majority of Californians favor the death penalty for wanton murder. This must be the case for those who have sought to abolish it by legislation have vigorously opposed submitting the issue to the voters.

Governor Reagan, in calling for a constitutional amendment to overcome the court's ruling, declared: "If it goes unchallenged. . . this ruling could be a lethal blow to society's right to protect law abiding citizens and their families against violence and crime."

Fire Rating Refutes Claim For Department

I find it increasingly difficult to follow the "facts" Mr. Robert Simmons comes up with. In a recent radio broadcast and Independent-Journal article, Mr. Simmons is quoted as saying, "The Corte Madera Fire Department is now at the best level it has been within our town."

How is this possible? When Mr. Simmons took office the (fire insurance) rating was 5 and now 6.

Mr. Simmons are you misleading us? Somehow things just don't add up.

Citizen Offers Own Foreign Policy Proposal

Solution to the world's problems (maybe):

No entangling military alliances with any country.

If there is hunger and suffering anywhere in the world, alleviate the situation by supplying foodstuffs, medicines, etc., either as a gift or on long-term loans.

As soon as a shot is fired in a war between countries or in a civil dispute, all economic aid ceases.

Evacuate all American nationals, American businesses (oil, mining, hotels, etc.) take care of their own.

American shipping under foreign registry protect themselves.

I'm a hawk not a pacifist but it seems we are getting more involved in every way daily.

Fairfax Fire Dept. Prompt In Emergency

Comments should be made on virtues, not only on faults.

At a recent banquet, Feb. 11 of the Bell Telephone Co., about 50 guests at Rubini's in Fairfax witnessed a guest collapse of an apparent slight heart attack.

The Fairfax Fire Department was called, and within five minutes was on the scene, through a rear entrance, and gave professional aid with a minimum amount of confusion and great efficiency.

It is rewarding to know that we have a trained group available in a case of this type of emergency. Possibly they saved a life.

I am probably not the first to commend them but would like to add my name to the list.

Hats off to the Fairfax Fire Department!

Death Penalty Leads To Violence

What is happening to our civilization? When we finally are able to reach a state of enlightenment high enough to overthrow the archaic and inhumane death penalty, we find our politicians and supposed leaders trying to get us to practice murder and violence in our name once again. Do they ever want to see an end to this brutality that our lives have become? We all know violence begets violence and all they can do is to think up more and more violent ways to put people down. How long are we the people going to let this way of thinking continue? Are their jobs and the bureaucracies they create going to continue just for their benefit, no matter what it does to the quality and peacefulness of our lives?

Let your politicians know that they will not be elected if they continue trying to polorize us for their selfish interests.

Of Politicians, Welfare, And Misplaced Sympathy

Several recent articles in the I-J deserve comment:

1. Re appeals court upholds I-J libel suit dismissal. Obviously the appeals court is simply reaffirming the fact that when politicians speak there is no reason to listen because they are talking to hear themselves talk.

2. Re Marin acts on family welfare aid by appropriating $22,000 for welfare families losing state aid because 18-year-olds having been declared adults, giving the reason the supervisors felt a commitment to help those in school. Wanna bet no attempt will be made to direct funds only to families with 18-year-olds in school? Once more the public pays for a boondoggle!

3. Re Warden Nelson (San Quentin) letter to editor. He's absolutely right. Jackson has been eulogized, the slain and wounded guards ignored.

Possible Explanations Of Bank Check Order

After reading the I.J. forum in yesterday's (March 3) Independent Journal, I was somewhat surprised that not one of those questioned, in giving their opinion of the federal secret orders to our banks, mentioned the fact that our savings are insuredby our government. Who else would insure anything sight unseen, not knowing the value?

Speculation opens many avenues for thought, perhaps "Big Brother" is computerizing all of us as I was led to believe, after reading in the Independent Journal of April 1970, of efforts of our assemblyman, William T. Bagley to suppress information, garnered and compuerized by a private concern that would affect all of us — what ever happened to that bill? Perhaps an attempt is being made to locate and control certain funds, misdirected but entrusted to certain bureaucrats?

One more thought, a recent rumor of the devaluation of tha dollar in the near future may make information on deposits and withdrawals desirable to those responsible for the guaranteed insurance of our savings?

Anyone's guess is as good as mine at this point!

Intra-County Bus Schedule Unrealistic

I am a commuter within Marin County, I have been riding buses from Fairfax to Corte Madera and San Rafael for over 15 years. This new schedule put into effect on Feb. 27 is one of the worst schedules ever set up. Buses scheduled to leave Fairfax are allgwed five minutes to get to San Anselmo. This is hardly possible for a private car going down Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, much less a huge bus that has to make three or four stops along the way. Consequently on arrival in San Anselmo (a transfer point), all other buses have left due to the fact the bus from Fairfax is from five to 10 minutes late. Therefore, there is a wait of at least 20 to 30 minutes for the next bus. According to the schedule it is supposed to take 22 minutes to get from Fairfax to Corte Madera. Again this has been impossible and we have been anywhere from 13 to 15 minutes late, just barely getting to work on time.

According to the schedule for Route 28, it shows no bus leaving Fairfax between 9:40 a.m. and 4:10 p.m. during the week and none at all on Saturdays. On checking with the Golden Gate Transit office, they inform me there is a Route 23 bus that leaves Fairfax during these times but there is no printed schedule available.

I realize this bus service was put into effect to relieve traffic on the bridge but there certainly are a lot of us here in Marin County who commute within the county. Are they trying to take this service away from us?

No Betrayal Of Chiang Kai-shek In Recognition Of Realities

WASHINGTON — Let's cut through the blurred arguments that President Nixon gave up too much to get too little at the Peking summit.

Two questions need to be answered:

Is there a valid case to be made that the United States "abandoned" and "betrayed" Taiwan?

WHAT IS IMPORTANT is not to adjudicate the debate between the President and his conservative critics (Sen. Barry Goldwater is not one of them) but to try to set out candidly where things stand.

The charge that Nixon has "betrayed" Taiwan rests on the fact, as stated in the Peking communique, that the United States aims to "withdraw all its military forces" from Taiwan.

There are good answers that this is not a "betrayal."

Nearly all the U.S. forces on Taiwan are logistic, not combat.

They were put there primarily to service the American fighting forces in Vietnam; their withdrawal is in line with winding down the Vietnamese war.

The United States will determine the timing of their withdrawal; there is no withdrawal date.

IT IS STATED in the communique that these forces are to be withdrawn "as the tension in the area diminishes" or when a "peaceful settlement" between the People's Republic and Taiwan is reached.

This is another way of saying that they will be withdrawn when they are no longer needed.

Privately to the Chinese, publicly to the American people and in direct communication to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the President has affirmed that the United States is not stepping back from its treaty commitments to defend Taiwan if it is attacked.

All this is solid evidence that the United States is not abandoning Taiwan.

BUT THERE IS MORE to the matter than this.

It is true that nothing that was said or done by Nixon in Peking affected the future of Taiwan.

But the very decision to begin to normalize relations with the People's Republic of China does affect the future of Taiwan. And this decision was only one incident in a whole sequence which reflected the realities which had already developed.

The Nationalist government on Taiwan and the Communist government on the mainland both agreed that there is only one China, that the Formosan islands and the mainland are one country.

It is evident that the Nationalist government is not going to return to the mainland and overthrow the Mao Tse-tung regime.

The vote in the United Nations to seat Peking and unseat Taiwan simply confirmed the new realities which the United States staved off as long as possible.

PUT BLUNTLY, what I am saying is that Chiang lost the Chinese civil war and there was nothing the United States could do about it.

It is in the best interests of the United States and all Asia that President Nixon and Chou En-lai seek reconciliation.

I share the view of a very perceptive editorial in the Wall Street Journal which concludes that both China and the United States "got what they wanted and gave away very little, if anything."

Mother Church Losing Fight Against Atheism Of Soviets

ZAGORSK, U.S.S.R. — The uneven but brilliantly publicized struggle between Russian Jews and government prevents the state from legitimately claiming theological success, even these 54 years after the revolution.

By Soviet standards, such success would be a nation in which old-fashioned religion was confined to museums, where the words of Vladimir Ilyich Lenin were the only gospel and the deeds of heroic cosmonauts the utmost living example. Not only the Jews, but other minorities — the evangelistic sects, in some areas the Catholics and Moslems —still persist against this ideal. But in the long campaign against their main competition, the mother church of Russia, Lenin's apostles have exceeded their norms.

The evidence on the short trip from Moscow to this ancient seat of the Russian Orthodox Church is not new. It was plentiful a decade ago. Now there is more of it.

HEADING NORTH out Prospekt Mira (Peace Avenue), you see the sky pierced by a television tower with restaurant halfway up, a structure the designers went to some trouble to make just higher than the Empire State Building. Near it is the monument to Russia's Space Age heroes, a high ascending rocket beside a mall where Gagarin, Tereshkova and the other firsts in Soviet space exploration are memorialized by busts much bigger than life.

The heavy traffic zizzes through the coat of mud left by melting snow as the highway leads into the countryside between row beyond row of new apartment developments.

Ten years ago, sleeping was tough along the inner city ring boulevard because of the trucks pounding over it all night en route through the capital. Now through trucks take the outer ring, a beltway that marks the expanded city limits. Truck traffic on the arteries is light until it converges onto them from the ring. From there it is bumper to tailgate, moving 15 miles an hour, then stopping, moving, halting, with the drivers using every break to mop their gucky windshields.

Such progress gives you more time than you need to note the omnipresent 10-foot signs and building-long banners crying long live the glorious Soviet people, builders of communism and all that. And then gradually the trucks thin away and you are in the country, the motherland.

THE VILLAGES come and go, each dominated by its domed church. At roadside the community pumps seem fewer, but remain, still yielding to women carrying yokes of buckets across their shoulders. Babuskas pull their grandchildren after them on miniature sleds. The old log houses look warm from the outside, even those that lean with the wind. Their carved curlicue window frames and bright painted colors carry on the ageless resistance to sameness and the grayness of winter. Obviously military installations loom up, and you prudently avert your eyes until past.

The monastery of Zagorsk strikes you first as you head down a long slope. The blue domes of its central cathedral, speckled with gold stars, stand out against the dark clouds. The Orthodox crosses atop them give away their age by the crescent beneath the crossbars, symbolizing the church's supremacy over Mohammedanism, the faith of long-ago invaders.

Through the thick fortress walls, waiting in line for holy water from a tap, crossing themselves as they pass the endlessly ornate churches, cathedrals and bell towers, the faithful come together here. In the Troitsky (Trinity) chapel, a priest sings as he kneels at the foot of the coffin of an ancient saint. The worshippers sing after him, theirvoices like a ers sing after him, their voices like a they wait their turn to kiss the coffin and move on. There beneath walls of icons painted by Russias's greatest masters, the services go on each day, and with a stubbornness that seems to look as far forward as back.

BUT BY QUICK estimate, the worshipers are about 90 per cent women. And they are about 95 per cent above 50 years old. It is in these facts that the success of the campaign of official atheism becomes clear. Youth has been tempted, led, driven away from the church.

Ten years ago, actually operating inside this monastery, there was a red-bannered agitpunkt (literally, agitation point) purveying anti-religious literature. Now it is gone, and not likely because its sponsors belatedly realized how jarring it was in this particular setting. It is gone because it simply was not needed any more.

Volunteer Group Has Answers To Questions About Welfare

Nearly everyone has a question or two to ask about the county's welfare program.

How much does it cost? How many families does it help and for how long? What kind of people receive aid? Where do they come from? Who qualifies for food stamps?

In the past, the problem hasn't been coming up with questions, but rather getting the answers, as just about anyone who has tried can verify.

The Department of Public Social Services is a large department (232 employes) broken down into the usual divisions, sections, units and areas. Unless you reached Director Betty Presley or one of her assistant directors, you could spend frustrating hours bouncing from section to unit seeking an answer.

HOWEVER, A MOVE is on to change all that.

The public information subcommittee of the Marin County Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee has launched a pilot program to answer all questions which do not infringe on laws protecting recipients' privacy.

According to subcommittee chairman Robert R. Beebe, who volunteers his time as kind of a public relations man for the welfare department, the pilot project will operate for a couple of months before a decision is made whether to make it a permanent thing.

"There is a lot of misinformation circulated on public assistance programs and we hope to correct some of it," he said.

Beebe said his group knows where and how to find the answers without disrupting the normal operation of the department.

"We intend to find and give accurate answers to any question on welfare," he said, adding, however, that questions related to specific persons or families cannot be answered by law.

IN ANSWER to some questions posed above, Beebe noted that the county has about 5,000 persons in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children category. Another 1,200 are on old age security, 750 on aid to totally disabled, and 42 on aid to the blind.

The number of general relief cases — supported entirely by the county taxpayer — is one Beebe is researching.

The average length f time a recipient is on AFDC, for instance, is 25 months, he said.

As to eligibility for food stamps, Beebe and his subcommittee said eligibility is judged by standards set by the Department of Agriculture, which runs the program.

Thus, low income families, whether on welfare or not, are eligible if they come under those standards.

Exactly what those standards are you can find out by writing the information subcommittee, care of the Family and Children's Services Committee at P.O. Box 4160, Civic Center Branch, San Rafael.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Teacher Leaders Quick To Write Off Contracting

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Performance contracting in schools has been "proved a failure," according to leaders of both the principal teacher unions. The result may be that the scheme will not get a trial in select California school districts, as uthorized last year by the Legislature.

The proof cited by David Selden, president of the American Federation of Teachers, and Donald Morrison, president of the National Education Association, is a preliminary report by the Office of Economic Opportunity, which underwrite performance contracts for teaching reading and mathematics in 18 poverty area school districts.

SIX COMPANIES received the OEO contracts, under terms which required them to bring below-average pupils up to specified accomplishment levels or forfeit part of their payment.

In this preliminary report, OEO said the 13,000 pupils covered by the contracts and 10,000 others in control groups in the same or similar districts "did equally poorly in terms of achievement gains."

This was promptly cited by Selden and Morrison as proving the failure of performance contracting. Others quickly joined in their conclusion. Arnold B. Sawislak of United Press International wrote a column in which he said:

"By spending about $5 million, the OEO may have saved taxpayers many times that amount and avoided a waste of vital time in the search for a better way in remedial schooling."

The eagerness to write off performance contracting because of a report that it did no better than the unspecified efforts of the control group schools is interesting and highly indicative.

IT SHOULD BE noted that the OEO preliminary report (the final report is yet to come) did not suggest that the performance contractors did a worse job than the regular school people. It said that, on the average, they did no better.

Schools throughout California and the United States have spent quite a few millions of dollars in recent years on redesigned buildings to provide "open classrooms" and nongraded instruction.

There is no evidence that this has produced any improvement in the pupils' accomplishment. But the educator organizations have not written it off as therefore being proved a failure. They are still boosting for it.

Additional money is being spent for off-campus programs and "alternative schools" which are supposed to provide cross-discipline learning. There is no evidence that these result in greater student progress; what little evidence is so far available tends to indicate the contrary. But, far from being therefore written off as failures, they are hailed as the hope of the future.

Beginning about 1930, the schools abandoned phonetic teaching of reading in favor of the word recognition or "look-say" method. Dozens of subsequent studies showed it did not work. But the schools still cling to it after four decades, only grudgingly restoring some phonics as an alternate method.

Untold millions of taxpayers' money have been spent to reduce class sizes in the public schools. Again, surveys have shown no evidence that this improved pupil learning. But any attempt to increase classes by even three of four pupils is fought tooth-and-nail by the same teacher unions that are so quick to write off performance contracting as having "proved a failure" — on the basis of a preliminary report from the OEO.

THE OFFICE of Economic Opportunity has not been the only agency sponsoring performance contracting. Its contractors probably were handicapped by the resentment of school personnel against OEO's intrusion into education.

Many private schools and some public school districts have reported success with performance contracts. But these are not mentioned by AFT's Selden and NEA's Morrison.

Strange, isn't it, that teacher union leaders and other educators would be so quick to write off one experiment yet so loathe to abandon others which have produced less evidence of success? Not so strange, perhaps, when it is remembered that the performance contractors use many non-credentialled personnel in the classrooms — a threat to the monopoly of the teacher unions.

Duncan Jail Sentence Upheld

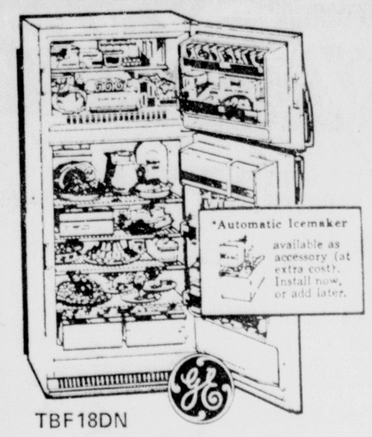

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Ninth U.S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the jail sentence of Karen Duncan, a former Novato resident, for refusing to answer federal grand jury questions about an alleged conspiracy of young radicals to possess explosives in Arizona.

The young woman, who was sentenced for the life of the grand jury or until she answers, contended she should not have been subpoenaed because her phone had been tapped by the FBI.

"We have several times held the witness before a grand jury has no standing to raise this question," a three-judge panel said.

The wiretap question is now pending before the U.S. Supreme Court, and the panel said "unless that court decides otherwise, we consider ourselves bound by our prior decisions."

IF GOOD FOOD is your strong suit as a hostess, you'll want to serve scallops au gratin at your next luncheon card party. This creamy combination of scallops, mushrooms and green onions crowned with golden cheddar cheese makes a tasty topping for buttered English muffins and tomato slices with asparagus vinaigrette as a tangy accompaniment.

SCALLOPS AU GRATIN

Something For Card Party

If a card party luncheon is on your agenda, serve scallops au gratin and you'll hold the winning hand. This seafood casserole is not only economical, it's easy to prepare and convenient to serve.

Scallops are a flavorful, meaty shellfish and the frozen variety are convenient to use. In this recipe, frozen scallops, canned sliced mushrooms and chopped green onion are baked in a light white sauce flavored with lemon, garlic and nutmeg. An au gratin topping of shredded cheddar cheese and bread crumbs and a sprinkling of paprika complete this one-dish meal.

Serve scallops au gratin over buttered toasted English muffin halves topped with warm tomato slices. A side dish of asparagus vinaigrette with chopped hard-cooked egg garnish makes a nice contrast to this seafood entree and rounds out a light but nourishing menu right for mid-day dining.

SCALLOPS AU GRATIN

- 2 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup all-purpose flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 package (12 oz.) frozen scallops, thawed and drained
- 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
- ¼ cup chopped green onion
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
- Paprika
- English muffin halves, buttered and toasted
- tomato slices

In a large skillet melt butter. Blend in flour. Cook over low heat until mixture is smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in milk. Add scallops, mushrooms with liquid, onion, lemon peel, garlic powder and nutmeg. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture bubbles and thickens (about five minutes). Turn into one-quart buttered baking dish. Combine cheese and bread crumbs. Sprinkle over all. Garnish with paprika.

Bake in preheated 325-degree oven, 20 minutes or until mixture bubbles. To serve, top each English muffin half with a slice of tomato; spoon over scallop mixture. Makes four servings.

CRUNCHY GRANOLA by any name would taste as sweet — and might even be more pleasing to your family mixed to your own proportions with your own choice of grains, nuts and seeds. For natural sweetness and a few chewy morsels to go with the crunch, use a lavish hand in adding seedless raisins.

The Universal Appeal Of Apples

By PHYLLIS HANES
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

Ask anyone who is eating an apple, "What's so great about apples?" and the reply will probably be, "They're great — I just like them, that's all."

There is something about an apple that is universally appealing. people eat apples primarily for sheer enjoyment. And that's probably one of the reasons why more than 145 million bushels are produced in the United States each year.

This amount is nearly one-third of the world's total, for apples are popular in Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, Israel, and many other nations, too.

Here in the U.S. they're not only popular eaten "out of hand." They're also baked, stewed, fried, pickled, spiced, curried, jellied, made into sauces and cakes, eaten raw with cheese or in salads and munched for snacks.

NEARLY ONE-HALF of the apple crop in America each year is processed into convenient products: apple cider, apple juice, canned and frozen pie, sliced apples, apple-pie filling, whole baked apples, apple butter, applesauce and several others.

Today fresh apples are available for a much longer period than they were just a few years ago. Controlled-atmosphere storage plants in the U.S. and in Canada, effectivaly stretch the apple season from September into May and June of the following spring and summer.

Out of the mammoth crop of apples grown in the U.S. there are from seven to a dozen varieties that are most popular and are used fresh and for year-round cookery. Here are some of the varieties that will help you choose for your favorite apple recipes:

McINTOSH (October to June) — Good raw and for general cooking, crisp, juicy; red and green to red in color; medium size; moderately tart; the most aromatic of all U.S. apple varieties; tender and quick cooking.

CORTLAND (October to June) — Good raw and for all cooking, especially sauce; a favorite for salads (it does not discolor quickly when cut); medium to dark red; small to medium; slightly tart; tender; fragrant.

RED DELICIOUS (October to July) — The most popular eating out-of-hand variety; best fresh, in salads, fruit cocktails, and with cheese; not generally used for cooking; light red with darker stripes to solid red; has five ridges on blossom end; medium to large in size; sweet and fragrant.

GOLDEN DELICIOUS (October to June) — Very good raw, particularly in salads as cut surfaces do not darken rapidly; golden yellow; medium to large; sweet; tender.

ROME BEAUTY (November to May) — Excellent for baking whole as it holds its shape well when cooked; also good for general cooking; red mingled with yellow to solid red; large to extra large; mildly tart.

BALDWIN (November to May) —Good for general cooking and eating raw; red,mottled with bright red; small to medium; tart; hard.

WEALTHY (October to November) — Good raw and for general cooking, especially for jellies; medium red; small to medium; tart; hard.

If you have done a lot of apple cooking, you have undoubtedly used or tasted some of the hundreds of recipes created and tested by Demetria Taylor, New York food editor and consultant.

She has charge of the Apple Kitchen, a real kitchen in an attractive old, New York brownstone, in midtown Manhattan.

There for 20 years or more she and her staff have tested and retested literally hundreds of apple recipes and serving suggestions for the International Apple Institute, composed of all segments of the apple industry of the United States and Canada.

Demetria Taylor was a member of the Good Housekeeping Institute for many years, she was head of the kitchens at McCall's magazine, and she's food editor of Parade magazine under the name of Beth Merriman.

The most recent Demetria Taylor book is a revised edition of "The Apple Kitchen Cookbook," published by Popular Library, New York ($5.95). Here is one of her recipes, a light and airy apple dessert that should be just the thing after a hearty, winter dinner.

FRESH APPLE SNOW

- 12 cups grated raw apples
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon vanilla
- 4 egg whites

Combine apples, lemon juice and two tablespoons of the sugar. Add nutmeg, salt, vanilla. Chill. Drain thoroughly. Beat egg whites to soft peaks. Add remaining four tablespoons sugar gradually, beating until stiff and glossy. Fold apple mixture gently but thoroughly into egg whites. Garnish with grated unsweetened chocolate if desired, or serve with a custard sauce. Serves six.

Here's a recipe for an apple cake with Washington golden delicious apples suggested as a preferred variety and with sour cream and walnuts for added richness.

APPLE SWIRL CAKE

- 1 cup finely chopped walnuts
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup golden delicious apples, pared, cored, grated to measure
- ¾ cup dairy sour cream
- 1½ cups sliced golden delicious apples
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Combine walnuts and sugar and set aside. Cream butter and one cup sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine remaining dry ingredients, add to creamed mixture alternately with grated apple and sour cream, beating until well blended. Spoon half the batter into a well-greased nine-inch tube pan. Sprinkle with all but two tablespoons of walnut mixture. Cover with remaining batter. Arrange apple slices on top of batter. Sprinkle with remaining walnut mixture, dot with one tablespoon butter. Bake at 375 degrees for 50 minutes or until done. Cool, then remove from pan. Serves 12.

BAKED PORK CHOPS

- 6 thick pork chops
- Salt and pepper
- Apple juice
- 1 20-ounce can pie-sliced apples
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves

Brown pork chops on both sides in their own fat. Place in baking dish and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add enough apple juice to cover chops. Cover pan; bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Top with drained apple slices; sprinkle with spices. Add syrup from can. Return to oven uncovered. Bake 20 minutes longer. Makes six servings.

THIS APPLE swirl cake is one of many recipes that can be made most of the year with fresh apples. Apples are available more months than ever because of controlled-atmosphere cold storage.

Crunchy Granola Proving To Be Top Family Treat

It may be crunchy granola to the rest of the world, but to your family it can be that "swell cereal that Mom makes."

Originally known as Swiss muesli, this crunchy, healthful nut, seed and fruit mixture need not be restricted to ready-prepared products. It's easy and economical to make your own, and let your individuality shine through.

Shop the specialty stores that offer whole grain cereals in large open sacks. Scoop out your favorites and carry them home to match and mix with seeds, nuts and healthful helpings of raisins from the San Joaquin Valley.

Look for wheat, rye or barley flakes. Try unbleached cornmeal, nut-like wheat germ, or bits of hard, crunchy kasha. Stir in sesame seeds, sunflower seeds, nuts of any kind, or all kinds and, for sweetness, add honey and seedless raisins.

It doesn't seem to matter whether you measure it all out carefully, toss together a handful of this and a cup of that until you have the blend that your family likes best.

Call it crunchy granola or call it the specialty of the house. The blend of raisins, honey, seeds, grains and nuts topped with milk or orange juice, is a delicious and healthful way to start the day — or fill those snack gaps any time —any day.

CRUNCHY RAISIN GRANOLA

- *1 cup each unbleached cornmeal, buckwheat groats (kasha) and wheat germ
- 5 cups four-grain cereal mix (wheat, oat, rye and barley flakes)
- 1 cup each cashews, peanuts, sunflower seeds
- 2 cups California seedless raisins
- ½ cup oil
- ½ cup honey

Preheat oven to 250 degrees. Lightly brown grains in the oven or on top of the stove in a pan. Add nuts and raisins. Mix in oil. Warm honey and pour over ingredients on large baking sheet, coating well. Bake one hour, stirring occasionally. Store in a tightly covered jar or cannister.

*Or use a total of 3 cups of any combination of these.

These Scrambled Eggs Different

A "western" type lunch place near New York's Radio City specializes in scrambled eggs that are different.

Eggs are served fluffily high, and from pan to palate they stay that way. What does it is the bit of sugar the chefs add. Anyone can, by beating ⅛ teaspoon sugar, to stabilize the egg foam, with two slightly beaten eggs, two tablespoons milk, and ⅛ teaspoon salt per serving.

Turn into pan in which two teaspoons butter have been melted, then scramble on a low heat.

A Tip For Roast Beef Leftovers

Meat leftovers are valued by the cook who views them as the makings of an easy yet satisfying meal. Putting cooked zeef to good use is a matter of having an appropriate recipe on file.

BEEF ENCORE

1 pound cooked sirloin tip or rump, cut in ¾ to 1-inch cubes
2 tablespoons spaghetti sauce mix from envelope
1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
½ cup water
2 packages (9 ounces each) frozen Italian green beans, cooked and drained
4 ounces noodles, cooked
¼ cup Parmesan cheese

Comtine spaghetti sauce mix, tomato sauce and water in pan. Cook over low heat five minutes. Add beef cubes and cooked beans. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally for 12 to 15 minutes or until beef is heated through. Serve on cooked noodles. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese over top. Four to five servings.

Cake Filling That Will Bring Cheers

Double chocolate is a top flavor favorite at any soda fountain. It will bring cheers at dessert time at home, too, especially when the double chocolate means a chocolate cake with a rich fudge filling.

The filing is, of course, just as good spread between layers of any yellow or white vanilla flavored cake.

The variety of cake to be served is a matter of family preference, but this fudge filling recipe is one that you will want to add to your recipe collection. It is rich and dark chocolate flavor and thickened delicately with corn starch to just the right degree of smooth creaminess.

FUDGE CAKE FILLING

2 ounces unsweetened chocolate
¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoons corn starch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup water
3 tablespoons margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate in saucepan over low heat. Remove from heat. Mix together sugar, corn starch and salt. Stir into melted chocolate. With a spoon, gradually blend in water. Stirring constantly, bring to a boil and boil one minute over medium heat. Remove from heat. Stir in margarine and vanilla. Chill.

Sandwiches In A Soup Sauce

Soup sauced sandwiches take about 20 minutes in a 375-degree oven. Open a can of condensed soup, thin with milk (about I cup) and pour over any favorite filling tucked into two slices of toasted enriched bread in baking dish.

Tomato soup with sliced franks and cheese; cream of celery with tuna salad sandwiches; cream of mushroom over meat loaf sandwiches are but a few tasty combos.

Tightly Wrapped

Keep hard cheese in the refrigerator. Wrap it tightly to keep out air, and trim away any mold that forms on the surface of the cheese before use. Store soft cheeses in tightly covered containers in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Use cottage cheese within three to five days and others within two weeks.

Good Food Buy

On a budget? Milk is a good food buy. No other food offers as much nourishment for your family. It is a source of calcium and protein and contains vitamin A and riboflavin. When fortified it provides vitamin D.

League Show's 'Sold Out' Sign

By MOLLY MARIN

Both the luncheon and dinner shows of the annual fashion show sponsored by the Junior League have been sold out, Junior League members report. Shows will be March 17 at the new St. Francis Hotel grand ballroom at noon and again at 6:30 p.m.

A group of Marin members will be among the models annual gala fund raiser. Funds are used for league projects such as the Marin Audubon Canyon Ranch docent-guide program.

THE PLANNED Parenthood office in San Rafael was the unusual setting for a baby shower Thursday for Mrs. Henry Mack of Mill Valley. Ava Mack is a staff clinic nurse for Planned Parenthood, and staff and volunteers joined in on the shower. Mr. and Mrs. Mack are expecting their first child.

CELEBRATING THE birth of their first grandchild are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frost of Belvedere. The baby boy, named Kenneth Frost III, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frost Jr. of El Cerrito. Maternal grandparents of the baby are Mr.and Mrs. Woodrow Bailey of Vallejo.

THE SAUSALITO ferry boat is becoming an increasingly popular place for weddings. The latest couple to repeat their vows aboard are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan (Lynda Pryor) of San Francisco, who met aboard the Tiburon ferry four years ago. They were married aboard the Sausalito boat Sunday by the Rev. Arthur Bravo of Old Catholic Church, San Francisco, with some 25 friends and relatives attending. The marriage ceremony took place a few minutes off shore from the Ferry building dock and a reception began aboard.

To be wed

Janice Grady Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Gorge J. Grady of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter Janice Grady to Irvin J. Mettler of Bakersfield.

She is the sister of John, Paul, Thomas and JoAnn Grady and the granddaughter of Mrs. Alma Grady of San Rafael. Janice is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and is attending the University of California at Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mettler of Bakersfield are parents of the future bridegroom. Irvin's brothers and sister are Neal and Lewis Mettler and Mrs. Jon Marshall.

Irving is a graduate of North Bakersfield High School and U.C. at Davis.

The couple is planning to be married Sept. 9.

Georgia Crawford To Be Wed

Georgia Ann Crawford and James Peter Caiati, both of San Anselmo, are planning to be married June 18 at St. Rita's Catholic Church in Fairfax.

The couple's engagement has been announced by the future bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crawford of San Anselmo.

Neaomi Crawford is the future bride's sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Davis of Alameda are her local grandparents. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. Georgia is employed by Marin Manor Retirement Home in San Rafael.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Caiati and the brother of Mary Ann and Helen Caiati, all of San Anselmo. He is also a graduate of Drake High School. The future bridegroom is employed by Caiati and Sons, Diamond Setters in San Francisco.

JEANNE DAWSON
May vows set

San Rafael Couple Set Wedding Date

The engagement of Jeanne Ellen Dawson to Frederick G. Ross Jr. has been announced. Both are San Rafael residents.

Jeanne is the daughter of Mrs. Wildrid T. Dawson of San Rafael and the late Mr. Dawson, and she is the sister of Tom Dawson of San Rafael.

She is a graduate of Terra Linda High School and the College of Marin. She is employed with the California State Automobile Association in San Francisco.

Frederick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Ross of San Rafael and the brother of Robert and Donna Ross, both of San Rafael. He also is a Terra Linda High School and College of Marin graduate and attended John O'Connell Trade School in San Francisco. He is now a student at City College of San Francisco and is employed as an electrician with Enterprise Electric in San Francisco.

Both Jeanne and Frederick skate competitively for the U.S. Amateur Roller Skating Association.

They plan to be married on May 6.

Sunny Hills Unit Elects New Officers

The new president of Sunny Hills Strawberry Point Guild one is Mrs. Henry Allnutt of Tiburon.

Wife of a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. accountant, Mrs. Allnutt is a native of Mansfield, Ohio, where she was graduated from Mansfield Senior High School. Her interests are knitting, sewing and mystery books. She is recording secretary for Omicron Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The new Sunny Hills guild president has been a member five years, serving as vice president, co-chairman and then chairman of the Grape Festival booth.

The organization's purpose is to raise money for the support of Sunny Hills Home for emotionally disturbed teen-agers, she says. Any Marin County resident may join.

Mrs. Allnutt plans a welcome party for new members and their husbands on March 19, a booth of donated items at the American Field Service Flea Market Sale and Boutique in September at Tamalpais High School, an October new members luncheon and a candy lei booth at the Oct. 7 Grape Festival.

MRS. HENRY ALLNUTT
Sunny Hills president

Assisting the new president will be Mmes. John Lee, vice president; James Coyle, secretary; David Hogue, treasurer; Stanley Gallagher, publicity; James Andrews, hospitality; Richard Stephens, Bargain Box; Jorgen Larsen, Grape Festival booth chairman; Robert Long, Grape Festival co-chairman and Robert Victory, social chairman.

Lynne Beghetti Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Beghetti of Corte Madera have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lynne Joann Beghetti, to Michael John Murphy of Corte Madera.

The couple plans to be married in August.

Lynne is a Redwood High School and College of Marin graduate. She is an assistant department manager with Saks Fifth Avenue in San Francisco.

Michael is the son of Dermot J. Murphy of La Habra and the late Mrs. Murphy, and he is the brother of Patrick C. M. Murphy of La Habra. He was graduated from La Habra High School and California State Polytechnic College. He is employed with the Army Corps of Engineers.

Sandwich Tips

Keep sandwiches or sandwich fillings in the refrigerator until served. Covering sandwiches with a damp cloth is not recommended, since bacteria grow extremely well under such circumstances. Sandwiches should not be made the night before because cooked meat next to damp bread makes an excellent breeding place for bacteria.

Helter-Skelter Job Of A Commercial Film Producer

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Snow-capped peaks of Aspen, Colo, one week, bustling streets of Los Angeles the next, and the wind-swept terrain of eastern Oklahoma after that might sound like a madcap travel agent's idea for a "See America" campaign.

But for Dorothy Stanley of Los Angeles, it's an average, hectic, hair-pulling part of her job as a commercial film producer, seeking background scenery for television commercials.

"A lot of our friends kind of glare at me with a jealous glint when I tell them where I've been or where I'm going," she said during a visit to Tulsa. "But if they only knew!"

Knowing is seeing. And knowing that Mrs. Stanley's day begins at 5 a.m. and usually isn't over until near midnight, makes her itinerary much less attractive than it might seem at first glance.

AS CREW supervisor, some of Mrs. Stanley's duties include: arranging the filming schedule; obtaining the talent (people) to be used in the film; familiarizing them with their script if any, and trying to convince them not to speak if there isn't a script; remembering from day to day the exact clothing, hair style, rings and trinkets of those being filmed—even to the point of knowing what buttons were fastened and what weren't, is only part of her daily routine.

"Listen, I've gotten to where I can remember what kind of shirt, with how many buttons and what kind of tie, a man was wearing yesterday," she said, "but if he had given me a million dollars, I probably wouldn't be able to remember his name."

And the travel isn't all that the travel brochures might have you believe.

"We were supposed to go to Aspen for a week of filming and everyone at home was extremely jealous," she said. "But you wouldn't believe that trip!

"When we got to Aspen, there wasn't enough snow to film the scene, so we went by tractor higher into the mountains, to a quaint little lodge."

WITHIN HOURS of their arrival at the lodge, heavy snow began falling. Then the water supply pipe broke. Travel was impossible and no water.

"For the first two or three days we used Coke and Pepsi to brush our teeth," she said. "And we just didn't bathe. But after the third day that became unbearable. A sight I'll never forget was our entire crew, in long underwear, wading around in the heated swimming pool. We had to do something!"

Mrs. Stanley was in Tulsa filming a commercial for gasoline. The script was prepared in St. Louis and filmed by a Los Angeles crew.

The weather wasn't much better than it had been earlier in Aspen.

"Where else but Tulsa do you wear ski apparel and underwear at 6 a.m. —at zero weather, and wish you had a bathing suit at 4 p.m.—at 65 degrees, in the same day?"

Despite the pace, Mrs. Stanley said she wouldn't give it up for the world.

"I know that I'd die if all I had to do was take care of a house, cook, sew and clean," she said.

She does that on her off-days between jobs.

Check For Fit

When trying on a new bra, check for fit. Be sure it stays close to your body, that there are no gaps between the cups. If the breasts are forced toward the sides or center the cup is too small.

Bay Lecture Series Aimed At Women

A free lecture series of interest to Bay Area women is opening at Mills College and will continue weekly at 4 p.m. Wednesdays in Lucie Stern Hall on the Oakland campus.

Speakers and their topics will be:

"The influence of Self-Concept on Women's Aspirations," by Dr. Jean Blumen, assistant professor of sociology at Stanford University, March 15.

"Black Liberation — Women's Liberation — Friends or Foes?" by Aileen Hernandez, past president of the National Organization for Women, April 5.

"Radical Psychiatry and Women," by Berkeley therapist Hogie Wycoff, Wednesday, April 19.

"Women: The Silenced Majority," by Dr. Kristen Amundsen, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Sacramento State College, April 26. Dr. Amundsen has just published a book on the subject.

"Three Stages of Feminist Consciousness," by Dr. Arlie Hochschild, Assistant Professor of Sociology at the University of California at Berkeley, May 3.

"The Politics of Rape," by Susan Griffin, poet, writer and college English teacher, May 10.

Marin Woman's Stitchery The Rage In Family Circle

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Needlework designs that are part of the secret of making six beautiful dresses from one simple pattern are some of the latest work of Charlotte Patera, an artist in stitchery.

The dresses, including one on the cover, are a special feature in the March issue of Family Circle magazine.

Having work reproduced in magazines is nothing new for the Mill Valley housewife (Mrs. Charles Patera), whose home is filled with spectacular examples of her work in every kind of needlework.

HER WORK has appeared in periodicals such as Needle and Craft, a special issue put out by The Ladies Home Journal, Good Housekeeping, The American Home and Better Homes and Gardens.

"The article in Family Circle,'" she explained, "grew out of the editor seeing some of my own clothes that I had made and trimmed with stitchery. I was asked to send some of my dresses to New York.

"Nothing came of that," she said, "but a year later I was commissioned to create the designs for various dress patterns. The editor picked the ones that were best adapted to the dresses described and pictured in Family Circle."

Titled "Beautiful Variations on a Theme: Six Dresses from One Pattern," the article describes them as the kind that usually are found only in expensive boutiques. They are all made from Simplicity pattern No. 9602, which comes in sizes 8 to 16.

BASIC VARIATIONS are achieved by the use of different fabrics and colors and by changing the hem length, sleeves and necklines, but the really distinctively different touches are in the needlework. This includes needlepoint, machine applique, reverse applique, embroidery, re-embroidery and ribbon trim.

Charlotte received her training in design during two years at the Central Academy of Commercial Art in Cincinnati, Ohio, but she developed her own needlework techniques.

"One of the most creative aspects of stitchery," she explained, "is that it is creative and not limited to following stamped designs." She does, however, sell her designs to makers of embroidery kits.

She currently is working on things for the magazine Christmas Ideas and for the December issue of Better Homes and Gardens, and will have projects in the spring issues of Woman's Day.

THE ELEGANT dress of white linen is one of the six dresses created from the same pattern and made distinctive with the stitchery designs of Mill Valley's Charlotte Patera. The dress, embroidered with a stream of pink hearts and flowers cascading down the front of the skirt and spilling over the slim sleeves, is pictured on the cover of the March issue of Family Circle magazine.

CHARLOTTE, WHO started stitchery as a hobby in 1965, also does freelance work in graphic art and package design for Walter Landor Associates in San Francisco. Her husband, an architectural engineer with Bechtel Corp., has framed many pictures in their home which she has created using various techniques of stitchery.

Her work has been exhibited in shows and art festivals. Several years ago she had some pieces accepted for the Pasadena Art Museum show "California Ten," featuring work of California craftsmen.

Her stitchery has been displayed in banks and libraries, the Northlite Gallery in San Francisco, Genesis Gallery in Mill Valley, and she will soon have work exhibited at the Tamalpais Retirement Residence in Greenbrae.

June Wedding Plans Announced

The engagement of Maxine Roush of San Rafael to Bill Sauber of San Geronimo has been announced. They plan to be married June 18.

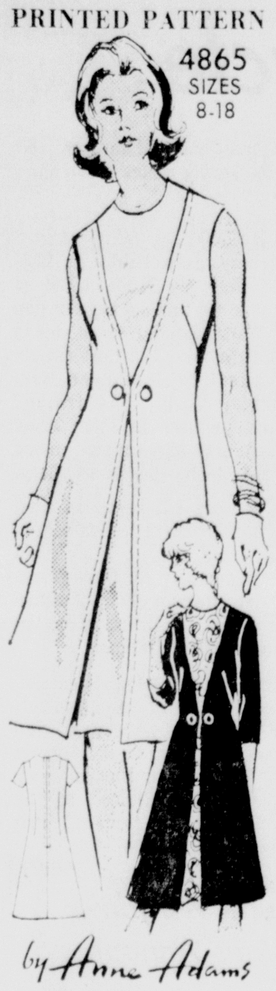

Maxine, who is the daughter of Mrs. Mildred Roush of Citrus Heights,is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the College of Marin and San Francisco State College. She is employed in San Rafael with Cal's Steak House.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Sauber of Tokyo, Japan, formerly of Novato, are Bill's parents. He is the brother of Kathleen Sauber of Berkeley, Mary Lou Sauber of San Rafael, Michael Sauber of Vandenberg Air Force Base and Mrs. David Arnold of Nashville, Tenn.

A graduate of Novato High School, Bill is a student at the College of Marin.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

If Divorce Is The Best Thing, Take The Plunge For Happiness

DEAR HELEN:

I've been married 12 years, and for at least half of them, I haven't loved my husband, though I don't hate him yet. We never had a good marriage (both of us were too young for such a decision), but I've tried to suppress my feelings and put on a good show — for the children, the world, and sometimes I guess I even fool my husband.

But I wonder whether living this way is more hurt to all of us than a quick, clean divorce? I constantly think that's what I'll get when the kids are grown, but then it will be too late for both him and me to start over. Don't suggest a counselor —we tried that and it failed.

We hardly ever fight any more. Rarely even argue. But we don't talk about anything vital either. He just broods or makes snide remarks or barks at the kids — and I shrug and try to cover for him.

I never wanted to be the dominant figure, but he's pushed me into it. On one hand, I feel like my husband's mother and, on the other, he treats me like a child, wanting me to ask permission for every little thing. If the children come to me for a decision he resents it, but they know they'll get an automatic "No," with all kinds of self-pitying complaints if they approach him.

He resents me and belittles me — probably because he senses I don't care about him. As you once said, Helen, two mismatched people can be poison for each other, where if they had different mates, they might become really great humans.

I find myself deliberately baiting him (then lapsing into protective silence) as though to make him want to be rid of me. We separated once for a month, and it was the loveliest time of our lives. The children and I felt so much peace and enjoyed so many things together — but all the while I felt very guilty. Am I being selfish? — CONSIDERING DIVORCE

DEAR C.D.:

When two people have grown as far apart as you describe, the greatest selfishness, it seems to me, would be in staying together for the sake of appearances, finances, "the children," or just plain lethargy.

A bad marriage brings out the worst in each partner — and the children often suffer the greatest injureis. If you're "constantly thinking of divorce," then for heaven's sake — say it. Get your feelings out in the open where you both can deal with them and, if you can't make a radical change for the better, then part now while there's a chance for a better future. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About six years ago a wife wrote you a very touching letter about her mis-marriage, how she'd tried to make a go of it, but in spite of herself had fallen in love with a man who had everything her husband lacked — kindness, empathy, love for her children, honesty... You surprised advice-column buffs by understanding her and intimating it wasn't always best to say with a doomed marriage — even though there wasn't any outright cruelty involved. At that time "lovelorn" columns were so stereotyped that your comments created shock waves. Thank goodness you've helped open them up!

We're wondering: did you ever hear from this woman again? Did she choose duty over happiness? As I recall, you told her that her husband might be as unhappy as she, but trying to make the best of a bad alliance for the same reasons she was — the children, unwillingness to admit failure, social life.

Any developments? — INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED:

Yes, the unhappy and tempted wife wrote to me last about two years ago. She was still with her husband, still unhappy, still resisting temptation — and still in love with the other man who "waits but doesn't push."

She and her husband had involved themselves in so many civic and business affairs that they scarcely spoke of personal things. She said, "I guess it's better this way." But I wonder... If I hear from her again after this column is published, I'll let my readers know the outcome, six years later. — H.

Businesses Begin To Help Consumers

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — As consumers know well, business firms often do too little and say too much about their concern for consumers.

In such a murky atmosphere the latest offering of the chamber of commerce is like a breath of fresh air. It comes in the form of a 38-page booklet entitled "Company Leadership in Consumer Affairs: Fulfilling Consumer Rights."

The publication is designed for both business persons and consumers. It shows business executives what 39 firms and associations are doing to help solve problems created by products and services on today's complex market. The programs are considered models for other firms to follow.

Private citizens can benefit from the descriptions of what specific services are available from the companies listed. The compilation is not meant to be the complete story about all firms. But by showing what some leading firms are doing, it may inspire others to jump aboard.

"These programs illustrate a rising wave of business initiative in the consumer area," says Arch N. Booth, executive vice president of the national chamber of commerce. "They also reinforce the chamber's contention that voluntary business action is the only way to reap really innovative solutions to our perplexing problems."

THE BOOKLET is offered "as an incentive for more involvement in consumerism" on the part of business and "to the public as evidence of positive attempts to fulfill consumer rights."

Examples of the business programs are:

Whirlpool Corp.'s simplified warranty, simplified instructions and nationwide program of warranty service through a toll-free telephone line called the "Cool Line." The company says it averages about 300 calls a day and that 75 per cent are handled during the call without need for further action.

American Motor's Buyer Protection Plan for 1972 models. The company guarantees free repair or replacement of any part that is defective in material or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles. The company also maintains toll-free service, which in this case is called "Hot Line."

Ford Motor Co.'s "Ford Listens Better" campaign. Included in the program is a free 144-page book, "Car Buying Made Easier," and a new Customer Services Division which is set up to handle customer complaints directly.

General Motors Corp.'s clarified guarantee and streamlined complaint handling system. GM participates in the "BBB Hot Line" of the Better Business Bureau. The company has a guidebook showing where to send complaints.

Maytag's simplified warranty, including free labor for the first year and two-year parts replacement. Through its "Maytag Red Carpet Service," the company promises 24-hour service through 1,500 dealers.

RCA's "Purchaser Satisfaction Warranty Program." The firm offers a full year of service labor plus free parts for all solid state color television sets. Portable phonographs, tape recorders and radios are exchanged free for any equipment fault within the first 90 days.

Retailers whose programs are listed include the J.C. Penney Co. Dayton's, Grand Union, Hills Supermarkets, Stop and Shop and Travelers Insurance Co.

Copies of the booklet are available for inspection at any Chamber of Commerce and many Better Business Bureaus. Single copies may be purchased for $2 from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce 1615 H. Street NW, Washington, D.C., 20006.

Rug Life Varies With Quality, Use

Carpeting life expectancy varies with quality and use, according to experts in the field. Obviously, heavy traffic over certain paths through carpeted rooms will reduce the life of the carpeting.

Replacement in such areas will be necessary sooner than the projected 10-year life of wall-to-wall carpeting while the carpet in a seldom-used guest room might last far longer.

Nursery School Now Enrolling

The Marin Jewish Community Center Nursery School is accepting registrations for fall. The school has two, three and five-day morning programs and a three-day afternoon program.

The center's nursery school aims to help young children grow and mature in the formative years, according to director Nancy Goldstein. The program provides opportunities for the child to develop his capacities, to discover his individuality and his greatest creativity, she said.

Activities that enhance the child's understanding and appreciation of Jewish heritage are an integral part of the program, although it is nonsectarian, she said.

NEW, SOFTER Tassaway®

BETTER THAN NAPKINS, BETTER THAN TAMPONS.

Because you never have to change more than twice in 24 hours.

And that's a promise from new Tassaway.

Tassaway is a revolutionary new menstrual product—not a napkin or a tampon, but one step beyond.

Tassaway—developed by a gynecologist and medically tested—is a small menstrual cup made of a new, softer material that conforms to the shape of your inner body to seal out leakage and odor. Its new, shorter tab is more comfortable, too.

Each Tassaway cup holds almost 4 times as much as any tampon or napkin—with no odor, no chafing, no bulk.

That's why Tassaway can promise you'll never have to change more than twice in 24 hours—even on your heaviest day. And it's as easy to dispose of as a tampon.

Yes, Tassaway is a completely new idea in menstrual protection. A new and better idea, definitely worth trying. In fact, we're so sure that trying Tassaway is liking it, we'll pay for your first package.

Best of all, your first box of Tassaway is free.

Buy a box of Tassaway at your drug, grocery or department store. (If you don't see it, ask!) Clip and attach the "star" from the closure flap of the box along with this coupon for your money back. Or get a free box for you or your friend.

ON THE AGENDA

Petaluma Garden Club Sets Theme For Show Due Monday

"The Magnificence of March" is the theme of this year's annual flower show sponsored by the Petaluma Garden Club to open at noon Monday at the Petaluma Recreation Center.

Dedicated to the memory of the late Richard Shollenberger, director of Petaluma Parks and Recreation Department, the show will be open until 9 p.m.

An affiliate of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., the Petaluma club is inviting the public to attend the show. A light lunch and tea will be served and a miscellaneous plant sale will be held.

Club president is Mrs. M. S. Waters of Petaluma. Flower show committee members are Mmes. Norman Stanton, chairman; Melvin Hein, David Jeffreys and Frank Cherry, schedule; Ed Horstman, Joe Cardoze and Mrs. Hein, staging.

Mmes. C. E. Marquardt, entries; David Jeffreys and C. H. Grove, horticulture classification; Fred Young and Mrs. Ernestine Pronini, artistic arrangements.

In charge of placements are Mmes. William Carpenter, E. A. Hagstrom and William W. Zeeb; Eva Benson, publicity; Fred Kuhl, judges; Paul Heney and E. M. De Martin, hospitality; Peter Nielsen, awards; Chester Jacobsen, special exhibits; Howard Hamilton, tea, and Jack Decker, A. C. Goree and Helen Joseph, plants and sales.

The show is open to all amateur gardeners and one entry per person in any one class is permitted.

Entries will be accepted at 8:30 a.m. on opening day, and all entries will be in place by 10:30 a.m. Judging will begin at 11 a.m.

THE NOVATO Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Sinaloa Junior High School Library in Novato.

"Building and Blues" is the topic to be discussed by guest speakers Dr. Ernest Berg, president of the Indian Valley Colleges, and James Bunker, superintendent of the Novato Unified School District. Dr. Berg will show slides of the proposed building design of Indian Valley Colleges, and Bunker will discuss problems in public school financing.

THE SIX Marin County Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority are sponsoring an evening at the theater at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Members, husbands and guests will attend the Ross Valley Players production of "See How They Run." Mrs. W. Charles Klug of Novato is tickets chairman.

THE PETALUMA Newcomers Club will hold its members-only spring tea tomorrow at the country home of Mrs. Frank Widener on Ely Road in Petaluma. The 2 to 4 p.m. affair is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jon Scrabeck, with assistance from Mrs. Lloyd Carter.

Those who will be pouring are Mmes. Edward Biswell, club adviser; Jackie L. Gates, Ralph Merillion, Frank Rogers, Frank A. Mongini, Thomas Scott, Ralph Rungo, Blaine Wilbur Jr., James Paddor, Steven Sebb, Robert Edwards, David Weir, William Giles, Marvin Hale, Frank Hench and Floyd Terry Jr.

COLEMAN SCHOOL Parent-Teacher Association will celebrate P-TA Founder's Day with a program at 7:30 p.m. today in the sixth grade classroom at the school in San Rafael. A history of the P-TA at Coleman will be given, the honorary life membership award made, and new officers elected. The school choir will entertain afterward. Families have been invited to attend.

PARADISE HARBOR Yacht Club members plan a ski trip to North Lake Tahoe from Friday through Sunday. A potluck dinner is planned Saturday night at the ski cabin of Dr. and Mrs. Burt Richardson of Larkspur.

"A BIT of Irish" is the theme of the Novato Dance Club ballroom dance to be held at 9 p.m. Saturday at the IDESI Hall in Novato. Dance club directors are Lorraine Denny and Merve Storms.

AN ICE cream social and barn dance will be sponsored by the Novato Aggies 4-H Club for all Marin County 4-Hers, their families and friends at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Novato Community House.

A RUMMAGE sale to benefit the Dixie Schoolhouse Foundation will be sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Women's Club Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Myers, 22 Pine Hill Court, San Rafael.

THE ANNUAL Spring Fling for parents and guests will be held by Alpha Schools, 333 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, tomorrow and Friday at 11 a.m. The program will feature tumbling and color films of Chinese New Year dragon in San Francisco, and will culminate in a parade with a dragon made by the children.

10-Year Plan For Home Owner

NEW YORK (UPI) — Add to your home maintenance program a 10-year schedule for replacement of such components as roofing and flooring, appliances and equipment.

Homeowners, particularly those whose houses already are 10 years old or more, should plan a maintenance budget to cover all major replacement and repairs, many of which can be anticipated, housing experts recommend.

Such a plan will provide not only a more livable home, but also one with enhanced resale value at any point in time. Sticking to a budget which includes an item for "unforeseen expenses" also will assure funds on hand for the occasional emergency that faces any homeowner.

New Officers

The Petaluma Newcomers Club elected new officers last week. They are Mmes. Jackie L. Gates, president; Ralph Merillion, first vice president; Charles Rogers, second vice president; Frank A. Mongini, corresponding secretary; Thomas Scott, recording secretary, and Ralph Rungo Jr., treasurer.

Homeowner's Painting Budget

Exterior painting is a maintenance factor in the long-range budget of home owner. Exterior wood surfaces ordinarily are painted in a three to five-year cycle in northern parst of the country.

For many home owners, however, this job has been reduced to a lesser budget item by use of materials with permanent finish.

A home with non-permanent siding may schedule three paint jobs in the 10-year cycle. But one with permanent-finish exterior would require only repainting of the trim.

A happy DuBouchett to you, too.

Peppermint Schnapps, one of 27 naturally flavored cordials, all irresistible.

You have to be a little off to be an adult nut.

Adults, we have found, are not simply grown up children.

Kids will gobble up nearly anything, regardless of the cost. Put it in front of them, and they'll eat it like peanuts.

Adults, on the other hand, are a little tougher to deal with. That's why we're offering you a 20-cents-off deal just to get you to try the Adult Nut: Sun Giant Almonds.

You see, we know that Sun Giant Almonds are crispy and crunchy and yummy and all that good stuff, but you don't. And never will unless you clip our coupon and take it to your grocer's.

And in case you think we're trying to bribe you, you're right. I mean, one must be adult about these things.

ART REVIEW

Chester Arnold's Dynamic Exhibit

By ADA GARFINKEL

Young Chester Arnold, although still a student at College of Marin, is 19 going on 90.

Last year he was given a purchase award in the College's Annual Student Exhibit for his painting of a pair of grinning skeletons shown as a bridal couple. The title of the painting was "Till Death Do Us Part".

Currently, his bold, evocative paintings in the Gallery of the Mill Valley Library are filled with penetrating ideas about himself, his friends, his environment, and some of the greats in art and literature, whom he admires and who have influenced him.

Having spent the most formative years of his childhood — age 5 to 17 — in Germany, with only a one-year interval return to this country, he has become seeped in the heady juices of German Expressionism, especially that of Oskar Kokoschka, whose concern with inner vision is young Arnold's own personal guideline.

His work, however, is not always gruesome or internalized. From the time he visited the museums in Germany, his main concert has been the dynamic quality and excitement of masses of color seen in flux and turbulence. Thus, "House on Turney Street" and "Backyard" appear to be sitting on an earthquake fault . . . but only because the artist was interested in representing a building as if he is "moving by like a camera".

The young artist's most sensitive expression is seen in his portraits. There is the thoughtful, seated figure in a park setting, and studies of author Franz Kafka, poet Carl Sandburg, and artist Lovis Corinth to whom Arnold pays homage.

Interspersed with a variety of kaleidescopic landscapes are two further revealing aspects of confrontation for Arnold. The first is his ability to externalize his deep personal tensions as expressed in "Holding Back" — a stark portrayal of clenched hands and flayed flesh to convey his own despair and frustration on his return from Germany in 1969 as though suspended in limbo, not knowing what was ahead of him, nor which way to turn.

"Open House" also reveals the inner man, but this time it is a pun, based on a medical textbook illustration.

The curiosity and probing here are once more concerned with artistic problems.

Arnold's exhibit of 30 oils and watercolors will remain through March 31. Gallery hours are from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

WINIFRED BAKER
Choral director

Performance Of 'Elijah" To Be Free

A free public performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" will be presented by Marin's Winifred Baker Chorale and San Francisco Civic Chorale at 3 p.m. Sunday at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Mill Valley.

The concert is sponsored by the Mount Carmel Women's Club.

Soloists will be San Rafael soprano Marian Marsh, alto Mildred Owen, tenor Dan Parkerson and bass James Tippey, the same four who sang the roles in the recent San Francisco presentation by the same groups.

Organist Wilbur Russell and pianist Alice Hongell will accompany the 150-voice combined choirs, and Winifred Baker, director of the two choirs and association professor of music at Dominican College, will conduct.

"Elijah" is considered one of the three great masterpieces of choral literature, the others being Handel's "Messiah" and Bach's B Minor Mass.

Four Seminars Are Announced

The Marin County Schools Office and Marin Foreign Language Teachers' Association have announced four seminars beginning March 18 at Dominican College in San Rafael for teachers from throughout the Bay Area.

The workshops are designed to promote understanding of a new state framework for language instruction, according to Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools.

The 'Ring' To Highlight Opera Run

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A complete production of Wagner's monumental "Ring" tetralogy with Birgit Nilsson and Jess Thomas and conducted by Otmar Suitner will be the major highlight of the San Francisco Opera's 50th anniversary season.

Operas, casting and dates for the season were announced today by General Director Kurt Herbert Adler.

Opening the season on Sept. 15 will be a performance of Bellini's "Norma," not given here since 1937, with a cast that includes Joan Sutherland, Huguette Tourangeau, John Alexander and Richard Bonynge as conductor.

Other highlights of the season will be the American premiere of Von Einem's "The Visit of the Old Lady" with Regina Resnik and Raymond Wolansky; the western premiere of Meyerbeer's "L'Africaine" with Placido Domingo and Shirley Verrett; and new productions of Puccini's "Tosca" with Domingo and Dorothy Kirsten, Teresa Kubiak and Hana Janku in the title role on different dates; and Donizetti's "Lucia de Lammermoor" with Beverly Sills and Luciano Pavarotti.

Other operas to be presented are Mozart's "Le Nozze de Figaro" with Geraint Evans as Figaro; Verdi's "Aida" with Ljiljana Nolnar-Talajic, Marina Krilovici and Teresa Kubiak in the title role on different dates.

Conductors in addition to Bonynge and Suitner will be Reynald Giovanetti, Nino Sanzogno, Jean Perisson and Jesus Lopex Cobos.

Jury Trial Is Considered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An appeals court is considering a request for a jury trial for an 18-year-old girl who hit an FBI agent with a rolling pin when he invaded her home to arrest her brother as a Navy deserter.

Cheryl D. James did not know she was waiving her jury rights when she signed a consent form to be treated as a juvenile, attorneys told the Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Tuesday.

Miss James, then 17, hit the FBI agent when four agents invaded the James' family household of 20 people in Portland, Ore., last year to arrest her brother, Charles.

A melee broke out when Charles resisted with the help of Cheryl, who grabbed the rolling pin from the kitchen. Two agents later were hospitalized. Charles, who was AWOL for three months because he wanted to marry his girl friend, was convicted of assault and battery.

Romulo Improved

MANILA (UPI)—Philippine Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo was reported out of danger today from injuries suffered in a car accident Tuesday.

MUSIC REVIEW

Marin Symphony Captures The Strauss Spirit In 'Don Juan'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sandor Salgo's and the Marin Symphony's sizzling performance of Strauss's difficult symphonic tone poem "Don Juan" was the triumph of the orchestra's second concert in its 20th season last night at the Veterans Memorial Building.

The brilliantly orchestrated work tested all the resources of the musicians, who put heart and soul into their playing under the inspiration of Salgo to such an extent that the music fairly conjured a vision of the Don's descent into the flames of hell.

All choirs of instruments deserved their full share of credit for this glittering finale of the evening, but the cellos in particular were to be commended for negotiating admirably some of the most difficult passages for these instruments in symphonic literature.

The rest of the program consisted of Schumann's Symphony No. 3 in E Flat Major Op 97; Andrew Imbrie's Little Concerto for Piano Four Hands, featuring Milton and Peggy Salkind; and Mozart's Concerto No. 4 for French Horn in E Flat Major, K. 495 with David Sprung as soloist.

Coming right after the lengthy and meaty Schumann, which reflects the life of the Rhineland in Germany, the Imbrie piece seemed light entertainment indeed with its jazzy touches and dance-like rhythms. The Salkinds commissioned Imbrie, a pianist himself and professor of music at the University of California, to write it for their personal use.

So personal did he make it, in fact, that it is said to be a portrait of these specialists in music for one piano — four-hands — with the treble played by Mrs. Salkind depicting her more lyrical and feminine character and bass played by Salkind portraying a more masculine, aggressive self. Technically and expressively they certainly made it speak for them.

Composed in serial technique but not atonal and avant garde in sound, the piece was probably not popular with lovers of traditional music, but reception by the audience in general seemed enthusiastic.

So rare are solo works for French horn that it was a privilege to hear the Mozart concerto played, for the most part beautifully by Sprung, who is principal hornist of the Marin Symphony and an associate professor of music at California State College at Hayward.

A great technical challenge, the piece requires enormous agility and a pure singing tone. Sprung's notes in the fast passages, particularly trills in the first movement, were not always distinctly articulated, but in the last movement they were strong, true and precise, and he was especially successful in the middle romanza andante with long sustained, singing tones of silvery quality.

The opening Schumann was somewhat disappointing, though it had moments of charm in the scherzo and exhilaration in the antique music for horns and trombones in the fourth movement. Somehow the spirit of total involvement was missing in the overall performance.

Staffing Session

Teaching staffing needs for 1972-73 will be considered by the Sausalito School District board at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the district office.

Town Is Winner In Name Fight

RAIL ROAD FLAT (UPI)—There never has been a railroad in Rail Road Flat, but the name itself has caused a few problems.

This historic Calaveras County mining community had been known as Rail Road Flat—with three words—for more than a 100 years. But several months ago the U.S. Board of Georgraphical Names changed the town's name to plain "Railroad Flat."

But the people didn't give up without a fight, and local residents now have won a reversal. The board changed the name back to Rail Road Flat.

Scott Sings Praises Of Novato's Golfers

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Novato High School athletic director Al Scott, who doubles as head football coach in the fall and then golf coach in the spring, is really singing praises for his Hornets' golf team these days.

"We'll probably be even better than our 1968 team when we had Ray Leach playing for us," he exclaimed. In the playoffs to determine the starting team, Novato had three young men with Indian Valley one-under par 35s — Pat Gorgan, Bob Cooper and Jim Vaughan.

MILBURN ZELL of San Anselmo, former president and now secretary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club, was re-elected vice president of the California Wildlife Federation last weekend in Los Angeles. In addition to Zell, Andrew M. Dewey, current president, were representing Marin Rod and Gun Club at the federation meeting.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of wildlife and such, I feel that the organizers of National Hunting and Fishing Day picked the wrong day this year. The day, which has received the blessings of the U.S. Senate, is Sept. 23, 1972. My calendar tells me there's a full moon that day and old-timer fishermen tell me you don't catch fish when the moon's full.

BOB LEVORSEN of Novato and his Alaskan Huskies will be among the competitors at the 11th annual North Lake Tahoe Dog Sled Races this weekend. He'll be trying for part of the $1,000 prize fund, plus trophies. Mush!

REDWOOD HIGH'S athletic director, Al Endriss, has made it to the state junior college basketball championships even though College of Marin failed in its bid. Endriss will be one of four Northern Cal basketball refs to work the games in the tourney. Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Ventura College. Endriss, who has worked three of the last four state J.C. tourneys, joins Jerry Streeter of Modesto, Cas Munoz of San Leandro and Chuck Hughes of Turlock on the ref's brigade. Since the J.C. coaches vote for the refs to go, Al must be doing a fine job in his black and white striped jersey.

Well, anyway, I guess Al and the other coaches at Redwood have changed their thoughts about hair. I see that the big red giant pictured on the school's athletic department envelopes is wearing a full beard. Beards at Redwood?

SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS public relations corps is laying claim to the Mc championship of the major leagues. Five, they proclaim, as the names of Willie McCovey, Sam McDowell, Don McMahon, Mike McCormick and Johnny McNamara roll off the tongue of manager Charlie Fox, one of the best Irish tenors in the game.

BIG MISSION FOR BIG MEN

Tamalpais High School's high-leaping trio of (from left) Jared McFerrin, Castroma Dickens and Mike Dinehart will have the vital job of helping star forward Will Garner control the backboards in the Basketball Tournament of Champions beginning tomorrow in Oakland. They bring good qualifications. McFerrin, a 6-foot-4 junior, was a second-team all-star in the Marin County Athletic League. Dinehart, 6-4, made the starting team as a sophomore and was tough and reliable without grabbing headlines. Dickens, a 6-1 junior, is Garner's most frequent substitute. Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax took the shot.

Tam To Open Tourney Play In Oakland

By LEW CODDINGTON

Perhaps Tamalpais High School should be using a mirror to prepare for its Tournament of Champions basketball game against the Hayward High School Farmers tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. in the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

In Hayward, Tam faces a team remarkably like itself. Among the similarities:

One star big man. Tam has 6-foot-4 forward Will Garner, who has led the Marin County Athletic League in point-production two consecutive seasons, including a 23.4 scoring average this year. Hayward has 6-6 center-forward Jim Langenstein, who has led the Hayward Area Athletic League in scoring and rebounding two consecutive seasons, including a 21-point scoring average this year.

An all-purpose forward. Tam has 6-4 junior Jared McFerrin, who averaged 10.9, played stellar defense, and even brought the ball downcourt against the press. Hayward has 6-3 Frank Volasgis, who rebounds well, scores at appropriate moments and provides general stability.

A sophomore starter. Tam has 6-4 Mike Dinehart, a tough rebounder, at center. Hayward has 6-4 Raymond Jackson at forward.

Four alternating guards. Tam uses 6-0 junior David Jones and 5-10 senior John Johnson as one tandem, and 5-9 senior Pat Locey and 5-10 senior Clifford Hall as another. Hawyard has 5-8 Dave Falkowski and 5-11 Craig Fry as starters and 5-11 Van Bell and 6-0 Mike Engeldinger as reserves. Falkowski was all-league.

A mediocre pre-season. Tam went 7-5 before league play began, and once lost a game by 30 points. Hayward was a meager 5-5.

Spectacular play since. Tam won its first 12 MCAL games to clinch the title and run its winning streak to a school-record 13. Hayward went 16-0 in the HAAL and has a streak of 17 consecutive victories still intact. Over-all, Tam is 19-7 while Hayward is 21-5.

The similarieties end there, and statistics reflect some basic differences. Hayward is a high-scoring team with a 69.1 average compared to Tam's 56.4, but is much less stringent on defense, yielding 59.0 compared to Tam's 49.1.

Hayward's current personnel have previous Tournament of Champions experience, finishing second last year, while Tam has not appeared since 1968, when it finished fifth.

The Hayward coach, Joe Fucy, qualifies as one of the most overworked men in basketball. He also coaches the freshmen and junior varsity, and had a combined HAAL record this year of 48-0.

Tam will bring into this clash a proven ability to play well in crucial games. When the MCAL race was in doubt, Tam was 12-0. In other games, Tam was 7-7.

Tam seems to have licked the inconsistency which plagued it early in the year. The team was bothered by technical fouls, missed free throws, missed layups, turnovers and similar pesty difficulties, but improved throughout the season and was nearly perfect in these areas when it disposed of challenger Redwood Feb. 15.

The two league defeats came after the championship was clinched, and after Garner pulled an abdominal muscle, forcing him to miss both games. He is at full strength now.

Before Garner's injury, Tam played five teams for the second time, and beat four of them worse than in the first meeting, indicating improvement.

Tam developed a rugged, intimidating defense, and during one stretch held eight of 10 opponents to 50 or fewer points, and had back-to-back defensive outings of 29 and 33.

Veteran Coffey Rolls 300

"It was a long time comin'."

The speaker was John Coffey, and he was laughing instead of complaining. At age 63, a 300 game in bowling was frosting on the cake.

Coffey rolled his perfect game last night at County Club Bowl in San Rafael, the middle game in a 171-300-183 series. He carries a 193 average for the Beaudoin team in the 900 Classic league.

"I never had a sanctioned 300 game before," said the San Rafael resident. "I did have three of them in unsanctioned play, however. And I had a sanctioned 289 once."

A long-time Marin resident and a 1929 graduate of Tamalpais High School, Coffey didn't take up bowling until he was in the Air Force in 1942. Since then, he's become a confirmed bowling fan, and has worked at Greenbrae Lanes, Country Club and Nave Lanes in Ignacio at one time or another.

It was the fourth perfect game in Country Club's history. Mike Weddell rolled one four years ago, and Bill Henderson had two recent 300s, last August and last month.

Redwood, Terra Linda Win In Marin League Swimming

Giants Whip San Rafael; Trojans Romp

The two dark horses for the Marin County Athletic League swim title, San Rafael and Redwood high schools, battled yesterday, and in the end it was a bright day for the Giants of Larkspur.

Host Redwood dumped the upstart Bulldogs, 66-28, while defending champion Terra Linda thrashed San Marin, 75-20, in Novato, in the other MCAL meet yesterday.

Paul Cane and Spencer Eldred were the individual double winners for Redwood, which won all but one swimming event en route to the victory. John Redig, also of Redwood, capped two winning relay efforts, and posted a quick 23.6 in the 50-yard freestyle to top Giant times.

Rick DeMont and Keith Strange grabbed double wins for Terra Linda, as several of coach Bob Pollitt's charges swam unfamiliar events in the cruise past the Mustangs.

Eldred, Redig, John Goepp and Troy Dunham of Redwood combined for the fastest 400 free relay in the county this year, with a 3:31.8 clocking.

Terra Linda also won all swimming events but one, that being the 100 butterfly taken by Jay Woods of San Marin.

Scott Dicker took the only Bulldog swimming victory in the 200 free, and George Gianola was victorious in diving.

Prep Baseballers Win 3 Of 4 Games

Mickey Simmons and Jim Lowe combined to pitch a one-hitter and shortstop Steve Sherry made himself useful in several ways as Marin Catholic High School's baseball team paid a triumphant visit to Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park yesterday, 7-2.

Other action involving Marin County Athletic League teams saw Novato top invading Napa, 5-1; Redwood bash visiting El Cerrito, 6-1; Terra Linda bombard Galileo in San Francisco, 11-1; and Tamalpais lose to De Anza in Richmond, 4-3.

Simmons pitched the first five innings for Marin Catholic, yielding the hit, and Lowe finished up. Sherry went three-for-four from the plate and reached base the other time on an error. He drove in two runs, as did catcher Paul Riccardi.

In the fifth inning, Sherry made a fine stop in the hole with runners on base to gain a foreceout, and was the middle man on a twin killing on the next play. In the sixth, he alertly scored from second base on an infield force play.

Novato's Mike Lamb yielded one hit in the four innings he pitched and picked up his second straight victory, not bad since the Hornets have played just two games. Novato went ahead to stay on an RBI sacrifice fly to Stan Conte in the fourth, and added three insurance runs in the sixth on back-to-back singles and four straight walks.

Redwood's Mark Ruggles, Jim Bacigalupi and Phil Bacigalupi teamed up to hold El Cerrito to three hits, and Redwood stole six bases. Bob Brown had two RBI singles for the Giants.

Terra Linda rallied for five runs in the third, featuring back-to-back triples by Steve Withers and Mike Allen and a two-run single by Wes Emerson. Mike Sabel, Brad Johnson and Steve Barrington combined for a three-hit pitching job.

A rocky first inning doomed Tamalpais pitcher Ken Nowell, who held De Anza to three hits and still managed to lose. Tam made two errors behind him, so only one of the four runs was earned. Steve Roth went two-for-three and drove in runs with a single and sacrifice fly for Tamalpais.

Walton, Gianelli Head All-Star Squad

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) — Two centers, UCLA's "Super Soph" Bill Walton and John Gianelli of Pacific, share places on the coaches All-Star basketball team in the West, along with three guards.

The backcourt men picked were Ed Ratleff of Long Beach State, Freddy Boyd of Oregon State and Paul Westphal of Southern California. The selections were made by the National Association of Basketball Coaches in the NCAA Region 8.

Piersall Joins A's Organization

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Jimmy Piersall, former outfielder for Boston and the California Angels, has been hired by the Oakland A's to take charge of group sales and season ticket sales.

Piersall, 42, held a similar post with the Angels after his playing days were ended.

Manager Dick Williams, who has 18 pitchers in camp, meanwhile announced that Kenny Holtzman, Catfish Hunter and Rollie Fingers would pitch in Thursday's exhibition opener against the Giants. He indicated he might look at Bob Locker, Darold Knowles and Jim Roland, too.

Marin Nine Loses Loop Opener, 6-4

Visiting De Anza College of Cupertino rallied for three runs in the 10th inning to defeat College of Marin, 6-4, in the Camino Norte Conference baseball opener for both teams yesterday in Kentfield.

De Anza put together a rally consisting of a double, an error, two singles and a sacrifice fly to ruin a sturdy pitching performance by Marin's Dennis Bueler. The righthander yielded six hits and no earned runs over the first nine innings.

Marin had a chance to win the game in the ninth. Frank Pomilia singled, and after the next two men failed to sacrifice successfully, Larry Brazda singled. A passed ball advanced them to second and third, and an intentional walk to Jim Thompson loaded the bases, but the next man struck out.

Marin, 4-3 over-all, plays tomorrow at Solano College in Suisun, 3 p.m.

Pirate Hurling Back In Baseball News

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Those much maligned pitchers of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates are back in the news — surprising everyone except the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Everybody rapped our pitchers last year and everybody seems to be questioning their ability this year," says slugger Willie Stargell. "Well, we weren't surprised by what they did in the pennant race or the world series last season. They're just underrated."

Manager Bill Virdon unveiled three important Pirate pitchers Tuesday — Bob Moose, Bob Veale and Bruce Kison —and they combined in a four-hitter as the Pirates walloped the Boston Red Sox 13-1. Gene Alley's four runs batted in and a homer by Vic Davalillo led the Pirates' 14-hit attack.

But nobody questions the Pirates' offense. It's Pittsburgh pitching that is the question mark and the reason why Virdon was all smiles after the game.

Moose, who had an 11-7 record and 4.11 earned run average in 1971, is considered the Pirates likely No. 4 or 5 starting pitcher this year. Veale, 6-0 despite a ghastly 7.04 ERA last season, is considered a marginal reliever-starter. Kison, the baby-faced right-hander who helped turn the world series around with a brilliant relief performance in the fourth game (after a 6-5 record with 3.41 ERA) is regarded as the most aggressive pitcher on the staff and a potential great.

In other camps: Charlie Manuel's two-run sixth-inning homer paced the Minnesota Twins to their fourth straight victory —a 9-6 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. . .Charlie Williams closed out the New York Mets' 9-3 triumph over the Detroit Tigers by retiring the last nine batters in a row. . .doubles by Ron Swoboda and George Pena sparked the New York Yankees to eight runs in the seventh inning and a 14-9 victory over the Texas Rangers.

Warriors Tabbed 'Celtics Of West'

OAKLAND (UPI)—To Bill Fitch, the Golden State Warriors resemble the "Boston Celtics of the West Coast" in rolling to their fifth straight victory.

Golden State squandered a 28-point lead and had to rally in the final five minutes to pull out a 119-112 NBA victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers Tuesday night. That opened a bit of daylight between the Warriors and Seattle Sonics who lost to Baltimore.

The Warriors have a one-game lead over the Sonics in their battle for the remaining playoff spot in the NBA's Pacific Division.

Fitch, who happens to coach the Cavaliers, thinks highly of the Warriors. Maybe that's because his team doesn't have to play them again this season.

"Any time you have three guys like (Nate) Thurmond, (Cazzie) Russell and (Jeff) Mullins, you're in good shape," said Fitch. "I call them the Boston Celtics of the West Coast. And Clyde Lee and Jim Barnett complement those three other guys real well."

Cleveland, which trailed 52-24 midway through the second period, caught the Warriors relaxing and took a 99-98 lead on Butch Beard's free throw with 6:56 to go. Barnett and Mullins then scored five points apiece in a 15-5 spurt that placed the Warriors ahead 113-104 with 4:15 to go.

Thurmond topped the Warriors with 30 points and collected 19 rebounds as did Lee. Mullins scored 27 points and Barnett added 19.

The win was the fourth of the season without defeat against Cleveland.

Dietz Disturbed By Trade Talk

PHOENIX — Dick Dietz is disturbed, not by the repeated rumors that the Giants are trying to trade him, but because he just doesn't know what's going on.

"Nobody has said anything to me," said Dietz. "That's what disturbs me. I was surprised by the report out of the major league winter meetings that I was on the trading block. I guess any ball player is surprised the first time he learns his team is thinking about trading him.

"BUT I WASN'T really disturbed by the winter report. After all, we're all pros and we're in a business where trades are part of the game. However, it is disturbing that the trade talk concerning me still persists. If they're planning to deal me I wish they'd do it so I can get acquainted with tne new teammates before the new season starts.

"If the Giants don't trade me, I know they are not going to let me sit on the bench. I'm still their No. 1 catcher."

The Giants were disappointed by a late season letdown of Dietz' bat that dipped during the stretch run for the National League pennant and was an impotent .067 (1-for-15 without an RBI) during the playoffs against the Pirates.

"I WASN'T DISAPPOINTED by the season I had last year," said Dietz. "I was tied with Bobby Bonds in game-winning hits (10), second in home runs (19) behind Bonds (33), second in RBIs (72) behind Bonds (102).

"Sure, I'd have liked to hit .300 again as I did in 1970. But you can't hit .300 every year. We didn't have a .300 hitter on the club last season. Maybe my .252 of last year doesnt' look too good standing by itself but I made the most if it."

Was Dietz hurting physically during the last two months of the 1971 campaign? Everyone knew that a fast ball Jack Billingham bounced off his scalp in the Astrodome Sept. 21 kept him out of action for three games after which he came back and belted a grand slam home run to win a very important game against the Reds in Cincinnati.

BUT PRIOR to that beaning incident was there any other physical hurt?

"I'm not making excuses but I played the last month and a half with a sprained ankle," said Dietz. "I taped it every day."

Dietz doesn't plan going to Charlie Fox and asking the manager to clarify his present status.

"All I can properly do is wait," he said. "Meanwhile, I'm going to give the job everything I've got."

LAST SPRING there was a warm and relaxed relationship between Dietz and Fox, an old catcher himself. When Dietz arrived in camp last year he found a new catcher's mitt in his locker. Fox had personally broken it in during the winter and put it in Dietz' locker. Dietz chuckled when he saw it.

"Maybe it will help me cut down on my passed balls," said Dietz who isn't overly sensitive or unrealistic about his sometimes erratic glove work.

The new glove did help Dietz trim five PBs from his 1970 mark (25). He was charged with 20 last season.

There was no new glove from the manager for Dietz when he arrived this spring and their relationship, while quite proper and polite, scarecely could be described as warm and relaxed.

Sonoma Trackmen Defeated

Sonoma State College fared well in the field events but stumbled in the sprints yesterday as the Cossacks lost to Stanislaus State College, 88-52, in their 1972 track and field debut.

The Cossacks almost swept the field events, with Dennis Hudson a double winner in the shot put (47 feet 3¾ inches) and discus (138-11 ½). Rob Walker took the long jump with a leap of 20-2 and Scott Noll cleared 5-9 ½ to take the high jump. Barry Scholtes threw the javelin 159-9 to win that event.

Sonoma State was only able to take two running events, with the team of Bob Rebbe, Guy Swick, Tony Gatchalian and Mark Casebier taking the 440-yard relay in 47.0 and Art Spaletta winning the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 17.0.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

At the moment of release it is your fingers that take over and carry all the responsibility of getting the ball to the target with a rolling motion. Make sure your fingers are behind the ball at this stage, so they can both lift it and guide it. If your thumb comes too far to the left, your fingers must follow. They won't be able to do their job.

Superstar Start For S.F. Giants

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI)— Spring training is usually the time for managers to look over new faces but today's Cactus League lidlifter will begin in superstar fashion with Ferguson Jenkins pitching to Willie Mays.

That's because Chicago Cubs skipper Leo Durocher has named his star trio of Jenkins, Milt Pappas and Phil Regan to share mound duties while the Giants will go with their best lineup, which this year finds Mays leading off.

Manager Charlie Fox will go with Don Carrithers, John D'Acquisto and John Cumberland as his opening hurlers.

Following Mays at the plate will be Tito Fuentes, Dave Kingman, Willie McCovey, Bobby Bonds, Ken Henderson, Fran Healy, and Chris Speier.

National League president Chub Feeney Tuesday called that lineup the game's best although he picked a wide-open division race because he questioned whether the Giants had any pitchers behind Juan Marichal and Sam McDowell. Carrithers and Cumberland will open their bids to join that rotation today.

Minnesota, Three Other Teams In Tourney Field

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

CHICAGO — Coach Bill Musselman told his Minnesota Gophers last night to prove their image as the nation's top defensive college basketball team. They did and today they are Big Ten champions for the first tima in 35 years.

Minnesota wrapped up the crown with a 49-48 thriller over Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., despite not scoring a point in the final three minutes. The Gophers won the conference with an 11-3 slate, while Ohio State finished its season at 10-4.

The Gophers' victory qualified them for the post-season National Collegeiate Athletic Association (NCAA) tournament. Three other teams clinched berths in the tourney last night — Kansas State, which pulled off a 79-76 upset of Missouri to win the Big Eight title; Ohio University, which grabbed a 69-67 overtime victory over Toledo to win the Mid-America Conference; and Texas, which edged Southern Methodist in overtime, 91-89, to win the Southwestern Conference.

ATLANTA — The American Basketball Association's Carolina Cougars have sued to keep Jim McDaniels from playing with the Seattle SuperSonics in the rival National Basketball Association.

SEATTLE — In another development, McDaniels says he will repay his college, Western Kentucky, the $66,318 which it is being asked to return to the NCAA.

The sum was paid to Western Kentucky as its share of the 1971 national college tournament in which the school finished third. The NCAA is asking its return because McDaniels signed pro documents before his last college season began.

Seals Take On Buffalo In Drive For Playoffs

OAKLAND (UPI) —St. Louis is waving bye-bye as the California Golden Seals can only tie and sigh.

Falling five points behind third-place St. Louis, the Seals try to narrow that gap tonight by skating against their Buffalo "cousins" at the Coliseum-Arena. The Sabres haven't been able to defeat the Seals in five meetings this season which include three ties.

Another win is practically a must for the Seals who are in fifth place, one point behind Philadelphia.

Wing Ernie Hicke returns to the Seals lineup tonight after recovering from an injury, but captain and defenseman Bert Marshall has his injured knee in a cast and will miss a few more games.

California has five ties and five losses in their last 10 games.

Rancho Cotate Swimmers Split

Rancho Cotate High School swimmers of Rohnert Park, led by Mike Dawson's three firsts, split their first Sonoma County League double dual meet yesterday, beating El Molino High School of Forrestville, 59-22, but falling to Analy High School of Sebastópol, 48-44, in the Analy pool.

The split gave Rancho Cotate a 1-1 record in SCL meets and a 3-3 mark overall this season.

Collins Ends Year's Absence; Wins By TKO

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Nate Collins, 160, Oakland, Calif., out of the ring for almost one year, stepped back in Tuesday night long enough to upset previously undefeated Eugene "Cyclone" Hart on a technical knockout at the end of the eighth round.

Hart, 161, had been ranked sixth among middleweights by the World Boxing Association and had a record of 21 knockouts, one decision and one no decision fight before he met Collins.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Docking Tips For Beginners

There are two conditions in boating (both power and sail) where the beginner often makes a serious misjudgment. One is the realization of how much less effect the rudder has as speed decreases; and the other is a failure to judge speed correctly after traveling along at a good clip for a long period.

If you see a novice bang his boat into a dock it's usually because of one of these shortcomings. In the process of docking either misjudgment can be expensive. But there's a way to avoid trouble — and it's very simple: Just stop your boat completely. Let it sit quietly for 10 seconds a few boatlengths away from the dock, then start your docking or mooring procedure as an entirely separate and independent action.

While you are stopped you can observe the natural influences that will affect your approach — such things as wind, current and wave action. Try to come into your berth against the strongest of these forces — this will give you better control.

The most common and costly mistake in docking is coming in too fast. It's very easy to misjudge speed after you've been zipping along in a fast boat at 30 mph. When you slow for the approach, 15 mph feels like 5. And the boat which answered smartly to the wheel or helm at top speed is a sluggish log at idle, yet your reflexes are still geared for the good control you had at higher speeds.

Here are some questions on this topic I've been asked.

Q. Is there a "best" angle at which to approach a dock?

A. An angle between 15 and 30 degrees is best. Any angle greater than 30 degrees means that you have to swing the stern sharply to lie parallel to the dockside. The chance of misjudgment increases, and if the stern swings too much it will hit and there is sure to be damage.

Q. Warn others . . . I swung my boat hard to avoid a concrete pier, the bow missed, but the stern hit so hard I ruined the boat. Why . . .?

A. Every day you see people who forget the major difference in the way a car and a boat are steered. With the boat, the stern swings. A sharp turn that allows the bow to clear an obstruction often throws the stern into the same obstruction with damaging force. An awareness of this effect is among the first knowledge a boater should acquire.

Q. What's the best way to pick up a mooring under sail?

A. Approach the mooring from down wind on a track which would put the mooring a boat's length to windward if you were to go right past it. On the approach, lower and secure the jib. When you reach the point where the mooring is a boatlength to windward, turn into the wind. Momentum will carry the boat up to the pick-up buoy. Secure the mooring, then lower the mainsail.

Q. I'm getting a houseboat. I'm told I have to learn docking procedures all over again. Why?

A. Houseboats handle just like any other powered craft when being docked — if there's no wind. But with even a little bit of wind the high sides of a houseboat act like sails. Take very great care if coming downwind towards a dock. Many a houseboat has been damaged by swinging broadside to the wind and coming up to the wharf or pier with a crunch.

Q. On inboards, how do you swing the stern without moving the boat?

A. This is a good maneuver to learn. Some boaters have developed the skill to a great degree. On single screw boats with right hand engines (turning the prop clockwise viewed from behind) the prop tends to throw the stern of the boat to starboard (right) in forward gear and to port (left) in reverse. The skillful operator just gives the engine a short, sharp burst of power. The stern swings, but the boat, because of it's inertia, doesn't move. Try it.

Biber Stars But Tam Loses Meet

Greg Biber scored victories in three events, but the rest of the Tamalpais High School track team could only manage one other yesterday, as the Indians dropped an 88-34 nonleague meet to Lincoln High School of San Francisco yesterday in Mill Valley.

Biber won both hurdles races, the 120-yard highs and 180 lows, and was also victorious in the long jump, but Tam got little help elsewhere in the Indians' first meet of 1972.

Marin Prep Golf Teams Falter Twice

Two Marin County Athletic League golf teams found themselves on the short end of the stick, so to speak, yesterday, as both Novato and Terra Linda high schools dropped nonleague matches.

Novato came close, losing by a single stroke to Lowell High School of San Francisco in a 13-hole match at Indian Valley in Novato. Pat Grogan had a four-over-par 55 rank as medalist.

Terra Linda, although no official score was kept, finished third in a triangular match at the Blue Rock course east of Vallejo, according to coach Bill O'Bayley.

Low scorer for the 18 holes was Kai Bergheer, who carded a 77, leading Trojan efforts against the Hogan (Vallejo) and Vacaville squads. Hogan won, according to O'Bayley.

Lowell 291, Novato 292

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Nate Collins, 160, Oakland, stopped Eugene "Cyclone" Hart, 161, Philadelphia (8).

PREP BASEBALL PROSPECTS

Marin 'Cats Will Be Strong Again

By LEW CODDINGTON

Last year's Marin County Athletic League baseball season was so packed with theatrics and drama that fans were left wishing for an encore.

They may get it. For one thing, the leading character is back. Marin Catholic High School, which won its last six games to snatch the title away from stumbling Novato by a half-game margin, will return 13 lettermen, including 12 seniors.

Novato, with strong pitching, and Redwood, with an excellent blend of experience and youth, are expected to be in contention for the title.

Several outstanding players will return, including four first-team all-league selections. Shortstop Dave Urquhart of San Rafael led the league with a .428 batting average, and a teammate, center fielder Dirk Gansloser, was second at .410. Center fielder Clifford Hall of Tamalpais and shortstop Al Curtiss of Drake joined in a three-way tie for the leadership in runs batted in with 11.

There will be two new varsity coaches this season. At Tamalpais, Mike Campas takes over for Al Ahlsten who wants to devote more time to his administrative position as athletic director. At Novato, Tom Barrie last year's junior varsity coach, has traded places with Bob Aucone who finished out the season for Bob Aune, now a teacher at Santa Rosa Junior College.

In any list of baseball cliches, the one listed first must be: "pitching is the name of the game." The one graduate from Marin Catholic's champions is the outstanding and durable pitcher, Tom Olson, who led the league in victories with seven while losing just once.

Some of the burden will be shifted to Don Bianchini, a versatile youngster who has started at six positions for the Wildcat varsity. He will pitch when he isn't playing third base this year, after getting honorable mention recognition as an infielder last season.

Righthanded starters Jim Petray and Mickey Simmons and lefty reliever Jim Lowe round out the Wildcats' pitching staff.

Three players who set team fielding records last year return. They are first baseman Scott Cozza (honorable mention), second sacker Vince Bormolini (second team), and catcher Paul Riccardi. Bormolini was last year's only Wildcat .300 hitter at .313.

Second team selection Pete Arbios will roam right field, and honorable mention Steve Sherry will play shortstop. All told, the varsity is so strong that coach Gary Hughes brought nobody up from a junior varsity team that went 16-7 last year.

Redwood finished 7-7 with a crop of sophomores and juniors last year after losing virtually everybody off the championship team of 1970. This year, the team will be experienced as well as young.

Outfielders Mike Connor and Ray Judah were honorable mention choices last year. Coach Al Endriss is working on converting Connor to a catcher. Righthanded pitcher Gene Frey was honorable mention last year. All are juniors, which puts Redwood in a position to adopt Marin Catholic's philosophy — win this year, wait 'till next year, then win again.

Also returning will be Redwood's much-talked-about bat girls, a quintet headed by captain Denise Davis. "They were acclaimed 'all-league' last year," said Endriss.

Novato coach Barrie, with a good nucleus on the mound, vows "we'll be stronger than people think." Returning is second-team selection Mike Lamb, the No. 2 winner in the league last season with a 5-2 record. He is a lefthander.

Also hurling will be righthander Ray Stratford and southpaw Dave Nattress. Two other starters will be back — catcher Dennis Stanley, who was honorable mention, and second-baseman Bill Busher, an outfielder last season.

San Rafael was reeking with batting power last year, with four of the league's top five hitters, but had inexperienced pitching. This year, coach Jack Sims has top sluggers Urquhart and Gansloser returning, plus an improved mound staff headed by righthanded senior John Klingler. Other hurlers will be righties Jim Monroe and sophomore Mike Farris. Rick Klarkowski provides experienced catching.

San Marin will have a good pitching staff led by two righthanders, junior Tom Bowen and senior Ken Siler. Greg Mazeres and George Hoberg appear on the mound when they are not roaming the outfield. Coach Ron Butori's infield is fairly set with Marty Larsen at shortstop, Mike Bacho at second, Rich Villa behind the plate and Dave Ilchert at first or third.

Terra Linda will be "very, very inexperienced — we lost most of our ballclub," according to coach Keith Fraser. Only two starters will be back from last season's third place team, centerfielder Rick Trono and second baseman Mike Allen.

Drake coach Dick Creighton is unhappy to lose 15 of his 20 players from last year's team, but likes the five starters he has back, including Curtiss. John Billings, who was leading the team in hitting last season before breaking his hand, returns, as do second sacker Jit Singh and first baseman Bob Mayer. The prospects up from J.V. look good to Creighton, also.

Tamalpais will be spearheaded by Hall, when he returns from the basketball team, and utility player Tom Collins, honorable mention last year as a sophomore outfielder. Third baseman David Thomsett, who hit .395 for last year's J.V.s, figures to help. "It's almost an unproven team," said Campas.

NBA ROUNDUP

Knicks' Jinx Haunts Bucks

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

The odds are mounting that the Milwaukee Bucks will never repeat as National Basketball Association champions if they meet the New York Knicks in the playoff finals.

It's almost like trying to hold back the tide. Milwaukee has won only five of 26 games against New York. Since Kareem Abdul-Jabbar entered the league three seasons ago, the Bucks have beaten the Knicks only five times in 20 encouters.

The Knicks made this season's tally three-for-four Tuesday night with a 110-101 victory over the Bucks that kept New York's hopes alive for catching the Atlantic Division-leading Boston Celtics. The Knicks are only four games back, but have played two games less.

Jerry Lucas, continuing his long distance cannonading, riddled Milwaukee's defense for 30 points. He hit 13 of 22 shots and almost all of his field goals were from 25 feet out.

The former Warrior also became the fifth player in NBA history to reach the 12,000-rebound plateau. He needed four rebounds going into the game and emerged with 14. Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles and Walt Bellamy of Atlanta are the only other active players to grab 12,000 rebounds. Bill Russell and Bob Pettit accumulated 21,721 and 12,851, respectively, before retiring.

In other NBA action, Los Angeles downed Philadelphia 114-97, Baltimore stopped Seattle 105-98, Phoenix rapped Detroit, 129-121 and Portland whipped Buffalo 98-94.

Gail Goodrich, the league's sixth leading scorers, netted 25 points as Los Angeles won its 60th game of the season against just 12 losses. Fred Carter pumped in 20 points for the 76ers who lost their 44th game.

Seattle was victimized by the Bullets' torrid 33-18 first quarter surge. Mike Riordan led Baltimore with 21 points and Len Wilkens paced Seattle with 19.

Connie Hawkins scored 13 of his 28 points in the third quarter when Phoenix scored 45 points against Detroit and pinned the Pistons with their seventh consecutive defeat.

AIR LIFT AT PETRINI'S

A helicopter makes quick work of a heavy installation job on rooftop of Petrini's Market in Greenbrae yesterday morning. Instead of traditional derrick and boom, Petrini's hired Astrocopters Ltd. of Oakland to lift four refrigeration units off a truck and onto rooftop. "Cost is about the same but the time saving is tremendous," said John Tarantino, general manager of Petrini's. "It took only about 15 minutes whereas a derrick would tie up the delivery area for about two hours." This type of rooftop installation by chopper is believed to be a Marin first.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Western Publishing Is Good For Start In Growth Stocks

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have $5,000 which I would like to invest in a good growth stock. Would you say Western Publishing (OTC) is a good one or is it overpriced now? — R.P.

A. Although Western Publishing shares have appreciated some 30 per cent in just two months, the stock is still moderately priced, at roughly 14x 1972's earnings estimates, and may be bought for its locg-term growth potential.

The company recorded vast improvement in the 1971 full year, ended December, reflecting in large part the excellent success experienced in the firm's Sesame Street product line. Profitability increased substantially with earnings posting a 77 per cent gain to a record $1.68 a share, versus 1971's 95 cents, on a 7.6 per cent hike in sales. Continued gains are anticipated for this year aided by the introduction of a new assortment of Sesame Street items for the spring and fall seasons, possible expansion of a new product line being distributed by Sears, Roebuck & Co. and the improvement forecast for Western Publishing foreign operations. Since the latter sector showed a fair-sized loss in 1971, any recovery here should give consolidated net a healthy boost in 1972. Purchase is justified at these levels.

Q. Can you tell me if LVO Corp. (formerly Livingston Oil) is involved in the CATV business? Also, is there any connection between LVO Corp. on the NYSE and LVO Cable Corp. on the over-the-counter? —R.C.

A. Yes, to both inquiries. LVO Corp. was engaged solely in the production and sale of crude oil and natural gas until fiscal 1968 when the company began diversifying. One of its initial diversification myoes was the acquisition of two community antenna television operators, GenCoE, Inc. and Effingham TV Cable Co. These now operate as the 75 per cent owned LVO Cable Corp. and accounted for about 17 per cent of LVO's revenues in fiscal 1971. 340,000 shares of LVO Cable were initially offered to the public in April, 1971, at $10.50 and are now quoted at around $16.50.

Market Higher At Opening, Then Mixed

NEW YORK (UPI)—After opening slightly higher, the stock market turned mixed during the second hour Wednesday. Trading on the New York Stock Exchange was fairly active.

Shortly before noon, the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue-chip stocks was off 2.71 at 944.16. It was ahead by a fraction earlier. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index advanced 0.11 to 108.98.

Advances held a slim 698 to 548 lead over declines among the 1,606 issues crossing the tape. The two-hour volume totaled 9.8 million shares.

Prices also were mixed in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Banister was the most active issue, off 3-8 at 21 3-8 on 37,000 shares.

Boise Cascade was one of the most active NYSE issues, up 5-8. The firm received a favorable court ruling in a land development in California.

Steels, motors, chemicals and oils were mixed. Rails, Airlines and Aircrafts moved irregularly. Polaroid and Corning Glass were point-sized gainers among the glamors.

Demands Against Boise Cascade Are Dismissed

MARTINEZ (UPI)—A judge has dismissed three demands by the Attorney General's and Contra Costa County District Attorney's offices against Boise Cascade Corp.

Superior Court Judge Robert J. Cooney issued the ruling Monday in litigation involving four Calaveras County recreational land developments.

Last year the Attorney General's and District Attorney's offices filed a complaint saying Boise Cascade was guilty of false advertising and business code violations.

Cooney killed demands to:

—Seek exemplary damages on charges of misrepresentation by salesmen. The suit had asked a $1 million punitive payment.

—Seek a "constructive trust" into which property buyers' payments were being impounded.

—And seek to force a mass refunding of money to property buyers who allegedly encountered misrepresentation.

Record '71 For Parent Company

Hospital Corp. of America, parent company of Ross Medical Corp. of San Rafael, reported record revenues and earnings for calendar year 1971.

Gross revenues increased 28 per cent, net income increased 33 per cent, and earnings per share rose 18 per cent.

The corporation headquartered in Nashville, Tenn., will acquire a 360-bed hospital and medical center now under construction in Atlanta, Ga.

Kettenhofen Will Head Firm With Sausalito Headquarters

Former Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen will head a new retail facility specializing in marine and general hardware and in housewares, which will open this month in Sausalito.

Anchorage Hardware & Marine Inc. will open in the Industrial Center Building at Harbor Drive and Gate Five Road in mid-March, with a grand opening scheduled for Saturday, April 15.

Earl C. Miller of Mill Valley will manage the new store, with Bruce T. Martens of Sausalito as assistant manager and LaVerne Strohmeyer of Mill Valley as cashier-bookkeeper. Kettenhofen, owner of the Industrial Center Building, is president of the new corporation.

Anchorage Hardware will be a representative of the national Ace Hardware organization and will offer competitve pricing on all merchandise, said Miller. Featuring marine supplies and equipment, including sweaters, foul weather gear and deck shoes, Anchorage Hardware will cater to sailors whose boats range from eight to 80 feet.

In addition, it will have a complete line of hardware, housewares and gifts.

Remodeling is proceeding at the Industrial Center Building so that Anchorage Hardware will have a new entrance, self-service display counters and other shopper conveniences. Ample parking is available, said Miller.

If your Volkswagen needs a new engine, you can get one-day replacement service at a newly opened firm in San Rafael, next to A and E Garage at 725 Lincoln Avenue (near McKee's Hofbrau).

The new Engine Rebuilders and Installers is operated by Steve Wheeler of Corte Madera, who was with Mill Valley Motors for the past five years. "You can bring it in the morning and have it out that afternoon with a new engine," said Wheeler. He specializes in rebuilding and installing Volkswagen engines and selling VW parts.

Allan B. Turmon of San Rafael has won a diploma for completing the electronics technician program at DeVry Institute of Technology, one of the Bell and Howell schools in Chicago.

Alvin T. Guthertz (of San Rafael) Public Relations firm in San Francisco has moved from Market Street to expanded offices at 4444 Geary Boulevard. The firm is celebrating its 15th anniversary.

REAL ESTATE: Lewis Realty has leased additional space adjoining its present office at 133 East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley. This will allow expansion of its sales staff to 10.

V. William Butler has joined the Frank Howard Allen & Co. sales staff and is located in the new Greenbrae office at 505 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. He was business consultant in organization and finance for private and public organizations.

Gordon O. Berg, formerly with Abrams Realty, is now associated with Womack Realty, 1215 Grant Avenue, Novato. He has been active in sale, exchange, and leasing of residential, commercial and income properties for more than eight years.

Leo Tinkler of Terra Linda now has his real estate office, Leo Real Estate Co., at 1561 Fourth Street, San Rafael. In the Feb. 29 issue of this column, we mentioned Leo Real Estate but listed the wrong address because the numbers were transposed.

Leland

Sinclair

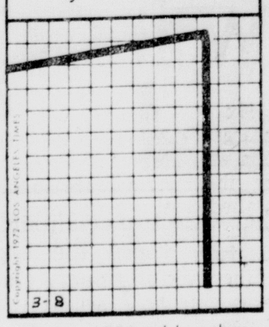

RICHARD B. LELAND of Mill Valley has been appointed assistant product manager for Paul Masson wines, brandy and champagne with headquarters in San Francisco.

Browne Vintners Co. is the worldwide marketing organization for Paul Masson products. Leland was formerly with a Los Angeles advertising agency.

HAROLD W. SINCLAIR Jr. of San Rafael, assistant manager of Crocker Bank's Mill Valley office, has been appointed loan officer at Crocker Bank's One Montgomery Street office in San Francisco. He is a 13-year veteran with Crocker Bank.

Stockholder Meeting Is Announced

The annual meeting of the shareholders of Redwood Bank in San Rafael will be held at the main office, 1447 Fourth Street, at 5 p.m. March 23.

Shareholders will elect seven directors and will be asked to approve a corporate reorganization. If the reorganization is approved, Redwood Bancorp, the bank's holding company, will become the sole shareholder of the bank.

According to a statement from the board of directors, "it is hoped that it will afford the reorganized bank and other affiliated companies which may be acquired or organized by Redwood Bancorp from time to time in the future with enlarged opportunities for growth and profitability . . ."

Shareholders of the bank will automatically become owners of one share of the common stock of Redwood Bancorp for each share of stock of the Redwood Bank held by them.

San Quentin Six Win Costly Delay

Six San Quentin convicts charged with murder in connection with the August bloodbath at the prison successfully stalled pretrial proceedings again Monday by getting rid of the judge.

They paid a high price, however, for the delay, because Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court ruled they had used up their only peremptory challenge against him.

The convicts had earlier sought to remove McGuire on the grounds he was prejudiced against them. This challenge was denied, however, by an outside judge.

At the insistence of one of the convicts, John Larry Spain, the man who survived the escape attempt by diving into bushes, his lawyer filed a peremptory challenge against McGuire.

Earlier lawyers had argued unsuccessfully they should have six peremptory challenges.

In another development, two lawyers for the convicts were allowed to leave the case. McGuire appointed San Rafael attorney Richard Tarrant to replace Los Angeles lawyer Ralph Bencangey in representing Hugo Pinell.

Another San Rafael lawyer, Theodore Lachelt, was appointed to replace Howard Morehouse who represented Willie Tate.

The session was again marked by verbal outbursts from the six inmates, four of whom were ordered removed to a holding cell when they continued to interrupt proceedings.

The six, along with missing attorney Stephen M. Bingham, are charged with murdering three guards and two inmates last August. In addition to Spain, Pinnell and Tate, the accused are Fleeta Drumgo, David Johnson and Louis N. Talamentez.

No new court date was set for hearing further motions after a new judge is assigned to the case.

Skyjacked Plane Due To Return

MIAMI (UPI)—A pilot and mechanic were shot and seriously wounded Tuesday when two men armed with pistols and a sawed-off shotgun hijacked a Bimini-bound seaplane and ordered an unharmed pilot to fly them and five passengers to Cuba.

The plane is due back in Miami from Havana today.

Pilot James Corthron, 49, of Homestead, Fla. and mechanic Douglas MacKenzie, 48, both underwent surgery Tuesday night for bullet wounds received in the incident. Both are reported in "fair" condition.

The two hijackers whose identities the FBI refused to release, arrived at the airport in a taxi and ordered Corthron to fly them to a "foreign country."

According to Harry Davis of Bimini, a passenger on the flight, Corthron was told by one of the gunmen "You better start it or I'll kill you," after he cut the engines of the plane and wouldn't budge.

Davis reported that Corthron answered "I'm not moving, go ahead and shoot me," which one gunman did, firing into his arms and legs.

Corthron either jumped or was pushed out of the plane, and Bob Wallis, 24, a pilot from Lexington, Mass. who had been flying amphibious planes for only a few months was ordered to fly to Cuba.

MacKenzie was shot before he squeezed off a round from his own gun, which he grabbed from his car.

Two helicopters, one filled with FBI agents, and two Air Force jets chased the plane, but there was no attempt to force it down.

Toll Charges For Certain Trucks Reduced

California's Toll Bridge Authority today reduced its charge for certain trucks on the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge from $27 to $21 for a book of 40 tickets, effective May 1.

Affected are commercially licensed, privately owned, four-wheeled trucks used for personal business only, according to the authority. About 120 such vehicles regularly use the bridge, according to previous ticket sales.

The action brought those trucks in line with the reduction of the basic auto fare from 65-50 cents at the beginning of the year, the authority said.

Cost Of Running Natural Gas Cars About Same

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The cost of fuel to run a small fleet of experimental cars using natural gas has proved to be about the same as when gasoline is used, according to the director of the Los Angeles County Mechanical Department.

However, Robert O. Sudduth said Tuesday, the use of natural gas is "easier on motors, spark plugs, rings and pistons. The engine and oil stay cleaner."

Sudduth said these were the findings of an 11-month study of two cars, two station wagons and two trucks powered by natural gas.

Sonoma District Attorney To Municipal Court Bench

Sonoma County Dist. Atty. Kiernan R. Hyland has been appointed judge for the newly created third court in the Central Sonoma Municipal District.

Hyland, district attorney since 1966, was named to the post by Gov. Ronald Reagan. He joins Judges James E. Jones and Francis Passalacqua in the central district and Alexander J. McMahon in the southern district.

Hyland, 53, became an assistant district attorney in Sonoma County in 1958 and was elected to the top spot in 1966 and 1970. As judge he will receive a salary of $32,272 per year. His salary as district attorney is $27,000.

When Hyland formally submits his resignation, the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors will appoint his successor.

Hyland received a bachelor's degree in social science from Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., in 1940 and served as an officer in the Marine Corp during World War II. He received his law degree from University of San Francisco in 1950.

Hyland was recalled to the Marines during the Korean War, received the Bronze Star and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel. He had been in the Alameda County District Attorney's office before moving to Sonoma County. He and his wife Jean, and their five children live in Santa Rosa.

Youth Treated For Auto-Bike Accident

A Corte Madera youth was treated for a cut right hand yesterday about noon at Marin General Hospital, but further details of he auto-bike accident in which hospital officials said he was involved were unavailable.

George Brockman III, 17, of 24 Seminole Avenue, Corte Madera was released after treatment.

Doubling Of Program Seen

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A state report has "conservatively anticipated" that methadone maintenance programs in California would nearly double in size in the near future.

In a report submitted Tuesday to Gov. Ronald Reagan and the legislature, the Research Advisory Panel and the Department of Mental Hygiene estimated that 10,000 patients soon would be under methadone treatment.

The report said at the end of 1971 29 programs were in existence with 5,587 drug addicts receiving the substitute methadone treatment.

The average age of a patient is 31, the report said, with 75 per cent of them being men and 25 per cent women. Approximately 50 per cent of methadone patients were holding jobs, according to reports from 10 of the programs.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Try this quiz about a famous person born today, March 8:

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, JR. (1841 - 1935), a distinguyshed American jurist:

T F 1. Son of a physician who had taught at Dartmouth College, Holmes was born in Boston, Mass., into a home dominated by his father, the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

T F 2. Shortly before graduating from Harvard, young Holmes joined the Union Army to fight in the Civil War, serving for three years.

T F 3. He began practicing law in 1867, assumed the editorship of the "American Law Review," and then became a Harvard Law School professor.

T F 4. Offered a court appointment, Holmes soon became Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

T F 5. Holmes, serving on the high court, is remembered as a liberal who proposed to arrest and jail anyone shouting fire in a crowded theater.

ANSWERS

1. TRUE — The elder Holmes was famous as a writer, editor, and raconteur.

2. TRUE — At age 19, the lad joined a volunteer militia, fought under General Grant in the Wilderness, and was wounded three times.

3. TRUE — He showed a brilliant insight into law as eitor and professor.

4. FALSE — Holmes was an Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, never the Chief Justice of the United States.

5. TRUE — He and Brandeis devised this method for defining "clear and present danger," their boundary line for limiting free speech.

A Rule That Is Always Used: Grab While Grabbing Is Good

In many hands you must draw a distinction between active and passive defense. You can afford to be passive when it is clear that declarer must give up his sure losers even if you make no effort of your own to take them. You must be active when declarer can discard his loser. You must grab your tricks while the grabbing is good.

CLUB ACTION

West opened the jack of clubs and continued the suit, forcing South to ruff the third round. So far so good.

South was careful to ruff with the ten of spades so that he could lead the eight of spades to dummy's nine. Then he returned a heart from dummy.

East played low, and South won with the king of hearts. He promptly led the jack of spades to dummy's king in order to lead dummy's remaining heart.

East had to take the ace of hearts for fear of losing his heart trick altogether. Without giving the matter any thought, East promptly led his last club to make South ruff again.

ACE TO SLEEP

South ruffed the club and led out his three good hearts, discarding the three diamonds from the dummy. This put the ace of diamonds to sleep. South could ruff his singleton diamond and claim the rest of the tricks.

East should have foreseen this turn of events. The bidding and the fall of the ten of hearts indicated that South had a long heart suit. It should have been clear that the defenders could get only one diamond trick at most — and that speed was necessary to get even that much.

In short, East should have led a diamond upon taking the ace of hearts. West would gratefully take the ace of diamonds to defeat the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ - 4 2
♥ - A 9 6 2
♦ - J 7 3
♣ - A Q 9 2.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

It would be reasonable to open a borderline hand of this kind if you had a good rebiddable suit or length in both major suits. In this case it's safer to pass.

Innocent Plea In Traffic Death

OAKLAND — An Oakland man pleaded innocent Monday in Alameda County Superior Court to charges of murder and felony drunken driving stemming from the traffic death of a former Novato woman in October.

James Floyd Loveland, 35, is to return to court May 15 for a pretrial conference. Trial was set yesterday to begin May 16.

Killed Oct. 23 were Linda Sue Alfonso, 22, whose mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rangell, still live in Novato. Mrs. Alfonso, an Oakland resident, was a passenger in a car which was struck by a second car.

That's correct — only 9,000 miles on this little one-owner Skylark custom 2-dr. hardtop sport coupe that we sold new in 1967 to retired U.S. Army officer. We just took in trade on another new Buick Skylark.

Silver color with contrasting black bucket seats. Fully equipped including automatic, V-8, power steering and power brakes along with power windows.

Average mileage for the Marin family is about 14,000 miles per year so you can see that this close-to-new little Skylark coupe is a real buy. TJR 132

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, at the office of the County Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of said Board of Supervisors in the Civic Center, City of San Rafael, in said County, California, on Tuesday, the 28th day of March, at the hour of 3:00 o'clock P.M., for the purchase of bonds of DIXIE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MARIN COUNTY, State of California, more particularly described below:

ISSUE: $965,000.00, 1970 School Bonds, Series B, consisting of 193 bonds of the denomination of $5,000.00 each, numbered B-1 to B-193, inclusive, all dated April 1, 1972. Said bonds are part of an authorized issue in the aggregate principal amount of $1,495,000.00, of which $530,000.00, designated Series A have heretofore been issued and $530,000.00 are now outstanding.

INTEREST RATE: Maximum seven (7) per cent per annum, payable annually for the first year on April 1, 1973, and semi-annually thereafter on April 1 and October 1 in each year. Bidders must specify the rate or rates of interest which the bonds shall bear. Bidders may specify any number of separate interest rates irrespective of the maturities of the bonds and the same rate or rates may be repeated as often as desired; provided that: (i) each interest rate specified in any bid must be in a multiple of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent and a zero rate of interest cannot be specified; (ii) no bond shall bear more than one rate of interest, no interest payment shall be evidenced by more than one coupon and supplemental coupons will not be permitted; (iii) each bond shall bear interest from its date to its stated maturity date at the interest rate specified in the bid; (iv) any premium must be paid in bank funds as part of the purchase price and no bid will be accepted which contemplates the cancellation of any interest coupons or the waiver of any interest or other concession by the bidder as a substitute for payment in full of the purchase price in bank funds. Bids which do not conform to the terms of this paragraph will be rejected.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

Principal Amount	1970 Series B Bond Numbers	MATURITY DATES April 1
$15,000.00	1 — 3	1973
$20,000.00	4 — 11	1974 - 1975
$30,000.00	12 — 29	1976 - 1978
$40,000.00	30 — 45	1979 - 1980
$50,000.00	46 — 75	1981 - 1983
$60,000.00	76 — 123	1984 - 1987
$70,000.00	124 — 193	1988 - 1992

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States at the principal office of the Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Association in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or at the option of the holder at the respective offices of the paying agents of said County in the City of New York, State of New York, or in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said School District. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on April 14, 1970 and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said School District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said School District, subject to taxation by said School District (except certain personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Herrington, Rowley & Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion certified by the official in whose office the original is filed will be printed on each bond without charge to the successful bidder.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

PROMPT DELIVERY AND PAYMENT: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale. Payment of the purchase price must be made in funds immediately available to the County Treasurer in San Rafael, California.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of DIXIE SCHOOL DISTRICT of Marin County."

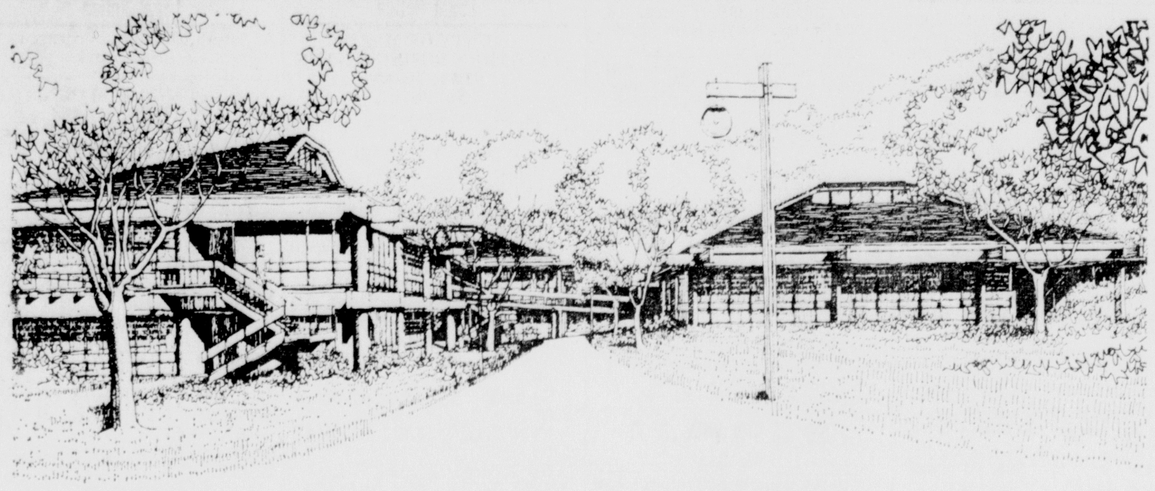

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $5,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by any bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

DATED: February 22, 1972

NOVATO CAMPUS DESIGNS ENDORSED

Architect's drawing of the "C" or science-centered college cluster typifies designs for the entire Indian Valley Colleges to be built in North Marin by the Marin Community College District. Architect Joe Thomas presented slides of the drawings last night to the citizens ad hoc committee for reviewing the designs. The committee, which met at Hill Junior High School in Novato, approved the designs, recommending minor changes and urging tagging and special care to preserve trees on the site, according to Dr. Ernest Berg, president of the college.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION — Gymnasium and other buildings surrounding an Olympics-sized pool and a diving pool will be shared by students of all the cluster colleges at the Indian Valley Colleges campus. Berg reported today that the ad hoc committee has nearly completed its task of advising Marin Community College District officials on the design of the campus. The main work remaining will be review of the environmental impact study, which Berg said should be available for study later this month.

LIBRARY — The two-story library building — to be shared by students of all the Indian Valley Colleges — will be approached by a bridge across the stream that will meander through the campus in a natural state. Novato citizens on the ad hoc advisory committee last night recommended that the architects maintain design harmony for all the buildings to be constructed. The cluster colleges' students also will share a common administration building, Berg explained.

THEATER — This theater building will be a key element of the "B" campus oriented to creative and communications arts, Indian Valley Colleges officials explained to the ad hoc citizens committee, but may be used by students of each of the separate cluster colleges. The advisory panel recommended more planting surrounding the split-level structure.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

A Skin Disease That Affects Youth During Spring, Autumn

Pityriasis rosea is a skin disease that affects younger individuals, especially in spring or autumn. Old-timers found it to be more common when there was an early thaw and less frequent when freezing persisted.

It begins with a single blemish, known as the herald or mother patch. The salmon-colored pimplelike lesion fans out, the center clears leaving a halo of red. Soon the center is covered with delicate scales that adhere to the surface. If the spot is compressed between the thumb and index finger, it crinkles like a crumbled cigaret paper.

UP TO THIS point, the victim is not concerned. However, the situation changes during the next week, when patches similar to the first one suddenly appear all over the body. The salmon-colored flaky rash is most noticeable on the trunk; the face and the skin below the elbows and knees usually are spared. Another characteristic feature is that the long axis of the oval lesions seem to follow the lines of cleavage (folds). The patches may also coalesce.

Occasionally, the plaques remain small and fail to clear in the center. Slight itching may occur. Many of the victims also complain of slight fever, fatigue, sore throat, and headache. Thelands in the neck, armpit, and groin enlarge.

THESE SYMPTOMS suggest that pityriasis rosea may be a mild viral infection which is neither contagious nor serious. Perhaps the invader entered at the site of the herald patch. The invaders then multiply sufficiently to attack the remainder of the epidermis.

Pityriasis rosea Is fever fatal and cure occurs within six weeks. Exposure to ultraviolet rays hastens the disappearance of the rash provided the parts are exposed to the point of redness. Seven days later the scales drop off and the eruption departs.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

SMALL STROKES

E. L. writes: Could an elderly man have three small strokes with no effect on his person?

REPLY

Yes. The effects of a stroke depend upon the area and th amount of brain tissue involved. Some individuals have dozens of tiny strokes, manifested by temporary attacks of dizziness, confusion, weakness of an extremity, tingling sensations, visual disturbances, or headache. Slight changes in the personality may occur. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on apoplexy.

ST. VITUS' DANCE

A reader writes: Will St. Vitus' dance in childhood cause any trouble in adult life.

REPLY

Not unless the rheumatic fever that caused St. Vitus' dance damaged the heart. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this condition.

BEER AND CIRRHOSIS

B. R. writes: What will beer drinking do to a person with cirrhosis of the liver?

REPLY

It won't help and may aggravate the condition. Alcoholic drinks are taboo for victims of cirrhosis.

WASTED MUSCLES

Mrs. C. O. writes: A man fractured his heel and was in a cast and on crutches for two months. Now his leg is thin and flabby. Will the muscles develop again as he walks and exercises more?

REPLY

Yes. All muscles atrophy when they are not used. Some physicians suggest physical therapy to hasten the return of strength. Exercises are given to strengthen each set of muscles.

Nurses Needed

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)— Malaysia is trying to persuade hundreds of the nation's nurses serving overseas to return home. Health Minister Lee Siok Yew says the country has to fill 2,000 vacancies created by rapid expansion of health services.

BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Application of PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY for authority to adopt a Fuel Cost Adjustment Provision for inclusion in its electric tariff

APPLICATION
No. 53185

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY hereby gives notice that in Application No. 53185, filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on March 2, 1972, it has requested authorization to adopt a Fuel Cost Adjustment Provision for inclusion in its electric tariff.

The proposed provision is intended to establish a fair and efficient method whereby PGandE will be able to offset promptly in its electric rates and charges increased or decreased expense resulting from changes in the price and use of fossil fuel used in the generation of electric power.

A copy of the application and related exhibits may be examined at the offices of the California Public Utilities Commission, State Building, 350 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California; at Pacific Gas and Electric Company, 77 Beale Street, San Francisco, California, 94106, Room 3103; and c/o the Division Managers in PGandE's Division Headquarters in Eureka, Red Bluff, Chico, Marysville, Sacramento, Auburn, San Rafael, San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Salinas, Fresno, and Stockton.

This notice is given in accordance with Rule 24 of the revised Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission.

DeMolay Sets Week Of Working

Members of the Marin chapter, Order of DeMolay, will attend church, present a flag to a school, work at a recycling depot and engage in other activities during International DeMolay Week beginning next Sunday.

August Venezi Jr., master councilor of the chapter, said chapter members will attend as a group at the 10 a.m. service in the Episcopal Church of the Nativity in Marinwood.

They will present an American flag to Herbert Witt, principal of Santa Venetia Middle School on Tuesday. On March 17, the youths will man an information table with displays of DeMolay activities at the Crocker Bank, Fourth and B Streets, San Rafael.

They will volunteer to work at the recycling depot at the Terra Linda High School March 18, and the next day will place a wreath at the grave of a late member, Brad Burnell, who died in an accident at San Rafael High School in 1969. The rite will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, at 11 a.m. March 19.

Jury Trial Set On Drug Charges

A jury trial has been set for the week of May 22 in Marin Superior Court for John Edward Christensen, 24, of San Diego, who is accused of possessing marijuana and amphetamines and a misdemeanor count of having a loaded gun in his car.

He was arrested Feb. 16 by San Rafael police after he stopped in an area marked "no stopping any time" in order to pick up a hitchhiker.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 8 p.m. — Carol Burnett welcomes Tony Randall and Jack Klugman to her show.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m. — Marcus Welby hosts Rich Little, Frank Gorshin, George Kirby, Marilyn Michaels, Joe Baker and Fred Travalena when the "Comedy Hour" presents "The Kopykats."

Aid Group President Reelected

J. Lawrence Norton of San Rafael, director of development at Dominican College, has been reelected president of Marin Aid to Retarded Children in mail-balloting by members during the past two months.

Dr. Joseph Spinelli of Fairfax was elected first vice president; Edward McFetridge, Tiburon, second vice president; Thomas Lloyd, San Ra- fael, third vice president; Marilyn Greenhalgh, Novato, corresponding secretary; Jane Murphy, San Rafael, recording secretary; and Fred Herrera, treasurer.

Norton said the goals for the year are to hire an executive director, obtain jobs for retarded persons over age 21, establish more special education classes for children, form Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops for the retarded, form a "mobile work crew" and operate a thrift shop.

The major fund-raising event of the year will be a wine-tasting party in November, he said.

Action Taken On Gold Price Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Responding to an administration request for quick actio, the House Banking Committee Tuesday approved 26 to 1 a Senate-passed bill that would increase the official price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce.

The action would lower the value of the dollar in world trade, but the purchasing power of the dollar for domestic purposes would remain unaffected.

Fashion For The Pregnant Woman

Not long ago a young expectant mother searched in vain for fashionable clothes.

Mary MacKenzie was not pleased with the maternity fashions available to the expectant mothers.

She felt that the expectant mother wanted to be well dressed and fashionable, so she designed her own maternity styles.

Her success led to the formation of the Motherhood Maternity Shops, now 160 stores, from coast to coast.

The Mary MacKenzie casual and sportswear fashions provide the feeling of freedom and comfort so important during the maternity period. Now, long dresses for casual, at home wear as well as daytime and evening wear have joined the fashion selection for new mothers. These popular styles are now designed to be worn both during and after pregnancy.

A new concept thus became a reality because one mother-to-be, Mary MacKenzie, made it possible.

Everyone Is Getting Into The Panda Act

By GUY HALVERSON
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

CHICAGO — High-powered politicians have almost tripped over each other to get into the act.

The scramble, in fact, is well and truly on — not just here but in other United States cities. Everywhere the cry is the same:

"We want the pandas!"

"Amazing," says one longtime Chicago resident. "Doubt if there's been as much fuss here since Mrs. O'Leary's cow. You'd almost think they're bringing back Chou or Mao."

"They," of course, are President Nixon and his wife and his party, back from Peking with gifts. The giant pandas, still in China, were presented to Nixon by Premier Chou En-lai. In return Nixon gave Chou Milton the musk ox and sister Matilda.

Zoos throughout the country are vying for the honor of having the pandas. But the Brookfield Zoo in Chicago believes it has the edge over all others in the U.S.

After all, its officials insist, Brookfield was the first zoo in the world ever to have a panda outside of China: a 4-month-old bundle of fluff named Su-Lin who arrived kicking and bouncing back in February 1937. Su-Lin was joined a year later by Mei-Mei. In 1939 Mei Lan (Little Flower) was sent here — the last panda in America, whose 14-year stay at Brookfield set the longevity record for captive pandas.

Today the only captive pandas outside China are Chi-Chi at the London Zoo and the Moscow Zoo's An' An'.

Now, Illinois leaders want those new pandas in Chicago! Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, whose late-night television viewing obviously includes a peek at all the doings inside China, quickly dispatched a wire to President Nixon asking for the pandas.

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, a Democrat, made it bipartisan.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley had yet to be heard from as of this writing — but given the large ethnic makeup of the Daley machine, it could be safely assumed that he would also "panda" to citizen fascination with the furry animals.

Finally, Mr. President, it can be reported that Chicagoans look upon the Brookfield Zoo's large grotto as an ideal spot for raising little pandas. Natives of the Min Gorge in Szechwan, China, say pandas love to roam the rhododendron forests munching on crisp leaves and bamboo shoots.

Zoo officials here happily note that green corn stalks, soy bean plants, carrots, and other such Midwestern delicacies are in fresh supply for any nice young panda couple that might be considering an imminent relocation.

Money Lost Despite Fighting Off Thugs

MANILA (UPI) —A 31-year-old college professor successfully fought off two young men who allegedly tried to rob him along a busy downtown avenue. But he lost his money to passersby anyway.

Jose Molina said during his struggle with the would-be robbers a box in which he was carrying 3,000 pesos to deposit in a bank broke open. He said pandemonium broke out among pedestrians who "tried to beat each other in picking up the scattered bills."

No Shortage Of Candidates — 600

CARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The ballot here for the May 9 primary could be the largest in the nation this year. It contains the names of 600 persons seeking various offices.

Kanawha County Clerk Jack Pauley says a Chicago voting machine firm told him the local ballot will be the nation's largest. He attributed the large number of candidates partly to an increase in persons running for delegate to the national party conventions.

Boutique Under New Ownership

A leading fashion firm, James Sears, has purchased the entire stock of the Carousel Fashion Boutique.

After a brief clearance sale, many new lines will be featured at this location, 234 Town & Country Village.

In addition to the couturier styles which are so well known to Carousel patrons, a significant addition in sportswear will be added. Dress sizes will be extended to size 16.

James Sears of Marin is owned by a young and dynamic fashion man, Hal Wolfson. Wolfson, originally of Philadelphia, who graduated from Penn State University. He served in the army for three years attaining the rank of captain. He resides in Sausalito.

"I have always dreamed of owning a fine fashion store in Town & Country Village," Wolfson said.

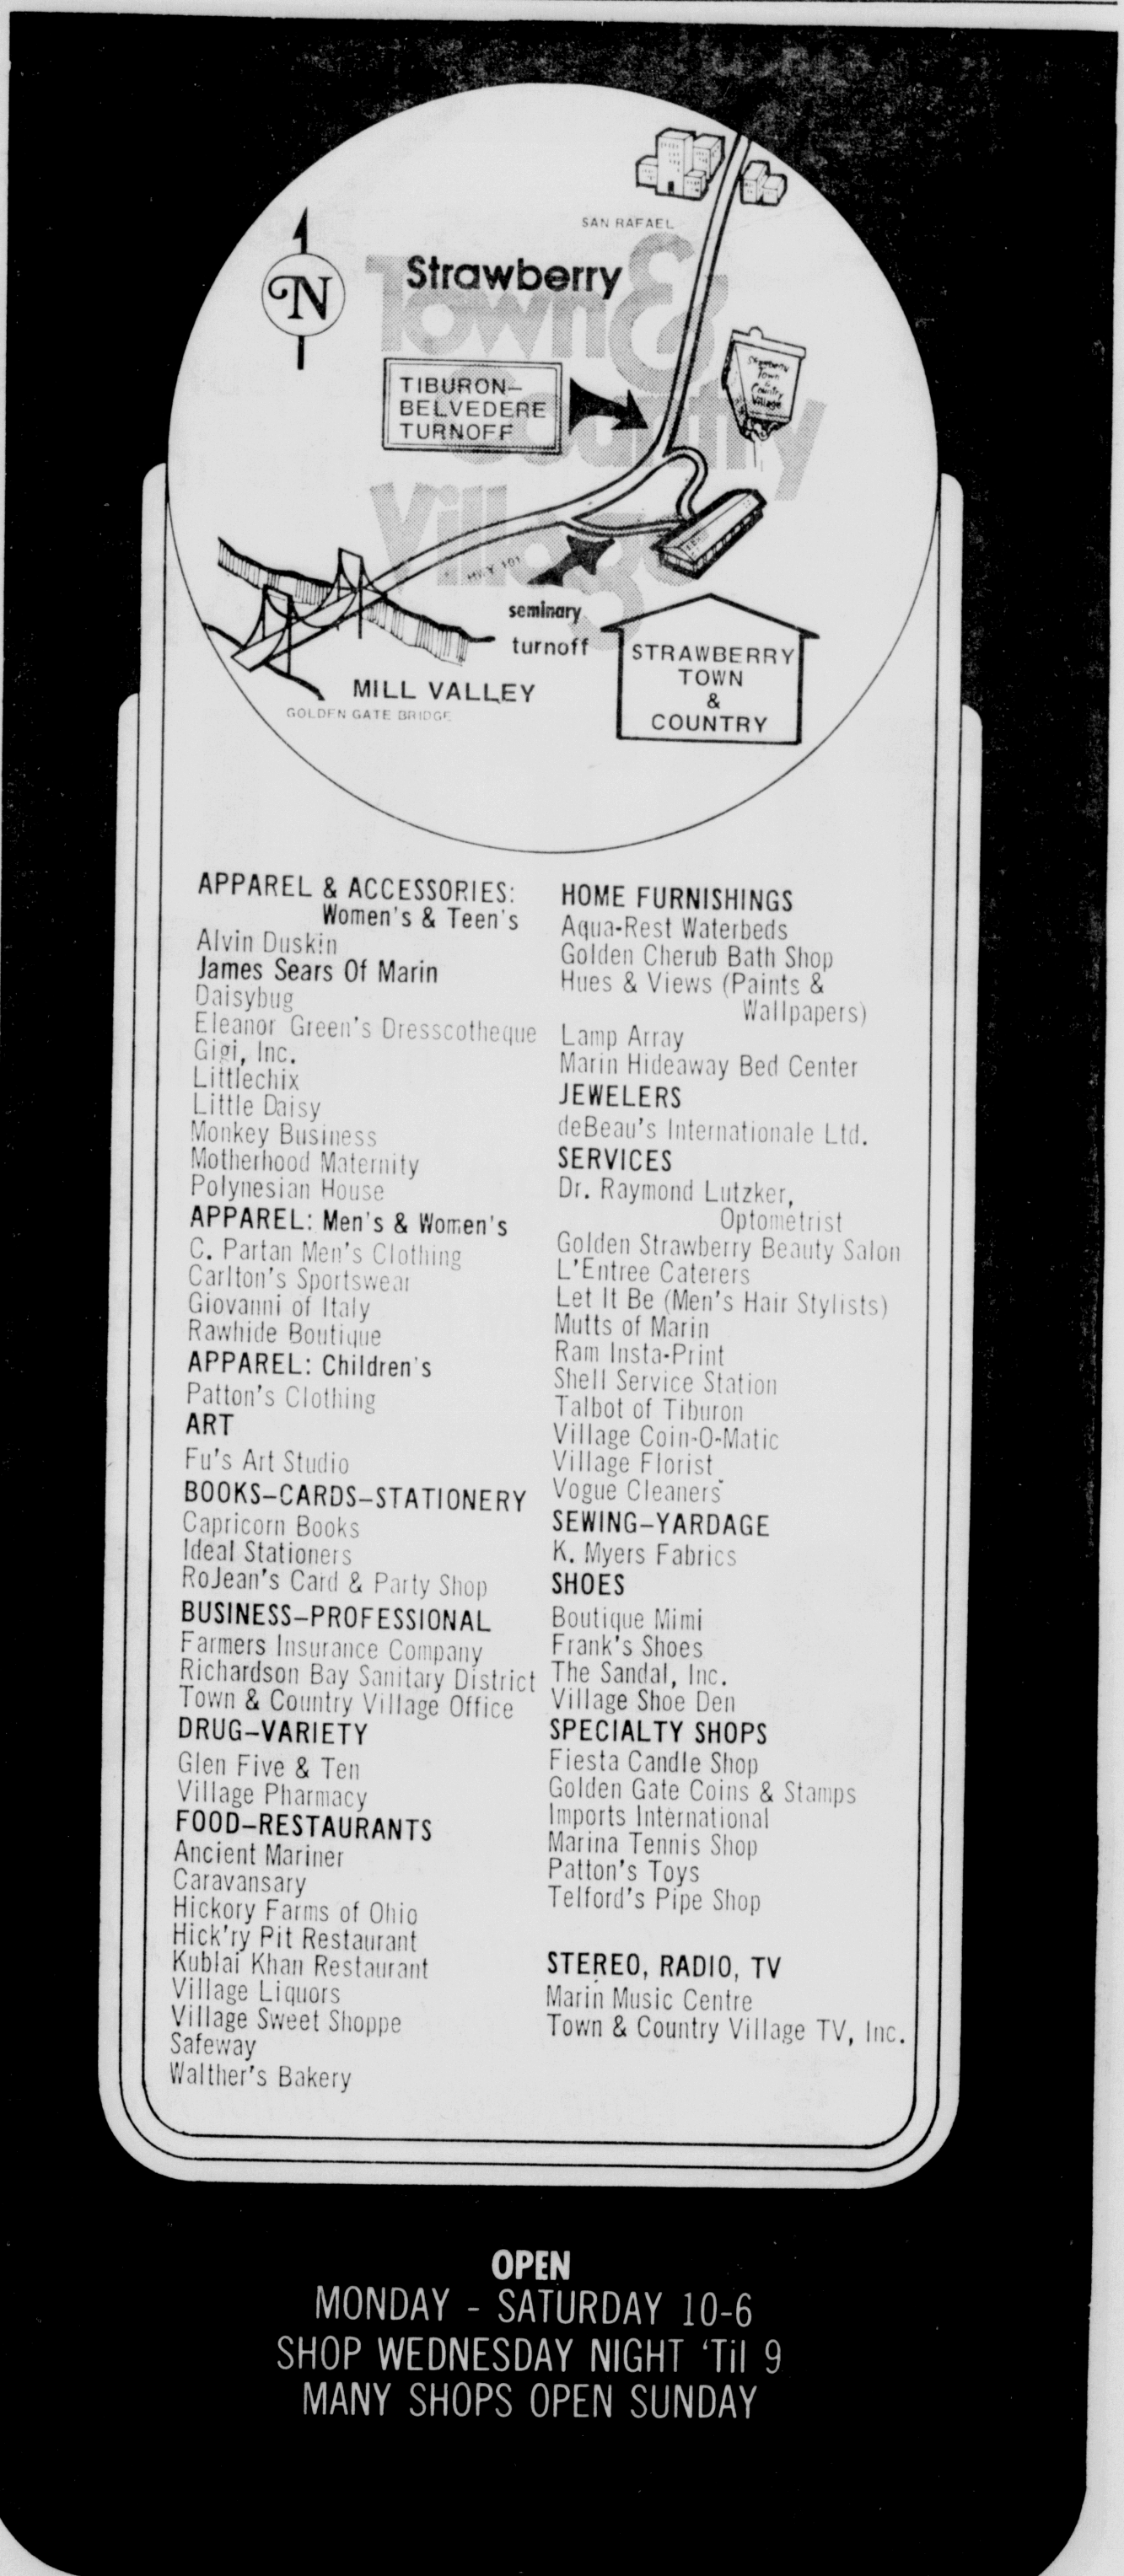

New Manager Picked For Sears Boutique

Hal Wolfson, owner of the James Sears Fashion Boutique in Town & Country Village, has announced that Lois Aspace Langston, a native of Scotland, has been appointed to the .anager position.

With her father in the diplomatic service, she traveled extensively beginning her schooling with her governess. She later attended a Jamaica, West Indies school, and Aschan Girls School in Sydney, Australia. She went to finishing school in Surrey, England, and then to University of Perugia in Italy to study languages. She speaks Spanish, French, and Italian.

While living in Bogota, Colombia, Miss Langston began a small collection of Pre-Columbian art and maintains the interest. She enjoys skiing, tennis, art, music, history, cooking and travel.

As president of the Marin Association for Mental Health Auxilliary, Miss Langston proposes to raise funds to support its programs, such as its halfway house for convalescing mental patients and the training of teachers to recognize retardation.

Fashion Show Held In Peacock Gap Club

"Continuous Spring" was the theme of a special fashion show held Feb. 23 at Peacock Gap Country Club. Sponsor in the show was the Family Service League of Marin.

Fashion show coordinator Marge Hawkins said latest fashions for spring and summer were featured. Women of the Family Service League modeled apparel selected from Andi Valo's Carousel Fashion Boutique in Strawberry's Town & Country Village, Mill Valley. Mrs. Hawkins said that a special showing of furs was included.

The models were Beverly Raaica of San Anselmo, Ellen Gannon of Mill Valley, Joyce Kowleski and Jackie Buzzard of San Rafael, Maxine Soussa of Tiburon, and Judie Riebling of San Anselmo, and Marci Rains from San Rafael.

The Family Service League is an auxiliary of the Family Service Agency headed by Chester Villalba. Mrs. Gregg Gowdy of Mill Valley is league president. Their responsibilities include family counseling and assistance for Marin citizens in need. Most cases are referred to the agency by professionals.

The Family Service League operates a thrift shop in Mill Valley.

Ellington Thrills His Marin Fans

A thrill was afforded Ellington and big band fans at Marin Civic Center last Sunday when Duke Ellington appeared and delivered his sound.

Celebrating the occasion, Jan Zoslaw, owner of the Marin Music Centre, chose Ellington's 70th Birthday Concert Album for special sale. The album, recorded by Solid State, includes all time selections like "Satin Doll," "Take the A-Train," "Mood Indigo" and "Sophisticated Lady."

The two-record album is offered at single-record price.

Christie Lead Role By Ignacio Woman

Jackie Proett of Ignacio plays the lead in the Novato Community Players production of "Witness for the Prosecution" by Agatha Christie.

Jackie is employed by Telford's Pipe Shop in Town & Country Village. Her husband, Bob Proett, is employed by the Federal Aviation Agency at Hamilton Air Force Base. She has two girls, Chris and Robin. ppearing in the play are Bill Murray of Terra Linda, Don Bosque of Novato, Dale Klein of Terra Linda and Mavis Marney of Terra Linda. The drama, with much suspense and sudden turns, is presented at the Novato Community Theater.

JACKIE PROETT
Plays Romaine

Mrs. Proett plays the role of Romaine, the wife of an accused murderer in the play. In addition to her drama interests, Jackie is a member of the Generation Gap, a professional singing group in Marin.

Manager Tells Why His Stores Succeed

It's interesting to see what goes on behind the scenes, and the Little Daisy is no exception. From one small store 17 years ago, there now are five in the Bay Area.

Wallace Bradshaw, president, attributes the Little Daisy success story to the skill of his buyers in adapting to the wide range of merchandise demands of both varied communities and the ever-changing life styles. He believes his people are an exciting and highly motivated group who desire to keep up their success.

Bradshaw, a native of Kansas, moved to California when he left the Army at the end of World War II and attended Stanford University. ue and his wife Joyce and their three children live in Lafayette, Contra Costa County.

The executive staff of the Little Daisy include Daisy Shakleford, vice-president, Russel Bonne, comptroller and secretary, and Nan Steffins, secretary.

The customer loyalty at the Little Daisy is apparently strong. In appreciation to this loyalty, the Little Daisy delights customers yearly with their annual giveaway of living Daisy plants on the first day of spring.

Fabric Expert Says Future Is Now

Mrs. Erika Meier, owner of K. Myers Fabrics in Strawberry, believes, "the future fashion is now! spring is here!"

A colorful, fantastic, inspiring fashion picture is emerging - rich in possibilities for the creative woman who is eager to try her hand in a new role, she said.

This spring, it's "sporty" in plain or printed denim. Also red, white and blue will be the ever popular spring combination, with quiet elegance the trend in the new look, polyester knits or weaves. Vital prints in acrylics and cottons are "in" as well as the calmly, understated soft pastel combinations of acetates, she said.

After the drab, dusty tones of winter, the poster paint brights will be the most welcome spring favorites. Seersucker is back in '72 - but, excitingly different from the traditional plain, narrow striped patterns of the past. Now seersucker stripes are bold, vivid, or flowery-dainty appearing. The seersucker fabrics are definitely no-iron.

"As never before there is a magnificent choice this spring for the lady who sews, in fabrics and patterns," she said. "At last she can do "her own thing" and still enjoy the confidence in keeping with "what's in."

"The whole fashion is new, less contrived, equally adaptable for the young or the mature woman, for the casual or the classic taste." Mrs. Meier said.

"Be alive. Dust off the sewing machine, go to work and enjoy the new fashion freedom of our times."

Agent Is Featuring Alpha Plan

"Out of 100 persons born today, 45 will die before reaching age 65, 28 will be dependent, five will be on pensions, 12 will continue working, and 10 will be financially independent"

"This is the stark reality we face today," says John Klefstad, insurance man at Strawberry's Town and Country Village.

An important new addition to its insurance portfolio, the Alpha Plan, has been announced by Farmer's Insurance Group of which Klefstad is affiliated.

"The Alpha Plan is specifically designed for the young family man at the beginning of his career," he said.

According to Klefstad a family man making $10,000 a year would earn $400,000 for his family over 40 years.

The Alpha Plan, he explained, enables maximum protection on being insured with declining coverage in $5,000 increments to age 65.

If you're 25 or so, Farmers can cover you with $25,000 of life insurance for under $15 a month.
Even less if you don't smoke.

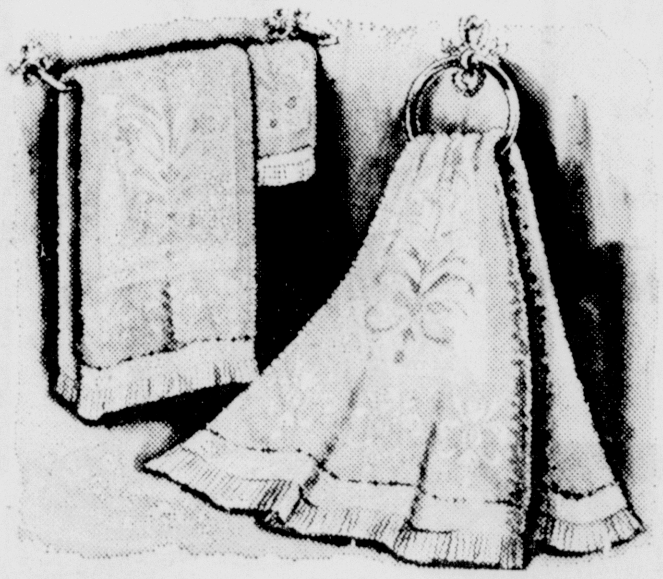

A Farmers agent is a good guy to talk to about the remarkable Alpha Policy. You'll like its many options and the many ways it lets you control your own future.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS — This is an aerial view of the new German liner TS Hamburg in which special events are being held today and tomorrow and next month with Town & Country Village shops participating. Clothes from Village specialty shops will be photographed aboard the liner.

Events Aboard New Liner

An exciting program has been undertaken by Town & Country Village aboard the German Atlantic Lines TS Hamburg. The programs are being staged today and tomorrow and April 8 and 9, the ship's sailing dates.

Fashion layouts will be photographed by San Francisco cameraman, Terry Ward, an artist in the celluloid art forms.

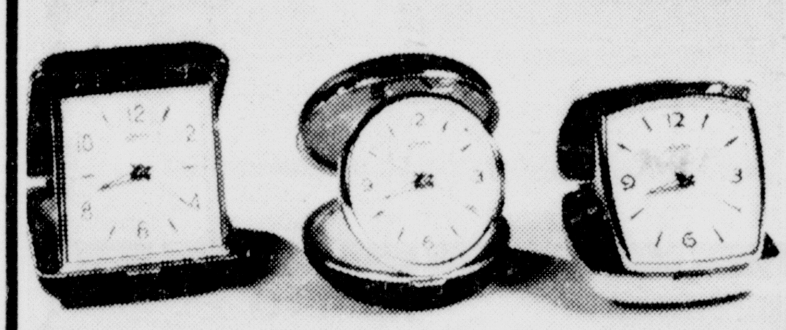

The nautical fashions of the many fashion boutiques of Town & Country Villages in Mill Valley, San Jose, Sunnyvale, and Palo Alto, will be modeled for Ward's lenses from the binnacle to the galley, and from the engine rooms to the Charlie Noble.

The ship has two ballrooms.

Bert Talbot of Tiburon Travel Agency is handling travel arrangements for the Hamburg in Marin County. He reports that the Hamburg will also leave San Francisco on June 9, arriving in Leningrad by July 18 via Acapulco, Panama, Iceland Norway and Poland. The ship returns to New York on Aug. 3. Cost of trip ranges from $2695 to $7,800 per person.

TV Show Shot At Candy Shop

The Village Sweet Shoppe in Town & Country Village was a busy place with Big Brothers shooting their television production for KGO, channel 7.

According to producer Dale Sams of Big Brothers of Marin, the shgw will be presented on channel 7 at 8 a.m. March 19. Other scenes in this production include Big Brother-Little Brother events at Muir Woods, on the Tiburon Ferry, at Aquatic Park and Fisherman's Wharf. Tony Linthicum of San Rafael, who attends Don Timoteo School, is a Little Brother.

Sams is assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Novato.

This television production is done under the auspices of the Northern California Council of Churches. The showing will feature various aspects of the Big Brother programs, according to Marin chapter president Colby Howe of Tiburon. The production will be made by the Big Brothers and their Little Brothers themselves, he said.

The Marin Big Brothers and their Little Brothers are planning yachting trips, airplane trips, and bike hikes in the immediate future. Full details on these activities may be obtained by calling Sams.

Divining Rod Is No Mystery

CHICAGO (UPI) —When a man finds something with a divining rod it may be because his muscles got tired at just the right time.

The divining rod, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, has been used for centuries to search for hidden things. In modern times Y-shaped, metal rods and wire are often used.

Extensive scientific investigation on the divining rod to twist vigorously, as the squeezing force is relaxed. Sometimes this happens at places where water and other substances are later brought to the surface.

An Early Arrival For Easter Bunny

The Easter Bunny will arrive early this year. In fact, he'll be touching down at Town & Country Village in Strawberry on Thursday, March 30.

He has planned all sorts of special events to treat the children and their families during the holidays. Everyday through Easter Sunday, something special is planned.

There will be an animal corral where children can see their familiar farm friends. This event is held in conjunction with the Marin County Humane Society.

Color pictures with the Easter Bunny will be featured.

Littlechix, one of the Village's fashion boutiques, will feature a special treasure chest with all sorts of free gifts inside.

There will also be aster stories for children read by G. B. Call of Capricorn Books. An ice cream party has been scheduled at the Village Sweet Shoppe and a special kind of Easter Egg Hunt will be held for all the children while the mothers shop for their Easter finery, plan their Easter dinners and Easter outings.

Sound Lovers Can Find Excellence In 4-Channel

Sound lovers are continually searching for perfection in sound. In the past few years technology has moved away from "the point source" effect in sound in which all performers appear to originate from a single point. It was easy to distinguish the original line performance from the recorded one.

Separating speakers was the first move to spread out the sound but in this instance the listener was still unable to distinguish the full rich sound field of the original. Two-track stereo moves us closer.

Four-channel stereo provides the rich resonance of the live performance which approaches the listener from every direction. When the audience applauds during a performance you can hear the applause all around you. Quadrophonic sound now effectively places instruments all around the listener, putting him right in the middle of the performance.

There are several ways to attain four-channel sound. Peter Straube of Town & Country Village TV Inc. in Mill Valley carries an selection of imposing names in the sound field.

"We believe that the matrixing approach is the best direcction and will be the ultimate solution utilized by system manufacturers," Straube said.

Matrixing consists of consolidating four channels into manageable format, a successful blend of sound rather than four separate ones.

Straube recommended Sansvi four-channel systems as the best to date. "Sansui not only offers excellent performance now, but in addition designed their equipment with sufficient input and output facilities to accommodate adaptive equipment of the future," he said.

A selection of accessories, like converters, tape decks and speakers, is available to complement the receivers.

KLH introduces Convenient Components.

THE KLH MODEL THIRTY-FOUR

A Quality Stereo System - Compare It!

The Model Thirty-Four profits not only from the engineering and manufacturing techniques KLH pioneered with its predecessors but also from such technological advances as a high-impact polystyrene chassis housing, an electronic mother-board for modules permitting quick assembly, plug-in circuit boards and greater integrity of construction. Of higher quality electronically and acoustically, it will outperform the Model Twenty-Four.
The Model Thirty-Four combines the simplicity of installation, convenience and size of a three-piece music system with the versatility and high performance level of individual, more expensive and complex high fidelity components. In addition, all the components of the Model Thirty-Four have been matched to insure maximum performance from each. The control center, rich in black and metallic contrast, combines aesthetic appeal with professional efficiency. It consists of a special Garrard automatic turntable (made exclusively for KLH), an all-silicon-solid-state receiver (FM-FM stereo tuner; tone volume, balance and switching circuitry; preamplifier; power amplifier and output stages), and two of the best-selling speakers in the world, the KLH Model Thirty-Two's.
